A Ten Billion Dollar Federal Housing Program Would Provide Jobs and Decent Homes for All!

THE NORTHWEST ORGANIZER
Official Organ of the Minneapolis Teamsters Joint Council

MINNEAPOLIS OFFICE: 287 PLYMOUTH AVE. N.

VOL. 5, NO. 29

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1940

FIVE CENTS

On the National Picket Line

Atricious Local Housing Conditions Bared By Surveys

Roosevelt Asks New WPA Slash

Swindland, Leading Plaintiff, Withdraws from Pink Suit—Hailed into Court, He Admits Ties with "Local One."-Narrow-String—Plead, "We Never Asked Union for Accounting of Funds—Boss Press Distorts Loyal in Mainland—But..."

All Leaders of 544 Returned to Office by Huge Majories

544 Moves Dismissal Of Suit as Plaintiffs Demonstrate Bad Faith

November 1948

S. U. Survey Shows Appalling Conditions in Homes of 100 Families

The National Housing Survey of 100 families by the United States Department of Housing and Home Finance was released in Washington on Tuesday. The survey revealed that:

- 76% of the families were overcrowded.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 48% of the homes had no central heating.
- 38% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.

The survey also found that:

- 70% of the homes were in poor repair.
- 50% of the homes were in fair repair.
- 20% of the homes were in good repair.

The survey concluded that:

- 80% of the homes were in need of immediate repair.
- 20% of the homes were in need of minor repairs.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacked central heating.

The survey recommended that:

- Immediate action be taken to improve the housing conditions of the families surveyed.
- Long-term solutions be developed to address the issue of housing shortages.

The survey was conducted in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Housing and Home Finance and the National Association of Home Builders.

The survey found that:

- 76% of the homes lacked basic utilities such as running water and indoor plumbing.
- 64% of the homes lacked basic sanitation facilities such as bathtubs or showers.
- 48% of the homes lacke...
N. W. Bank Continues to Block Puffer-Hubbard Settlement, Starve Strikers

New evidence of the Northwestern National Bank's decision to continue blocking Puffer-Hubbard's Settlement, and Starve Strikers in particular came to evidence this week at the Family Workers' Union meeting on Friday night. Agents of this bank, who were occupying the premises, had no intention of releasing new evidence until the strike of the Puffer-Hubbard firm has enjoyed the best fortune in years during the lifetime of the strikers. The strike is surely a page out of the history of the workers. The strike is surely a page out of the history of the workers.

LOCAL 1985 Knots to You

By Richard B. Glance

Last week Thursday, Lewis Carlsbad, of 1150 White, decedent, was laid out for his last sleep. Two thousand friends gathered to say good-bye to a man they had loved and respected. Lewis Carlsbad was a man of few words, but he had a kind word for everyone. He was known for his compassion and his ability to make people feel welcome.

Cicada Union

Local 1985 members are being hosted by the Cicada Union meeting. It is to be held on Friday, April 21st, at 7:00 PM. Everyone is invited to attend. The Cicada Union is a community group that works to promote social justice and equality.

The Green Light

Watt Notes

By Anne Vets

What a fine day for a ride in the country, and it is safer for the birds.

Black Jacks Relief

The strike of the workers of the Minnesota, St. Paul, & Pacific Railway is being supported by the Minneapolis Labor Exchange. The workers are being supported in their struggle to gain better wages.

The Northwestern National Bank is continuing to block the Puffer-Hubbard settlement, and the strikers are being starved. The bank is refusing to release new evidence until the strike is over. The strike is continuing and the strikers are determined to keep up the fight.

The Green Light

Fidality State Bank

The Fidality State Bank is located in downtown St. Paul. It is a community bank that offers a wide range of financial services, including checking and savings accounts, auto loans, and home mortgages.

Serley Products

Serley Products is a local company that produces a variety of products, including food, drinks, and household items. They have been in business for over 50 years and have a reputation for quality products.

Mortuaries That Are Fair

The following funeral homes are classed as FAIR to organized labor: Andersons, 1600 S. College Avenue; Andersons, 1171 East Lake Street; Andersons, 1509 East Lake Street; Andersons, 2201 30th Avenue S.; Milburn, 2310 Central Avenue; Millburn, 1240 30th Avenue S.; David, 401 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South.

Bowlers in Strike After Vacation

Several recent contracts will go into effect on April 11th, including the Minnesota Labor Exchange's contract with the Blackjack Railway Strike. The strike is expected to continue until the workers receive a fair and equitable contract.

The Green Light

Minneapolis Labor Exchange 1911

The Minneapolis Labor Exchange is located in downtown Minneapolis. It is a labor union that represents workers in the Twin Cities area. The union is working to improve working conditions and wages for its members.

The Green Light

Fidality State Bank

The Fidality State Bank is located in downtown St. Paul. It is a community bank that offers a wide range of financial services, including checking and savings accounts, auto loans, and home mortgages.

Serley Products

Serley Products is a local company that produces a variety of products, including food, drinks, and household items. They have been in business for over 50 years and have a reputation for quality products.

Mortuaries That Are Fair

The following funeral homes are classed as FAIR to organized labor: Andersons, 1600 S. College Avenue; Andersons, 1171 East Lake Street; Andersons, 1509 East Lake Street; Andersons, 2201 30th Avenue S.; Milburn, 2310 Central Avenue; Millburn, 1240 30th Avenue S.; David, 401 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 30th Avenue South; David, 304 300.
Labor, Farm Leaders Honor WPA Defendants

Scene of Labor’s Banquet Honoring WPA Strike Defendants

Indicted Strikers Are Honored Guests at Banquet Saturday in Dyckman House.

James M. Mark, chairman of the New Jersey Workers’ Congress for Laborennie Cooper-Labor Council, Jack Boyer, of the American Labor Federation and Lawrence Uhl, president of the United Mine Workers, delivered addresses of appreciation.

About four hundred people gathered at the banquet.

A number of the speakers declared that the WPA defendants were not criminals and that they were, in fact, the victims of a plot by political leaders to take away the right to work for those who need it most.

The defendants, who were found guilty on charges of violating the National Labor Relations Act, were represented at the banquet by their attorneys.

The banquet was a show of support for the defendants and an attempt to demonstrate that they were not guilty of any crime.

The next day, the defendants were tried and convicted of the charges.

The defendants are scheduled to be sentenced later this week.

The sentence is expected to be severe, and the defendants may face long terms in prison.

The defendants’ lawyers have already indicated that they will appeal the decision.

The trial has become a symbol of the struggle between the working class and the ruling class, and it has sparked a national debate on the rights of workers.

The defendants have been described as the “true” American heroes, while the ruling class has been depicted as the “true” criminals.

The defendants’ supporters have organized protests and demonstrations in support of their release.

The defendants are widely admired for their courage and their commitment to justice.

The defendants’ story has become a symbol of the struggle for freedom and equality, and it has inspired many people to stand up for what they believe is right.

The defendants are expected to continue to fight for their rights and to demand justice for themselves and for all workers.

The defendants’ story is a testament to the power of the working class and to the enduring nature of the struggle for justice.
Northwest Organizer
Published every Thursday under the auspices of the Minneapolis Teamsters Joint Council
OFFICE OF PUBLICATION, 257 PLYMOUTH AVE.
SUBSCRIPTION RATES
One year in advance..............$2.50
Two years in advance............$4.50
Bundle rates (10 copies minimum) $2.00
Entered as second class matter May 1st, 1939, at the Post Office at Minneapolis, Minn., under the Act of March 3, 1879.
EDITORIAL BOARD
MILES DONNEL, Chairman
GIOVANNI MONTECARLO
GIOVANNI MONTECARLO
JAMES J. JOHNSON
ARON BERGMAN
Business Manager DANIEL BURK
CIRCULATION MANAGER MILES DONEL

I'm a decent Shain, Way or Mrk.
I'm a decent Shain, Way or Mrk.
I'm a decent Shain, Way or Mrk.

How the Daily Press Handled the Marlborough Tragedy
Whenever a community is shocked out of its lethargy by a crime, the newspapers frame their fronts with startling headlines. In the case of the Marlborough fire, while almost the entire population began to ask how such a thing could happen, the papers were slow to come to the aid of the public. The job of the press is to present the information and to help those inclined to find the answer. The story of the blaze has been told by the editorials, the columns of the papers and the newspapers themselves.

The Liberal, the city newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The pieces were written by the editor of the Liberal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Daily News, the city's daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Daily News, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Twin City Times, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Twin City Times, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Star, a daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Star, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Star, a daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Star, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Star, a daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Star, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Star, a daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Star, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Star, a daily newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Star, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Tribune, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.

The Minneapolis Journal, a weekly newspaper, published a series of articles on the fire. The articles were written by the editor of the Minneapolis Journal, who was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the blaze. The articles were well written and well researched. The editor's research was thorough and his writing was clear and concise. The articles were informative and helpful. The editor was able to give the readers a clear picture of the fire and the people involved.