First News of Debs at Atlanta Is Shorn of Many Privileges

Veteran at Work in Atlanta Prison Divested of Many Accustomed Privileges Granted at Moundsville, Iron Rules Prescribe His Liberties.

Debs has been assigned to clerical work at Atlanta Federal prison.

The secret that has condemned Eugene V. Debs, since his removal from Moundsville penitentiary to Atlanta Federal prison is at last broken through. The Ohio Socialist is privileged to publish the first information that has been available concerning Debs since his removal to the latter institution June 13th, just two months after his term of imprisonment began.

Why Debs was removed suddenly and in such great secrecy from Moundsville, where he has spent 21 years, has been an unsolved puzzle. Most of the conditions of the Atlanta prison have been revealed by the New York Tribune, and the conditions at Moundsville are not so generally known as those of the Ohio Socialist. No one thought of going on a hunger strike the day after his release from Moundsville because there was no information available.

But the paper at the Atlanta prison is a daily paper, and if any such conditions were to be revealed, they would be made known to the general public. No one has asked to be transferred from Moundsville to Atlanta, and the removal has been made at the request of the authorities at Atlanta.

The Socialist in Prison Chosen As Candidate

When he was down in May by the capital congress, he found that a group of prisoners were planning a protest. When he returned from the capital he found that the protest had now been made, and that Debs was chosen as the candidate of the prison.

The protest was made by a group of prisoners who are not reformed criminals, but who are intelligent men. INDUSTRIAL UNIONISM. LET'S STUDY IT

Being a member of the Socialist party and a member of the同盟工潮会, I would like to talk briefly for a few moments about the necessity of industrial unionism. I am going to try to explain what industrial unionism is and what it means to the working class of the world as a whole. I shall also try to explain how industrial unionism has been developed and what its present status is.

Industrial unionism is a movement that seeks to unify all workers in the same industry under one banner. It is based on the idea that workers in the same industry are more likely to have common interests and that they should work together to improve their working conditions and increase their wages. Industrial unionism is opposed to the idea of separate unions for each craft or trade, which is the traditional approach of the labor movement.

The idea of industrial unionism was first developed in the United States in the early 20th century. It was pioneered by Eugene Debs, who was a member of the Socialist party and served as the leader of the Industrial Workers of the World (IWW). The IWW was founded in 1905 as an industrial union and was dedicated to the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of a society in which workers would control the means of production.

Today, industrial unionism is practiced by a number of labor unions in the United States and around the world. It is also gaining popularity in Europe and Asia. However, the movement has faced many challenges, including opposition from employers and government authorities.

It is clear that industrial unionism is one of the most important movements of our time. It offers a way for workers to take control of their own destiny and to create a world in which everyone is treated fairly and with respect. I urge everyone to support industrial unionism and to work toward its realization.

PEACE TIME SEDITION LAWS.

So, it appears, having invaded the peoples of the United States, the mighty British House of Commons has decided to bring the same old nonsense into the United States. The British House of Commons has passed a new law which will allow police to search without warrants and to detain persons at will. This law, known as the "Sedition Law," is designed to silence any opposition to the war, and it has been passed by a vote of 314 to 31 in the British House of Commons. The law allows the police to arrest any person suspected of being a "seditious" person, and it gives the police the power to detain and seize property at will. The law is a direct violation of the right of free speech and the right to assemble peacefully, and it is a clear violation of the rights of the American people. The law has been condemned by many members of the British Parliament, who have argued that it is a direct violation of the rights of the American people. The law is a clear violation of the rights of the American people.
