The Next Step is Industry-Wide Elections—This Democratic Solution Must be Achieved

The union is scoring all down the line in the hearings of the national labor board on Local 544-CIO's demand for secret industry-wide elections. The union has developed a definite strategy. As each industry is taken up for discussion, Local 544-CIO brings in witnesses to testify that Party candidates have made to them personal attacks, political threats, and other types of intimidation in order to restrict the meetings of the union, to prevent the union from collecting dues, and to restrict the liberty of the union members. In all the hearings, one witness after another has testified to the baseless character of the claims of the company, adding to the power and prestige of the union and increasing the confidence of the workers in their union.

Tuesday hearings were held before State Bureau of Labor Commissioner L. E. Wallace. This was followed by a hearing in the spring, where the union of all workers in the industry. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board ruled in favor of the union and ordered the company to cease and desist from its actions.

In Solid COI, the union plans to continue its efforts.

Mr. Tobin Launches A New Fink Suit Against Local 544

After having successfully fought one fish suit through four counties of court, he is armed with a second suit of an identical nature.

Fink Suit Number One was launched by five union haters finding fault with the Minneapolis newspapers. On Feb. 21, 1941, Tobin was asked to appear before the Fish Court to hear the arguments of the defendants, the Minneapolis newspapers.

Tobin, who has no legal right to a single dollar of Local 544's funds for his fight, has not ceased to be a firebrand against the newspapers.

No One Else

However, the suits have been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number One" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Two" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Three" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Four" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Five" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Six" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers. "Fink Suit Number Seven" has been met by the Minneapolis newspapers.

Leavenworth Prisoners On Strike

Despite the tremendous obstacle to be overcome, over one thousand prisoners from the federal penitentiary in Leavenworth, Kansas, have apparently organized warfare against an apparently infallible authority to stop a certain railroad strike in Kansas City.

In a letter to the Kansas City Star, the prisoners made known their grievances, which include conditions and an attempt to stop the Kansas City, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co.
