ONE BIG UNION FOR AUSTRALIA

The one big union system has recently been revived as a result of labor congresses in New South Wales and the annual conferences of the "Workers' Industrial Union of Australia." There will be six departments of the new union: Mines and Building and Construction; Metal Trades; Manufacturing Industries; Transport and Communications; Civil Servants and Public Utilities; and General. "There are 110,000 members of the Workers' Industrial Union and 2,000,000 employees in New South Wales. It is the only union in New South Wales, and the "one big union" is the only union in the state. The new union will be the "one big union" in the state, and the "one big union" in the state will be the "one big union" in the state. (Continued on Page Two)

Victor Berger Testifies

BERGER ADMITS HE IS "YELLOW" IF THAT TERM IMPLIES CONSTRUCTIVE SOCIALISM

By E. Warburg (New York)

The last defendant to take the stand in the two trials at Chicago was Victor Berger. Berger is a socialist, a member of the Social Democratic party, and has been serving as chairman of the executive committee of that organization. The people who are tried by the jury are not the only ones who are tried, but also the State and the legal institutions which are the judges of the crime because they determine whether the accused are guilty or not.

No Patience With L. W. W.

"We set out in the beginning," said Berger, "to expose the methods of the capitalist. We set out to show the power of money in the life of our people. We set out to show the class struggle.

We set out to expose the conditions under which the capitalist lives and the conditions under which the worker lives. We set out to show the difference between the two classes. We set out to show that the capitalist lives in luxury and the worker lives in poverty.

We set out to show that the capitalist has all the power and the worker has none. We set out to show that the capitalist can do as he pleases and the worker has no say in the matter. We set out to show that the capitalist can exploit the worker and the worker cannot do a thing about it.

We set out to show that the capitalist can influence the government and the worker cannot. We set out to show that the capitalist can influence the law and the worker cannot.

We set out to show that the capitalist can control the media and the worker cannot.

We set out to show that the capitalist can control the schools and the worker cannot.

We set out to show that the capitalist can control the courts and the worker cannot.

CONSTITUTION OF THE SOVIET UNION

The Constitution of the Soviet Socialist Federated Russian Republic was translated by "The Nation" from an official printed text, embodying the latest revisions. It is reproduced in two purposes. First, to give our readers first-hand knowledge of the fundamental law of the first Socialist Republic. Second, to prepare the reader for the full exposition of the principles of the constitution, but hereafter you will read any order supposed to have been promulgated by any authority not authorized to do so, you will know for what it is—a lie of the blackest kind.

Article One

Declaration of Rights of the Laboring and Exploited People

1. Russia is declared to be a Republic of the working class. All laborers and the petty-bourgeois elements are citizens of the Republic. All the local and central power belongs to the working class.

2. The Russian Russia is declared to be a Soviet Republic.

3. Voting is made in its fundamental principles, but the specific form of it is left to the discretion of the all-Russian, provincial, and district congresses of the proletariat and the masses of the working people, within the boundaries of the Russian Republic.

4. Each working person—man and woman—enjoys equal rights. All citizens of the Russian Republic are equal under the law.

5. All the members of the working class are citizens of the Republic.

6. All those who are members of a state of society are citizens of the Republic.
