With the passing of unemployment benefits, America moves closer to its own armed conflict in the world. Last week General Douglas MacArthur warned that the compulsory military training now in force “will save a million workers.” This is a general warning which is likely to become a universal warning.

The House Ways and Means Committee has passed a bill which would be of great benefit to the unemployed. The bill would provide for the establishment of a Federal Emergency Relief Administration to distribute funds to the unemployed.

The unemployed workers are going out in force — and the more unemployed —

In New Jersey Relief Administration, Mr. Smollett said, “The unemployed are to be given the order on the construction of the buildings, and are also to be given the order on the building of the highways.”

In Rockford, Lord Secretary, Mr. Smollett was also asked to address the unemployed, and he said, “It is the order of the Committee, and I am also in charge of the order, to give the unemployed a chance.”

In Yonkers, N.Y., Mr. Endicott, P. Wadsworth, a member of the General Council, is pushing for the same organization of unemployment relief.

In Philadelphia, Mr. O'Connor, President of the Industrial Union, is also said to be wash- ing his hands of the situation, and “is waiting to be called by the unemployed.”

All of these patriotic plans, according to Mr. Smollett, are based on the principle that the unemployed are “just as good as the rest.”

The unemployed also emphasized that the unemployed have been waiting for the order to be given them for a long time.

The unemployment situation was discussed in detail, and it was said that the unemployed have been waiting for the order to be given them for a long time.

In New Jersey, Mr. Smollett said, “The unemployed are to be given the order on the construction of the buildings, and are also to be given the order on the building of the highways.”

The United States government, Mr. Smollett said, “is ready to give the unemployed a chance. The unemployed, who are unemployed, are also being called to be given the order on the construction of the buildings, and are also to be given the order on the building of the highways.”

The unemployed are not only waiting for the order on the construction of the buildings, but they are also waiting for the order on the building of the highways.
