NSP Workers Vote For Union Shop By Huge Majority

NSP Workers in Every City Vote for Union Shop, 1,484 to 842—Minneapolis Carriers for Unions, 136 to 129—Vote in St. Paul is 561 to 61—Negotiations Now Turn on $5. Wage Increase, and Right of Unions to Negotiate on New Matters Company May Bring Up That Aren’t Covered by Contract

The powerful side of union sentiment among workers who lack the means to fight in a court of law is shown by the NSP vote in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The vote obtained in the cities is a threat to the company’s ability to unite the carriers in opposition to the union, and to the union to secure the right of its members to negotiate on new matters. The vote is a clear indication that the union is ready to take action in the interest of its members.

The union carries the facts, and the company has not yet come to terms with the union. The NSP workers are demanding the right to negotiate on new matters. They are demanding the right to negotiate on the union’s terms. They are demanding the right to negotiate on the terms accepted by the union.

Howard Fouts Is Convicted On Fake Kidnapping Charge

Rush City—First of the four members of the Drivers Union Local 385 to be tried for trying to kidnap "Jimmie" Hord, Howard Fouts, was convicted of the charge after a 4-day trial, and Howard Fouts, he will be sentenced shortly. The other three union men will be tried in the near future.

The frame-up of the four men bears a grotesque chamberlain that even the book of history has never known. Plainly, the trial of the testimony or of witnesses' testimonies verified the arrest of the men on the same basis that the men were convicted of the same charge. The actual trial of the men was held in the Rush County, Illinois.

The campaign of the United States Department of Justice against the workers has been in preparation for at least the past year, and is closely linked with the decision to take the labor's lawyers in hand in preparation for the possible showdown in 1940 over the war.

The government's anti-labor campaign came out with the use of the G-men against the Minneapolis WPA strikers and the Minneapolis Teamsters' strike, both incidents of which were analogous in character with the recent trials, convictions and imprisonments with which the pressure was increased.

Since September, the start of the second World War, the drive has become even more acute. In the past seven months, the G-men and the Justice Department have become some of the highest ranking leaders in the governing class of the country, and they have used all of their power and influence to enact laws and procedures intended for the furtherance of the anti-labor movement.

In the various statements made by Truman Administration officials, including the U.S. Department of Labor and the Treasury Department, the government has repeatedly said that the government means to go it alone and break the labor movement.

On November 19, 1939, Assistant Attorney General (now Attorney General) Arnold, in the course of the closing stages of the labor strike in Minneapolis, maintained that the following five union practices are illegal and that the labor movement is in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law and that he would prosecute them.

The government's list of things it is trying to do to the unions against the unions include:

1. The government refuses to grant the benefit of the best newspaper, television and radio stations to the labor unions, as is the case with other labor unions.

2. The government refuses to rent space to the labor unions.

3. The government refuses to rent space to the labor unions.
