On the National Picket Line

The Nutritionist Chicago, 607, a member of the National Anti-Slavery Society, has been arrested for violating the Taggs law and is now in the Chicago jail.

Since the outbreak of the war, the American Anti-Slavery Society has been active in the successful prosecution of Negroes for violating the Taggs law. The society has been in operation for several years and has never been in a position to make arrests for violation of the law.

In his place the committee, a committee of the American Anti-Slavery Society, has been appointed to take the case of the Negroes arrested for violation of the Taggs law and to bring the case before the public.

The committee was appointed on the request of the American Anti-Slavery Society, and the committee was to take the case of the Negroes arrested for violation of the Taggs law and to bring the case before the public.

North Central Woodworkers Council to Meet in Odaksh

The North Central District Council of Furniture and Woodwork Workers, which recently received the charter from the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, will meet this weekend in Odaksh, Wis., with 125 officers for the central union.

The installation of the new charter will take place on the second floor of the local Labor Temple.

Charles W. Ashley, general secretary-treasurer of the council, and Chief of Police, will preside over the installation.

Wages are on the agenda.

All those who have been freed must get back to work. The gold rush is over. It is the start of the New Year, and the new year will mean new opportunities.

Farmers Vote NO to War!

Citing the National Farmers’ Union resolution on war, the recent anti-war action of the National Farmers’ Union (NFU) is of international significance, for it symbolizes that the producers of America, the heart of the country, are united in their opposition to militarism.

The National Farmers Union, the most important and progressive of the farm organizations in the country, has not only voted against the war and the war preparations of the government, but has moved to actively seek friendly cooperation with organized labor.

Though the anti-war resolution is somewhat contradictory in its context in certain sections, there is no question that the resolution reflects a deep hatred of war on the part of the farmers, and their determination to oppose war preparations and the dictatorial policies of the United States war machine.

Possible Results of Resolutions:

WHEREAS, The Farmers’ Educational and Cooperative Union is devoted to immediate social and political democracy and is improving the living conditions of the people through the development of the cooperative movement.

AND WHEREAS, Both democracy and cooperatives offer a solution to many problems, and the movement cannot be maintained by fighting for it since modern war has destroyed millions of families.

WHEREAS, We realize that war is futile and does not settle any problems, therefore we resolve:

RESOLVED, That we emphatically state our position for peace and set forth the following as instruments for preserving our peace and democracy.

1. We favor a war referendum, such as the Ludlow Amendment calls for, before we engage in any foreign war.

2. We urge a strict neutrality policy for our government during war-time in other parts of the world, making sure that our government does not get involved in war-time.

3. We urge a strict neutrality policy for our government during war-time in other parts of the world, making sure that our government does not get involved in war-time.

4. We oppose the so-called “Collective Security” program of the League of Nations, but favoring one outfit of imperialist nations as against another.

5. We oppose any so-called “peace delegations” of minor industries and racial groups rather than fighting for the movement of the people on the factory floor.

6. We oppose the move to "sell-out" great "guts" of minority religions and racial groups rather than fighting for the movement of the people on the factory floor.

7. We oppose the move to "sell-out" great "guts" of minority religions and racial groups rather than fighting for the movement of the people on the factory floor.
