Reds Ousted But Reds Prevail

Money Congress Most Momentous in History of U.S. Labor—Radicals in A.P. of L. at Last

Anarchy, Thrown from Control of A.P. of L., Will Now Have to Speed Up or Shut Up.

(Special to Ohio Socialist)

The officials of the American Federation of Labor who have been so much in the news of late have in an unusual way received the benefit of the Department of Justice's action in breaking up the American Labor party organization in Chicago. By an order of the Department of Justice, the American Labor party was dissolved, and by a decision of the Circuit Court of Chicago, its officers were declared to be 'debarred from participating in the conduct of labor business.' The result is that the American Labor party will now have to speed up or shut up.

PART IV

The Mother of Humanity
The mother of humanity, in her simplicity, full of understanding, and love, is a symbol of the motherhood that is the foundation of all life. She is the source of all love, and her heart is full of compassion for all those who are in need. She is the protector of the weak, and the defender of the oppressed. She is the light that guides the way for those who are lost. She is the mother of humanity, and she is the symbol of the love that is the foundation of all life.

The Rebel
By TOUGHSTONE

This tale is about a people of the South who are determined to remain free, even though they are outnumbered. They are a people who have been oppressed for generations, and they are tired of being mistreated. They have decided that enough is enough, and they are not going to be mistreated any longer.

But in a neighboring country the people are determined to remain free, even though they are outnumbered. They are a people who have been oppressed for generations, and they are tired of being mistreated. They have decided that enough is enough, and they are not going to be mistreated any longer.

The Norwegian Women's Labor Federates

A few years ago, a national federation of Norwegian women's labor federates was organized. The federation was formed to promote the interests of women workers in Norway. The Chameleon
By NORA GILLESPIE

The Chameleon is a creature that can change its color to match its surroundings. It is a symbol of change, and it is a symbol of adaptation. It is a symbol of the ability to adapt to changing circumstances.

Some Liberties We Have—Not
By THUNDER LEE

As a human being, you have a right to be free. You have the right to speak your mind, and to be heard. You have the right to be treated with respect, and to be treated fairly. You have the right to be free from discrimination, and to be free from violence. You have the right to be free from hunger, and to be free from want. You have the right to be free from fear, and to be free from oppression. You have the right to be free from exploitation, and to be free from slavery. You have the right to be free from torture, and to be free from abuse. You have the right to be free from discrimination, and to be free from violence. You have the right to be free from hunger, and to be free from want. You have the right to be free from fear, and to be free from oppression. NEEDED RECONSTRUCTION IN

PARTY STRUGGLE

Now that the third session has ended the immediate question of the next line of action should be decided. The fact that the Socialists have made a great stride forward in the last year and a half is a matter of common knowledge.

OTHER EDITOR'S SAY

The editors of the Socialist have called a meeting of all the Socialists in the state to discuss the present situation and the future needs of the movement.

Figures Show Renewed Activity

The figures show a renewed activity on the part of the Socialists in the state.
Heroes of today will be Hoboes of Tomorrow—Says Debs

It was a gray day—gray and cold. There was a glint of a snow flurry, but the snow was not falling. The air was too cool for any noticeable moisture to form. The sun was shining, but it was not warm enough to melt the snow on the ground. The wind was blowing, but it was not strong enough to make the snow fly. The trees were bare, but their branches were covered with a thin layer of ice. The birds were flying, but they were not singing. The people were dressed warmly, but they were not shivering. The world was in a state of suspended animation, waiting for the warmth of spring to bring it to life again.

One Idea Man

"One Idea Man," as Debs called him, stood on the corner of the street. He was wearing a coat and hat, and had a thick scarf wrapped around his neck. His face was pale, but there was a fierce look in his eyes. He was looking at the people who were walking past him, but he was not speaking to anyone. He was just standing there, his mind working over the problem of how to save the world.

"It is a question of love and hate," he said. "Of how we can change the world so that it is a better place to live in. We must work to make the world a better place for everyone, not just for ourselves."

Unemployment

"We have come to a point where we must act," he said. "We cannot wait for someone else to do it. We must take action, and we must do it now."

The meeting ended with a cheer from the crowd, and Debs walked off, his mind still racing with ideas for how to save the world.

New York Hotel Workers Strike

Seven thousand members of the I.H.O.W. have begun a strike at the Waldorf Astoria, the Plaza, and the Ritz. The strike is for the purpose of getting a living wage for all hotel workers. The workers are demanding a wage of $2.50 per day, which is the minimum wage for hotel workers in New York City.

Newspapers were filled with reports of the strike, and people across the country were watching to see how it would turn out.

Living Costs Still Going Up

Despite the end of inflation, living costs continue to rise. The cost of food, clothing, and housing has gone up, and many workers are finding it difficult to make ends meet. The government has been working to keep prices stable, but it has not been easy.

Unemployment Approaches "Danger Point"

Twelve States Reported Surplus of 250,000

Washington, Jan. 15—Unemployment is on the increase in several states. The United States Department of Labor reported that the number of unemployed workers in the United States has increased by 250,000 since the beginning of the year. The worst hit state is California, where the number of unemployed workers has increased by 100,000.

The government is still working on ways to help the unemployed, but so far it has not been able to do much.

JAPAN

Japanese military leaders are reportedly planning to launch a major offensive against China later this year. The offensive is expected to be a major test of Japan's military capabilities.

SCANDINAVIA

Visit of Scandinavian Journalists

A delegation of Scandinavian journalists has arrived in the United States to report on the condition of free speech. The delegation, which includes representatives from Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, will be touring the country and talking to people about their experiences with freedom of speech.

"Phrases Versus Facts"

While making his triumphant tour through Italy, President Wilson was accused of being a demagogue. People in the city of Milan. In addressing this audience, President Wilson said:

"I am not a demagogue, I believe in, as anybody else does, the democratic system. I believe in the importance of facts and figures over phrasing by speeches. You can remark on various aspects of the war, but you cannot do so without being aware that the facts are on our side, and that the only way to make them prevail is by the persistence of the people in supporting the principles of the war."

From a Man Who Knows

Albert Einstein, the world's most famous physicist, has written a letter to the president of the United States, urging him to support the development of atomic energy. In the letter, Einstein writes:

"I understand that you are aware of the danger that we face as a result of the development of atomic energy. I believe that it is necessary for our country to continue to develop this technology, but I also believe that we must use it for peaceful purposes only."

Goodword Workers Want Faulkner's Head

Some workers at the Goodword publishing company are demanding the head of Faulkner. They say that he must go, or they will continue to strike indefinitely. The company has asked the workers to return to work, but they have refused.

"Our work is more important than Faulkner's," they say. "He is not the only person who can make a book."

"We are working for a living wage and we will not give up until we get it," they say.
