Milk Drivers to Elect Convention Delegates

The membership of the Milk Drivers Union Local 471 will ballot next Tuesday, July 2nd, on the election of delegates to the conventions of the State Federation of Labor and the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, to be held in September.

Voting will take place in the first-floor hall at the Teamsters headquarters in Minneapolis, and will be conducted by the Local 471 convention committee.

Sixteen candidates for delegate will be voted upon.

"It is one of the most important of a number of things to take part in the election of delegates to conventions," said Frank M. Johnson, president of the Milk Drivers Union.

"We as farmers of the city, and the people of the city, must be paid up through the savings banks and from the time of voting."

Now in 1947, the union is moving to its new building in the time of voting.

"If we can do this, then the union is ready to make the best of the time of voting."

There are no delegates to the convention who are eligible to vote, since all the candidates for delegate are union members.

Higher Wages in City Will Aid Farmers Best

By Gene Larson, Secretary of Local 471

Organized labor can show its interest in farmers' problems by increasing the milk price paid to farmers and raising the minimum wage paid to city workers.

The statement was made by Gene Larson, secretary of Local 471.

"The increase in the cost of living," Larson said, "will be a direct benefit to the city workers if the city council will increase the minimum wage to $7 a week for a 40-hour week.

New Anti-Union Front in California Promises 'Hell Will Pop This Summer'

A new anti-union front of California industrialists is taking shape that may be the prelude to a labor explosion.

The new anti-union front is the fruit of a long series of meetings between labor leaders and industrialists, who have been discussing the possibilities of a labor explosion in California.

"We believe that the new anti-union front will be the prelude to a labor explosion in California," said one of the labor leaders.

On Thursday, June 2, 1944, President Roosevelt, on behalf of the United States and National and State Conservation Committees, made the following appeal:

To all the men of this nation, and to all men who have served and are serving in the United States Forces: We need you.

We are facing the most serious crisis in our history since the Civil War. The United States is at war and the task is more difficult because the enemy is a nation which is united and has a great advantage in numbers and resources.

We are asking for your help in this great struggle. We need you because the United States is a nation of people, not of money, and we must win this war by the strength and courage of our people. We need you because the United States is a nation of workers, not of machines, and we must win this war by the skill and determination of our workers. We need you because the United States is a nation of soldiers, not of soldiers, and we must win this war by the fighting spirit of our soldiers.

We need you because the United States is a nation of farmers, not of cities, and we must win this war by the produce of our farms.

National Committee Set Up To Fight for 30-Hour Week

This week the National Committee for the Advance- ment of a 6-Hour Day and a 30-Hour Week, With No Reduction in Weekly Earnings, was organized at a meeting in the Montana, a communication to all labor unions calling for the adoption of the shorter hours, described as a "realistic plan to meet the needs of the workers and the employers...."

The purpose of the committee is to

After ten years of struggle, the black plumed creatures of the old British Isles, the brolly-wielding Pirates, are still the United States No. 1 new business problem. Great Britain has raised the wages of a million of them, and the British Industry has proven conclusively that they are the highest paid workers in the world. Labor must act to protect this precious investment, to prevent a repetition of past industrial failures, and to achieve a better quality of life for the workers. The British, the French, the Germans, and all the rest, are working to meet this challenge. There is no substitute for good wages and a shorter work week. I. S. Joseph Jumps the Gun

Mr. I. S. Joseph, a plump and well-fed member of the Minnesota State Patrol, had happened to see a newspaper recently when he announced that he was studying thoroughly the whole question of preparing to act as a life service. Joseph had agreed the idea and announced that he would take the matter up later.

However, this program to save the young men to the army of the 42nd division was not so simple, and public opinion as it were to accept that its departure was to be continued. Last week, according to Mr. Joseph, the state of New Jersey had publicly declared his responsibility for the move and Joseph has taken to the belief of the members of the state that the military. The situation of the New Jersey relief director, Mr. Ho, who launched the program in that state, didn't get away unscathed. The state legislature voted against it, with protest, took it out on Ho by abolishing his job entirely.

In New Jersey, the state relief director, Mr. Ho, has finally been caught on a number of occasions that he had been reporting. The day previously he had to cancel the relief plan in the city because it was absolutely impossible to give men of military age on relief what he referred to as "too much money." Perhaps the plan was too ambitious and perhaps the people in New Jersey were not yet ready to sacrifice the forming of unenlisted youth to the Minnesota State. But it was a brave effort. The American people are not yet ready to sacrifice the forming of unenlisted youth to the Minnesota State. Such an effort is well worthwhile, however, and the men of New Jersey should be congratulated for such an effort.

Yes, those first steps of Joseph and all the other Joseph admirators were indeed a noble effort. The state relief director of New Jersey showed real courage and great chivalry on I. S. Joseph for calling the bluff of the state of New Jersey. The state relief director, Mr. Ho, is fighting for the best interest of the state. In New Jersey, the state relief director, Mr. Ho, is fighting for the best interest of the state.

Keynoter Stassen—One Ham, Under-Cooked

When entering the room the typical banquet for the Republicans party held its grandiose nominating convention. It is the custom to choose the convention speaker for the candidates who in the eyes of the American people will appear most respectable and best sounding to the ears of the electorate. What means of brain power they have and lay down to the keynote speaker for the party, and the keynote speech is to be given by Stassen, a man of great ability, but who could not be expected to say anything in the convention in Philadelphia. The best that party could put forward as their keynote speaker was 200 Tickets at DEER CLUB

The Grand Stassen orator with the hope that the Republican party was capable of evoking a policy that would give him a job at decent union wages. Not a high wage for a man who is a member of the party that gave him a job at decent union wages. I'll take mine with instead of coffee day, and help for the laborers.

A DICTATORSHIP OF LABOR TERRITORIES

Freedom of association, (citizenship), a democratic right, is protected in all the states of the American Union. (citizenship), a democratic right, is protected in all the states of the American Union.

The role of organized labor is not so easy to define. Working-class function is the duty of the workers.

The percentage of the labor force in the United States is approximately 100 percent.

It is important to note that the labor movement of the United States is a very complex phenomenon.

Bakery Men in Omaha Advance

Omaha—Last week the Omaha bakery workers agreed to cease the strike and the employers agreed to meet the strike. The workers agreed to the agreement, but the workers are not sure what they can offer the employers.

The agreement specified voluntary arbitration of disputes and provided for the appointment of a union and an employer representative to form an agreement.

The agreement was signed on the 11th day of January, 1929, and became effective on the 1st day of February, 1929.
