664 Members Hear Report on Pending Wagner Act Change

At the January 17th meeting of the City & Suburban Driven Utility Local 664, members received a report by Harold Fossey on the proposed amendment to the Wagner Act which would place all state, county and municipal employees under the Social Security Act.

The report was based on the findings of Arthur John, secretary of the Minnesota Teamsters Joint Council, who attended the hearings in Washington, D.C., late in November.

The February 16th meeting of Local 664 will hear a report by Mr. Fossey on all phases of the proposed Wagner Act amendment, which will improve existing retirement plans for municipal employees.

Most city employees in Minneapolis are not covered by any retirement plan, hence they would almost certainly be covered by the Wagner Act amendment.

drafted by the Federal Security Agency for the consideration of the Senate, a measure for the regulation of the social insurance industry.

Minneapolis taverns have been granted a special type of liquor license which will allow them to serve wine at their premises.

The license will be valid for one year and will allow the taverns to serve wine for on-premise consumption.

The license will also allow the taverns to serve wine for off-premise consumption.

The license will be limited to five licenses per tavern, and the taverns will be required to comply with all state and local regulations regarding the sale and consumption of wine.

The license will be effective immediately and will expire on December 31, 1927.

The Minneapolis Tavern License Law, which became effective on January 1, 1927, was enacted to promote the sale of moderate quantities of wine for personal consumption.

The law was designed to encourage the consumption of wine for personal use, rather than for sale at public gatherings.

The law also provided for the regulation of the sale and consumption of wine, and for the establishment of a system of licensing for taverns.

The Minneapolis Tavern License Law was enacted in response to the widespread public demand for the sale of wine for personal consumption.

The law was supported by a number of public health organizations and by the general public, who were concerned about the effects of alcohol abuse on public health and social welfare.

The law was also supported by the municipal government, which was concerned about the need for revenue to finance public services.

The Minneapolis Tavern License Law was an important step in the development of a more moderate and responsible approach to the regulation of alcohol in the city of Minneapolis.

The law was a precursor to the more comprehensive approach to alcohol regulation that was adopted in the state of Minnesota, and ultimately led to the establishment of the state's comprehensive alcohol control laws.

Policy Committee Does Work But Governor Takes Credit

That the Stannum administration is claiming credit for accomplishments, institutions, or policies of the labor unions in Minnesota was the contention of Roy Weyer, executive secretary of the Minnesota State Labor Council, at the 115th Labor Hour on station KLOL on Friday, March 25.

In his talk, Mr. Weyer was critical of the role of the State Labor Council in terms of its actions and inaction.

Mr. Weyer said that the labor unions in Minnesota have been instrumental in bringing about many of the improvements that have taken place in the state. He pointed out that the labor unions have been responsible for the establishment of the minimum wage, the eight-hour day, the old-age pension plan, and the unemployment compensation plan.

He also cited the work of the labor unions in bringing about better working conditions for the workers in the state.

Mr. Weyer said that the Stannum administration has not given credit to the labor unions for these accomplishments.

He said that the labor unions have been working for the betterment of the workers in Minnesota, and he said that the Stannum administration should be giving credit to the labor unions for these accomplishments.
