All Unions Called to Convention Next Monday

A Letter from John Farmer
Typical of the thousands of letters and telegrams that have been poured into state legislatures telling them in no uncertain terms how the farmers feel about the Vance-McWay bill is the following letter from a farmer in Blue Valley, Lowry, Minnesota.

It's a do-it-yourself letter that any farmer can use to protest against the Vance-McWay bill and its effect on the state's farmers. It's a letter that every farmer should write to their state legislator, urging them to vote against the Vance-McWay bill.

VICTOR GRUBB
Lowry, Black Hawk County, Governor

WPA Concentrates Fire on Drivers In This County
In order to carry out its policy of business appeasement at the expense of the independent truck owner, the Works Progress Administration is concentrating fire on the drivers' rates in Hennepin County.

The WPA is reported to have targeted the two largest trucking companies in the county, with a series of raids on their operations. The goal is to force the companies to reduce their rates and comply with the WPA's dictates.

289 Rejects Counter-Bid From Bosses
The wholesale bread and cake drivers of Local 289 and their allies in the Teamsters Union have rejected a counter-bid from the bosses. The drivers are demanding better wages and working conditions.

B. F. Nelson
To Sign With 20316
Negotiations have been completed between the Wholesale Grocers Union Local 20316 and the B. F. Nelson company for a new contract, to be signed before press time.

Attention! Swing-Cats!
Local 199 has reported two workers striking for higher wages and better working conditions. The union is calling on all members to support the striking workers.

Diaries Get Demands on Local 471
All Vance-McWay company drivers are being asked to sign a petition for better wages and working conditions. The union is demanding a raise of at least 25%.

Capitol Gets Heated Protests From Farmers on Vance-McWay Atracity
The Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union (FECU) and the Cooperative Institute of America (CIA) have organized a protest against the Vance-McWay bill in the Minnesota State Capitol.

The protest is being led by farmer Ray Johnson, who has been a vocal opponent of the Vance-McWay bill since it was introduced. The farmers are demanding that the bill be defeated and that a fairer solution be found to the farmers' economic problems.

Secretary Reports Ill
Secretary of the Farmers Union, James V. Johnson, reported that the union's membership has declined by 10% in the past year. He attributed this to the farmer's resistance to the Vance-McWay bill and the union's proposed solution.

Grocery Section, Attention!
A listing of the Wholesale Grocers Union Local 444 is available for members to use in their daily work. The listing includes all members' addresses and telephone numbers.

The Vance-McWay bill is unfair to the farmers and it's time to stand up and fight against it. The farmers need your support to defeat this bill and protect their livelihood.

The Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union (FECU) and the Cooperative Institute of America (CIA) have organized a protest against the Vance-McWay bill in the Minnesota State Capitol. The protest is being led by farmer Ray Johnson, who has been a vocal opponent of the Vance-McWay bill since it was introduced. The farmers are demanding that the bill be defeated and that a fairer solution be found to the farmers' economic problems.
Pulp Workers Union Reports Rapid Growth

Gains 25,000 Members Since 1937—Elmer Meier Named Delegate to AFL Convention—Clayton Man in Secretariat Position—National Convention Blasts Vance-Meyers Bill

The 130 delegates from all over the United States, Canada and Mexico who take part in the first annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Pulp and Paper Workers, which began today, are the first group of workers in the industry to hold a major national meeting. The convention in St. Paul, Missouri, will run until early next week. It has included in St. Paul, have returned to their homes to push their own local programming programs.

One of the important actions of the convention was the vote to make a complete stoppage the only method of bringing about the long-promised expansion of the industry and to bring about the complete abolition of the industry.

Shareholder Story to Be Told Here

Trade unionists and others who are interested in the tragic plight of the workers in the pulp and paper industry are invited to hear Elmer Meier, president of the Southern Tenant Farmer's Union, speak on Sunday, April 2, at 6 p.m. in the Dinky Hotel Student Center. The meeting, under the auspices of the Southern Tenant Farmer's Union, is held during National Shareholders Week. The talk, the center of the project of the "dismantled of the south.

LOCAL 1859 Knots to You

By Richard Glennon

Local 1859, the Pulp and Paper Workers Local, has been having a rather strange and unusual meeting. The meeting was called by the union's executive council, and the membership was informed that the union is in a state of flux. The reason for this was that the union had been trying to organize the workers in the local for a long time, but they had been unsuccessful.

According to the council, the union is now aiming to organize the workers in the local and to bring them together in a single organization. The council has also announced that it will be holding a meeting in the near future to discuss the matter further.

Good Luck Deputies

Brother Ed Nargen was given good luck wishes by his friends at the plant today. The workers have been working extra hard to help him get well. He will be back at work soon.

Directory of J. R. Clark Plant

The directory for the J. R. Clark Plant was recently published. It contains the names of all the workers at the plant, as well as their departments. The directory is a valuable resource for anyone who is trying to find a particular worker or department at the plant.

Stannarst City Council announces that the plant is now fully operational. The council is pleased with the progress that has been made and is looking forward to the continued growth of the plant.

 prosperity of the workers.

Stevens Point, Wis.—Following refusal of the Journeymen Furance Company to deal with the Furniture Workers, the union has decided to set up a new company union. Local 408 of Journeymen Furance Company is the new local. The union will meet on March 17th and throw a picket line around the factory.

A large majority of Journeymen are enrolled in the new local. The union members are well satisfied with the working agreement they have negotiated with the company. The local is already making a success of its picketing activities.

Furniture Workers Strike against Stevens Point Firm

Stevens Point, Wis.—Following refusal of the Journeymen Furance Company to deal with the Furniture Workers, the union has decided to set up a new company union. Local 408 of Journeymen Furance Company is the new local. The union will meet on March 17th and throw a picket line around the factory.

A large majority of Journeymen are enrolled in the new local. The union members are well satisfied with the working agreement they have negotiated with the company. The local is already making a success of its picketing activities.

With the Limousines

By Home Jacobs

We had a very enjoyable time at the last meeting and we hope to have many more this spring. The next meeting will be held on May 1st.

We are glad to report that J. R. Clark Plant, the new local, is holding its first meeting. The meeting was a great success and the union members are already making plans for the future.

There are two things that we are going to do. One is to have another dance sometime in the spring. The other is to have a picnic on a Sunday afternoon. We hope to have a lot of fun at both meetings.

It is very important that all members of the union attend the next meeting. We need your support to make this meeting a success.

M. A. Smith, chairman of the executive committee, is urging all members to attend the next meeting. He also said that the union needs your support to make this meeting a success.

Our good friend and Ex-Treas. A. A. B. was a caller at our last meeting. He said that he was very interested to hear that we are having a regular meeting every week. He also said that he was looking forward to our next meeting.

We all felt sorry for a certain union member who has to work on Sundays, but we will have to make him because we know he has to work on Sundays.

Everyone attended every meeting. I'll see you next week.

A number of members have been at our meetings recently. We have received many reports and suggestions from them.

A car that has been purchased recently has been purchased with the aid of the union. The car will be used to help the union's efforts in the city.

Ed Rollerson has had his hours cut from 3 to 10 per week; so of course the local is going to do its bit. Every man is going to do his bit.

How did "Jim" Getchell go up on a ladder in the city? He was going to paint a picture on the side of a building.

Have you heard? In spite of the fact that the firm is in the city, the union is only going to do its bit. Every man is going to do his bit.

How can you say that you have been successful? You have run out of food and clothes.

Word has been sent to the local to see that the city is well satisfied with the union's activities.

Weston has sold a stock of clothes for the union. The union will be glad to get them.

M. Smith, chairman of the executive committee, is urging all members to attend the next meeting. He also said that the union needs your support to make this meeting a success.

Our good friend and Ex-Treas. A. A. B. was a caller at our last meeting. He said that he was very interested to hear that we are having a regular meeting every week. He also said that he was looking forward to our next meeting.

We all felt sorry for a certain union member who has to work on Sundays, but we will have to make him because we know he has to work on Sundays.

Everyone attended every meeting. I'll see you next week.

A number of members have been at our meetings recently. We have received many reports and suggestions from them.

A car that has been purchased recently has been purchased with the aid of the union. The car will be used to help the union's efforts in the city.

Ed Rollerson has had his hours cut from 3 to 10 per week; so of course the local is going to do its bit. Every man is going to do his bit.

How did "Jim" Getchell go up on a ladder in the city? He was going to paint a picture on the side of a building.

Have you heard? In spite of the fact that the firm is in the city, the union is only going to do its bit. Every man is going to do his bit.
We Want No Part Of H. F. Number 352

Early in March, when copies of the Vance-Miller bill were first available, the Northwest Organizer, judging only by the provisions of the measure in question, rejected it. He felt that it had anything to do with drafting such a frontier law.

"The house and Senate," we wrote, "in order to shield themselves from labor's wrath, are trying to make it appear that a 'farm bill' is demanding the passage of this bill. They are met with a widespread legislation that would stunt the development of the economy and the farmers in Minnesota. It is the Republican Party's idea of 'protecting' the farmer.

"We believe that the first part of the Vance-Miller bill is not a vote of the farmers in this state, and that, in making it, we are letting people pretend that the bill originated with the farmers. Everything that has since been learned about H. F. Number 352 will be as the farmers. All the back talks and the promises were in aiding with the farmers. Everything that has since been learned about H. F. Number 352 was as the farmers. All the back talks and the promises were in aiding with the farmers.

Last week we exposed the support given the Vance-Miller bill by the farmers. This week, we find that the farmers are considering it a bill that is not in accordance with the interests of the farmers, and that it doesn't go far enough in the direction of the bill which would, in our opinion, benefit the farmers."

The House and Senate of the Minnesota Star—this week's article, we find, has added further weight to our conviction that their bill, the "farmers'" bill, the "farmers'" bill, is useless. The bill, as written, gives the workers the power to organize and set up their own unions, and their own wages, and their own hours, and their own working conditions. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country.

The House and Senate of the Minnesota Star—this week's article, we find, has added further weight to our conviction that their bill, the "farmers'" bill, is useless. The bill, as written, gives the workers the power to organize and set up their own unions, and their own wages, and their own hours, and their own working conditions. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country.

The House and Senate of the Minnesota Star—this week's article, we find, has added further weight to our conviction that their bill, the "farmers'" bill, is useless. The bill, as written, gives the workers the power to organize and set up their own unions, and their own wages, and their own hours, and their own working conditions. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country.

The House and Senate of the Minnesota Star—this week's article, we find, has added further weight to our conviction that their bill, the "farmers'" bill, is useless. The bill, as written, gives the workers the power to organize and set up their own unions, and their own wages, and their own hours, and their own working conditions. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country. The bill, as written, will enable the workers to grow crops, and to work in a way that is most beneficial to the workers, and to the farmers, and to the people of the state, and to the country.