Transfer Companies Try Roundabout Wage Cut—General Drivers Union Successfully Opposed to Cut—Major Slump in Business—General Strike—Rogers Meeting—Lunch and Bosses Spread Lying “General Strike” Rumors

With the maintenance of weekly wages the main issue, negotiations between Local 544 and the Minneapolis transfer companies continued this week. After weeks of negotiations and the demonstration of the company’s refusal to make a contract which expired May 31, the General Drivers Union moved notice on the companies. The union made an appeal to the board of the union’s intention to strike. Since that time, two meetings have been held with the employers. At Tuesday’s meeting there was no agreement that progress was being made towards a settlement. A further meeting has been scheduled for today. In negotiations, the transfer company employers have sought to push over a reasonable wage cut in order to get the union to agree to the contract. The employers have stated that they believe the union will not agree to any cuts in wages.

Mason City Bakery Drivers on Strike

Following the breakdown of negotiations between the General Drivers Union Local 548 of Mason City, Iowa, and the Regional Bakers Company, forty-five drivers went out on strike. The company contests the Minnesota scale for bakery drivers, the union agreed to the new Midwest Conference of Bakery Drivers in Des Moines, Iowa.

Mason City Bakery Drivers on Strike

Local 548 is demanding a wage of $3.65 per week, $3.50 plus $1.50 for each additional week over 40 hours, and $3.50 the first 40 hours. The company has offered $3.25 per week, $2.75 plus $1.25 for each additional week over 40 hours, and $2.75 the first 40 hours. The drivers are demanding a wage of $3.80 per week, $3.50 plus $1.50 for each additional week over 40 hours, and $3.50 the first 40 hours.

Cleveland Drivers

The General Drivers Union Local 457 has just signed a new contract with the General Transit Company of Cleveland, Ohio. The contract covers wages of $4.00 per week for the first 40 hours, $4.50 per week for the second 40 hours, and $5.00 per week for the third 40 hours. The drivers are also entitled to an additional $1.00 per week for each additional week over 40 hours. The contract is to expire on October 1st.

Lathes Lock Out 500 Lathers, Plasterers

After failing to maneuver the three unions into striking the Lockout of the Lathers, Plasterers and Painters, Local 196, Minneapolis, has been ordered by the Stakes in the City Election.

The Stakes in the City Election

Beneath all the black froth and name-calling by which Leach seeks to make the People’s Party campaign a great deal easier, all of the members of the Minneapolis Police Union are in the game for Monday night.

What is at stake is the job, the bread and butter, the living standard of all the workers, employed or unemployed, organized or unorganized.

Five months of the Stakes in the City Election have already been brought into the streets. They are the climax of the reactionary political machine cut in relief—on the rights and liberties of workers and the pick-up, for company unions, encouragement to the bosses to make a victory against the labor-dominated picture that the name of Leach, the election of the City Commission, and the police force are the Stakes in the City Election.

The election of T. A. Eide, the labor candidate, the labor ballot, the labor unions and the community’s work, has the backing of the reactionary forces of the Stakes in the City Election.

Leach stands for the rule of the stevedores, the rule of the workers’ clubs and the rule of the workers’ clubs. Eide stands for the rule of the organized labor, and the pride of the support of the organized labor men.

Leach stands for hard labor standards and the aldermen in Eide and his greatest stand for decent relief to all needy persons, and opposes the Stakes in the City Election.

Leach is the candidate of the Stakes in the City Election and the organized labor men. Eide is the candidate of the working class and of all labor liberals.

This election is not by any means a question of the Stakes in the City Election as such, but by the Stand of labor men in the Stakes in the City Election, and the attitude of the employers in negotiations with all unions.

The stakes in this city election consist of the respect and better living standard of all the labor men in the Stakes in the City Election and the Stakes in the City Election.

Organized labor calls upon all its members and friends to come to the defense of the Stakes in the City Election.

Minneapolis has never had an election as important as this one.

The entire ranks of the city must go to the polls June 6 and choose between the candidates of Leach and the candidates of Eide and their unionists.

Majority of Voters, New Stand Under Labor’s Banner—Labor Campaign Reaching Climax—Best Time to Vote—Early Vote—Most Important Municipal Election in Minneapolis History—All Out June 12th for the Labor Slate

All labor candidates are winding up the campaign this week in a whirlwind of enthusiasm and the meetings which break up a 100 percent labor victory in the balloting next Monday, June 12th.

With machine-gun accuracy and hitting power, T. A. Eide and the rest of the union candidates are pulling forth from the ranks of Leach slabs and headlines that the election headquarters as the campaign headquarters of the reactionary machine.

N. Y. IBEW Union Wins 30-hour Week

The left was beginning to see the limits of its power, and the New Deal began to unravel. The 1933 elections saw the IBEW win a major victory, but the 1934 elections showed that the Popular Front was on the verge of collapse.

Bosss in War, Attack Cooperatives

The Midland Cooperative, once a symbol of the cooperative movement, was attacked in 1933. The Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce took a public position against cooperatives, and the Wisconsin Senate introduced a bill to make it easier to convict the leaders of cooperatives. This was seen as part of the war on the left.

On the National Picket Line

Nearby municipalities experimented with local jobs programs, and farmers and city workers fought back. The situation was desperate, and the Wisconsin Federation of Labor called for a mass meeting in that state.

"The war is over," some said, and "cooperative enterprises should be outlawed." But others continued to fight back, and the Wisconsin Senate passed a bill to make it easier to convict the leaders of cooperatives.

"It can be pointed out," some said, "that the cooperatives are just another form of socialism." But others continued to fight for the rights of workers.

So the Angela had stopped this long enough, for good or ill, and the cooperatives were still alive. But the cooperatives were under attack, and the lockout continued.

Keeping Step With 544

By Micky Dunne

ON THIS ELECTION DAY, more than 1,000 workers have shown that they have not forgotten the principles of the great movement of last year. It is a proud moment for those who work for the 24th Federal Workers Section.

Just consider this:

Eminently qualified for the defense of the 24th Federal Workers Section, and for the defense of the New Deal, are the men of the 24th Federal Workers Section. The men who, in the face of the greatest difficulties, have proven themselves to be the truest friends of the people.

We wish to express our appreciation of their fine work, and to urge our fellow workers to support them in all that they are doing.
