St. Louis Unions Call for War Poll

Members of the Minneapolis Central Labor Union, which went on record some time ago for a national referendum on war, will be interested in the report given this anti-war move by the St. Louis labor movement as indicated in an editorial in the Union Labor Advocate published in that city, a section of which reads:

"We support the war referendum as a serious step in the direction of the future. The St. Louis Central Labor Union unanimously endorsed the proposal.

"Unless the people can vote on this issue, then their right to vote on any other political questions must be inalienable. The day will come when the people can vote on any political issue, but it has not yet come. For now the people have lost their right to vote on the war issue."

"We participate in this war referendum as a step toward the future. It is an attempt to establish a war referendum, and to make it a regular part of the political process."

"If the people of the United States can vote on the war, they will not have to vote on the war again."

"We support the war referendum as a step toward the establishment of a war referendum in the United States."

Not Speaking

Sometimes saying nothing tells more than words could ever say.

And to get over to you the facts about Tydol, we are going to make a couple of friends on the "outs" look like chambering magpies.

So, we are not speaking either. Not a word about Tydol's mileage on smooth and knock-off performance. Not a mention of the top-dollar oil in every drop.

"Try Tydol", is all we have to say. A test of Tydol in your car will put you in a more convincing condition than anything we could say.

Business Manager: R. H. JOHNSON

I'm aнский high,

Amer. h Roosevelt

In his April 25th relief message to Congress, in which he asked for $4 billion in emergency WPAs, he... the ...jailed and burned out by the business press as an "agitator," but... in any upward trend in the volume of business in any one nation.

How about this "upward trend?"

The Johnstown Evening Tribune informs its readers that the "Business Index is at Year's Low. A new low for the year was established in the New York State Weekly index of business activity." According to the Times, there were losses in the following industries — manufacturing, retail trade, wholesale trade, agriculture, and cotton mill activity — and the index of "all business activity" was also reported to be below what it had been in any part of the year for more than a year and a half.

Dunn, associate editor, presents an unusually gloomy picture. At least two auto companies have enough fixed properties in their plants to keep them open through the year. Auto production itself has been more than twice the output of any one of the coming years, and the labor-intensive industries like mining and agriculture are not taking any new employment. So that Roosevelt, that is to say, is put to taking care of those being thrown off work, and the only hope is that they may be taken care of.

Perhaps if we do not take this labor and the unemployed will have to turn increasingly to the program elaborated by General William Cameron Dent, who is being pushed by the Electrical Workers, the Steel Workers, the Ship Workers, and the Railway Workers, as the "Week at 90 REDUCTION IN WEEKLY WAGES.

We may also be able, to the extent that the unions in the United States and the government are unable to find a way out of the depression, which cannot come until after a year or two, Labor will have to carry through its own program of a shorter working week.

For the Thirty-hour Week at 85.00 Weekly Wage.

Labor Campaign Quarters Opened in All Parts of City

(Courtesy of June 15, 1931, the Daily Worker) — Thousands of unemployed workers in Minnesota will have an opportunity to meet with their state labor organizations this week, as the Federation of Minnesota Unions has announced that labor campaign quarters will be opened in all parts of the state.

Joseph Duff, state organizer of the Federation of Minnesota Unions, told the Daily Worker that these quarters will give the unemployed the opportunity to get together and discuss their problems.

Duff said: "These quarters will be open to all workers who are unable to find employment, and they will be staffed by experienced union organizers. The purpose of these quarters is to help workers organize and to fight for better working conditions."

"We believe that these quarters will be of great assistance to the workers in Minnesota," Duff added.

Duff went on to explain that the Federation of Minnesota Unions has been working hard to organize the unemployed in the state, and that these quarters are a part of that effort.

Duff said: "We have tried to organize the unemployed in Minnesota, and we believe that these quarters will be a great help to them. We hope that they will be successful in their work, and that they will be able to help the workers in Minnesota to get better working conditions."
