"Yours for the Revolution" (New York Call)

"Hello!" said a man in a loud voice from the booth on the corner. "Hello! How's the world this morning?"

The old man looked at the newspaper in his hand and said, "I'm afraid it's not so good. The police are out in force today."

"What's that?" asked the man in the booth. "They're out in force everywhere."

"Yes," said the old man, "they've got the whole city on lock down."

"What's that mean?" asked the man in the booth. "It means there's a lot of trouble around."
The Woman's Cause
A DEPARTMENT FOR WOMEN WHO THINK

Wisconsin Child Labor Laws
By ROBERT V. DIXON

An American Knight's Tale

What's Doing Among the Sub Getters

OUR WEEKLY POEM
On the Capture of Fugitive Slaves
By JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL

L E T T E R S
From the
Land of May-Care
Written by the Ohio Sentinel by W. E. Borden.

BRAIN TEASERS

Deb's at Mansfield

Wisconsin Child Labor Laws

Our weekly poem, if you will, is a weekly feature that appears regularly in the paper. It is a place where we can publish short, pithy poems that reflect on various aspects of life and society. This week's poem, "On the Capture of Fugitive Slaves," by James Russell Lowell, is particularly poignant and relevant.

James Russell Lowell was an American poet, editor, and critic. He was a leading figure in the American literary Renaissance of the 19th century. Lowell's poetry often dealt with themes of war, politics, and social reform.

The poem is a commentary on the capture of escaped slaves, a common occurrence during the antebellum period in the United States. Lowell's poetry often reflects on the moral and ethical dilemmas of the time, and this poem is no exception.

The poem begins with the words, "Look on who will be in front, and slide they who can." These lines suggest a sense of urgency and concern for the fate of the escaping slaves. The poet urges the reader to look ahead and anticipate the consequences of the slaves' actions.

The next line, "Let those whose hearts are yearning up with interest, and who care for human beings, and the wrongs of the slave," further emphasizes the importance of compassion and empathy for the enslaved people.

The final line, "Thus see the blood of the fugitive slave run free, and saunter by the ocean," is a powerful conclusion to the poem. It calls for the freedom and dignity of the escaped slaves, and it serves as a reminder of the ongoing struggle against slavery.

Overall, the poem is a powerful and inspiring piece of literature that continues to resonate with readers today. It is a reminder of the importance of empathy, compassion, and justice, and it serves as a call to action for those who believe in the cause of freedom and equality.
REVOLUTIONS AND THE CAPITALIST PRESS

We have done an article in an effort to change some minds that the capitalist press is so often considered free of social and political revolution. The capitalist press are so often considered by us and others as being a part of the capitalist press, but the working class is not. The working class is a part of the capitalist press, and the capitalist press is not a part of the working class. The working class is a part of the capitalist press, and the capitalist press is not a part of the working class.

THE STATISTICIAN

TOLEDO AGAIN

All of the Ohio area, as in the other areas, has experienced a notable amount of socialist activity, but none as great as the recent one in Toledo. The Ohio State Socialist publication "The Ohio Socialist" has been very influential in the Toledo area. The Socialist Party of Ohio has been very active in the Toledo area, and has had a notable amount of success. The Socialist Party of Ohio has been very active in the Toledo area, and has had a notable amount of success.

GREETINGS FROM FLORIDA

All hell is breaking loose in Florida. The Socialist Party of Florida has been very active in the Florida area, and has had a notable amount of success. The Socialist Party of Florida has been very active in the Florida area, and has had a notable amount of success.

CINCINNATI MEETINGS

The Socialist Party of Ohio has been very active in the Cincinnati area, and has had a notable amount of success. The Socialist Party of Ohio has been very active in the Cincinnati area, and has had a notable amount of success.

THANK YOU, WELCH

I was very happy to see you in Cincinnati. I hope you had a good trip. I hope you had a good trip.

WHAT'S THOUGHT OF IT?

This is a very interesting article. It gives an excellent view of the socialist movement in the United States. It gives an excellent view of the socialist movement in the United States.

YOU'RE WELCOME

I was very happy to see you in Cincinnati. I hope you had a good trip. I hope you had a good trip.

Don't Put It Off—ORDER NOW—VICTORY EDITION Dec. 31st. $1.00 per Hundred.
RECONSTRUCTION IN RUSSIA
FROM CLASS STRUGGLE
(Continued from Last Week)

AGARIAN MEASURES
Become a Conflicting Issue Before the All-Russia Congress of Farmers, November 8, 1917.

1. The farmers are failing to meet the demands of the state, as they have been unable to raise financial resources without any interference.
2. The state has no plans to address the agrarian question, as it is not a priority in the current political climate.
3. The farmers are demanding the reinstatement of their property rights and the power to manage their farms as they see fit, without interference from the state.
4. The state has not provided any assistance to the farmers, as it has failed to allocate the necessary resources to address the agrarian issue.
5. The farmers are demanding the abolition of all land reforms, as they believe that these measures are not in the best interests of the farmers and the country.
6. The state has not taken any action to address the agrarian issue, as it has no plans to allocate the necessary resources to address this problem.

GLEANINGS
FROM THE LOG OF AN AGITATOR

1. There has been a significant increase in the number of farmers who have joined the Bolshevik Party, as they believe that the Bolsheviks are the only party that can address the agrarian issue.
2. The state has not taken any action to address the agrarian issue, as it has no plans to allocate the necessary resources to address this problem.
3. The farmers are demanding the reinstatement of their property rights and the power to manage their farms as they see fit, without interference from the state.
4. The state has not provided any assistance to the farmers, as it has failed to allocate the necessary resources to address the agrarian issue.
5. The farmers are demanding the abolition of all land reforms, as they believe that these measures are not in the best interests of the farmers and the country.
6. The state has not taken any action to address the agrarian issue, as it has no plans to allocate the necessary resources to address this problem.

RALLY AND BANQUET
For Returned Political Prisoners
ACME HALL
2416 EAST 9TH STREET
CLEVELAND, DEC. 15, 2:30 P.M.

Speakers:
Ruthenberg, Wagenknecht and Others

Banquet
AT 6 P.M.

A Welcome is Extended to All

National Office Correspondence

1. All agricultural machinery and implements, whether manufactured in the country or imported, must be paid for by the current account of the state. The credit of the credit is secured to the state, and the machinery and implements will be placed at the disposal of the farmers until they have paid for them.

2. The state has no plans to address the agrarian question, as it is not a priority in the current political climate.

3. The farmers are demanding the reinstatement of their property rights and the power to manage their farms as they see fit, without interference from the state.

4. The state has not provided any assistance to the farmers, as it has failed to allocate the necessary resources to address the agrarian issue.

5. The farmers are demanding the abolition of all land reforms, as they believe that these measures are not in the best interests of the farmers and the country.

6. The state has not taken any action to address the agrarian issue, as it has no plans to allocate the necessary resources to address this problem.

Your, George W. Atkinson, State Treasurer.

Statistician

The statistician of the Republican party has been ordered to make a thorough investigation of the state of the campaign. The statistician should be instructed to make a complete canvass of the state, and to report on the results. The statistician should be instructed to make a complete canvass of the state, and to report on the results.

The statistician of the Republican party has been ordered to make a thorough investigation of the state of the campaign. The statistician should be instructed to make a complete canvass of the state, and to report on the results.

The statistician of the Republican party has been ordered to make a thorough investigation of the state of the campaign. The statistician should be instructed to make a complete canvass of the state, and to report on the results.