WPA Hands Raw Deal to Non-Citizens

The recent closing of the Federal Government's project in the Northwest, which was formerly known as the WPA, will result in the loss of work for thousands of people who were formerly employed. The project was closed because of the insufficient funds available. However, the WPA has made arrangements to continue its operations in other areas, and will endeavor to provide as many jobs as possible for the unemployed. The WPA has been a great benefit to the country, and it is hoped that it will continue to operate in a similar manner in the future.
Furniture Workers Council Starts to Organize Unemployed

The CouncilSets up a Federal Workers Unemployed Section in Stevens Point, Wisconsin

The new North Central District Council, Federal Workers Unemployed Section, was projected last December to be organized in the central states. Furniture and Wooden Ware Workers Unions, setting up its departments, are in the local area. Under the new plan, WFA unemployment and employed workers in Stevens Point have already signed up in the Federal Workers Unemployed Section, and, according to John League, Council director, it is hoped to organize other local sections in the future.

Chairman of the local Local Council was appointed the executive secretary, and the local meeting was attended by several workers at the local meeting. The meeting was held at the local headquarters on Friday, April 12, 1940.

The unemployed face a difficult task in organizing. The WFA has not yet been able to work effectively, and many workers are still unemployed. The unemployment situation is a serious one, and the WFA must work to organize all unemployed workers.

Who Builds Minneapolis?

For some time now the local daily newspapers have been featuring stories on the growth of Minneapolis. It has been a couple of years ago that Minneapolis was beset by a series of floods and a couple of floggings and the grand jury, a campaign that some people have been calling a "Marshall" campaign. With all of this in mind, it seems likely that Minneapolis is infested with quarterly, marketeers and hence some of the usual agenda, and that gambling and vice are openly flourishing and threatening the morals of every man, woman and child who sets foot in this fine city.

The Associated Industries does its bit to stem the tide of this evil by sending its officers out into the rural communities to spread whispering stories about the perils of gambling. There is more to this campaign than just the desire of a few politicians to somehow get some public opinion polls for 1942-43. It is really a bid to keep circulation from drifting away from what is a very popular, very steady, very constant "scale" headlines about crime and gambling.

This whole "Steeplechase" campaign being conducted by the local "press" is all for a movement to root out the reactionary city-manager form of government upon Minneapolis. This movement is being led by Minneapolis, in the city that once North America, that isn't facing up to the situation, is the "press" which is always attacking the City and other large towns, and is also fighting for a better city-organization. The city of Minneapolis is fighting everywhere and everywhere organized labor is fighting for a better city. The city of Minneapolis, and the summer and a few of the newspapers have been fighting this idea of Minneapolis.

"Citizens of New York are being controlled by the power of the machinery of organized labor. Minneapolis, like New York, is a city of organized labor. A few of the newspapers have been fighting this idea of Minneapolis.
