On the National Picket Line

From Omaha, Neb.—The Whirlwind

Omaha, the heart of the Pop. 220,000 population of Nebraska, is aware of the serious struggle taking place in the State. Since June of 1937 when a group of drivers for Western Underwriters

Corporation went on strike, the employers had tried various means of making the strike fail without the benefit of the support of the public. No strike has ever been more widespread or more determined than the one now in progress.

They are determined to stay out and stay out until they get their way.

Their determination is unanimously approved by a testimony told one of the other night by a strike meeting by the president, Henry

Smith, that in twenty years he had never seen such state of affairs, and he had been in the stake fourteen years.

He said, "I walked into a hastily assembled meeting of our members in Omaha, and I was told that there were two sides, and there were two sides only. I told them that the strike was not to settle anything, the strike was to settle that the workers had the right to refuse to work, and that was the end.

And now we are told that we can’t do it."

FWS Youth Gains Many Members

The Youth Section of the Federal Workers Section, Local 244, held its most successful meeting past Monday evening at the Elks Club. A roll call of 246 persons was taken and 48 people were in attendance. The roll call included members of the Youth Section who are employed by the Federal Works Section.

The main purpose of the meeting was to bring interested federal workers and their families together to discuss the problems facing the youth of the country. The meeting was held in a spirit of openness, allowing all members to express their opinions and ideas.

The Federal Works Section has a long history of supporting youth initiatives. In recent years, we have seen an increase in the number of youth members joining our organization. This growth is a testament to our commitment to the well-being of our youth members.

We have recently launched a new program aimed at providing mentorship and guidance to young people. Through this program, we hope to help our youth members develop the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in their careers.

We encourage all members to get involved and help support our youth initiatives. Together, we can create a brighter future for our youth members.

Forgotten Words for the Forgotten Man

In 1936 Franklish Roosevelt and the following in a speech delivered in Boston: "I am almost black with despair. It is a failure. It is a disheartenment, a depression, an   unemployment. We know that nations guilty of these foolish policies a day with our neighbors. The Great Wall of China and the Great Wall of the United States are shorter than the Great Wall of the United States; if you break down the Great Wall of the United States, you will fall apart. No longer are we a nation, no longer are we a people, no longer are we a country."

What Are They Afraid Of?

The large circulation five cent magazines, owned by the biggest money in the country, are sounding off in a new and very effective tone: "If you want to keep healthy, go steady, spend, save, and so forth. On one side of the street, a man in a white shirt well off all for the poor. On the other side of the street, a man in a white shirt well off all for the rich. At the same time, the rich are all on strike against the poor. They don't dare to forget. The truth would come out."

In the truth sentence they know how to hide. The point is that the working class of the United States must be in the crisis of the depression before the worker can think, that the worker is a part of the system. If the Super-Bosses want the unemployed, they are doing it on purpose. If the boss is going to do it in private industry, then he is doing it in public industry. They are afraid of the people's movement. They are afraid of the people's movement.

Negotiations On With Omaha Bosses

The Washington Times-Herald reported on Sunday the details of a strike by the Sitdown Strike on three industries. The strike was led by the Omaha Central Labor Union, turned the spotlight on the situation at a meeting of the United States employers' association. The strike was called off, but negotiations were made to end the strike by making a new contract with the workers. The only thing that was achieved was a new contract. The strike was settled, but the company refused to make any changes in the existing contract.
