"Too Much Wheat" - But Millions Starve

The Red Wheel, a Great World Problem

It is in the red wheel, the vast spinning machine, that the problem of how to feed the world is solved. In this wheel, the entire world is turned into a giant factory. Wheat is harvested, milled, baked into bread, and distributed to the people. The wheel is turning at the rate of a billion tons of wheat per year, and it is estimated that the world's population will increase to 10 billion by 2050. This will require an increase in wheat production of 50%.

The solution lies in the development of new strains of wheat that can yield more and be grown in more conditions. This is being done at the National Wheat Research Laboratories, where scientists are working on breeding new varieties that can withstand drought and diseases. The goal is to increase world wheat production by 50% by 2050.

Youth Paper Hit by Post Office

"Young Worker" Declared Unrouteable; Other Red Papers Hit

The Post Office has announced that it will no longer deliver the "Young Worker" newspaper, which is published by the Communist Party. The decision was made after the Post Office received complaints from the public about the newspaper's contents.

REVOLT SPIRIT RISES IN SPAIN

Organized Labor In Anti-Monarchist Movement

SHARP REPRESSIONS ON

MADRID, Dec. 24.—In spite of the efforts of the authorities to stop the growing supply of arms to revolutionists, a new outburst of violence took place this week in the midst of the usually placid life of the capital.

The madrasa of the University of Madrid was burned, and the palace of the minister of the interior was also the scene of disturbances.

The authorities have arrested several leaders of the anti-Monarchist movement, and a number of persons have been Shot.

The jails are crowded with political prisoners, and the government has declared a state of siege in the provinces.

The workers and the working class are united in their efforts to bring about a change in the government.

Lenin or DeLeon?

De Leon and Roots of American Communism

by Herbert Zan

On the occasion of the 50th birthday of the Comintern, theend of a decade is an appropriate moment to review the work of the Comintern. While there is no space here to do so, it is clear that the Comintern has been a major factor in the development of the American Communist movement. It has provided a platform for the discussion of important issues, and has been a source of inspiration for activists. It has also been a source of conflict, with differing views on tactics and strategy. Nevertheless, the Comintern has played a crucial role in the development of the American Communist movement.

In the U.S.

The Comintern was established in 1919 and served as the central authority for the Communist movement in the United States. It was a key institution in the struggle for socialism in the United States, and played a major role in the development of the American Communist movement.

Problems of the Needle Trades

Appeal to Needle Trades Industrial Union

Letter from the Needle Trades Unity League to the General Executive

1. The General Direction:

The Needle Trades Industrial Union was formed in 1912 and is the oldest and largest union of workers in the industry. It represents a wide range of workers, including needle workers, pressers, and operators. The union is committed to the improvement of working conditions and the advancement of the rights of workers. It has a long history of fighting for better wages, improved working conditions, and the protection of workers' rights.

2. The Appeal to the Needle Trades:

The Needle Trades Industrial Union is seeking support from other unions and workers in the industry. We encourage all needle workers to join the union and to support its efforts to improve working conditions and the rights of workers. We believe that the Needle Trades Industrial Union can be a powerful force for change, and we encourage all workers to join us in this struggle.

FRUITS OF THE SPLIT POLICY

by D. Rassovevich

In the last few years, a split policy has been observed in the Needle Trades. This split has resulted in a decrease in the number of needle workers and a decline in the power of the union. However, the Needle Trades Industrial Union has been able to maintain its membership and continue its efforts to improve working conditions and the rights of workers.

ATTENTION

The Needle Trades Industrial Union has called for a meeting of all needle workers to discuss the issues affecting the industry. We encourage all needle workers to attend this meeting and to share their thoughts and ideas.

THE APPEAL FOR UNITY

Third Party and Labor Party Forces Making for the Break-up of the Two-Party System—Perspectives for the Labor Party

By Ben Gitlow

The basis of single-party politics is the fact that, so far as it is possible to keep the masses deceived, there will be no avenues open for opposition. The American people, as a whole, do not understand what is meant by a "two-party system" or what it means under the conditions of a democracy. This is true not only in the United States, but also in the majority of European countries, where the two-party system is the rule. It even exists in countries which claim to be democratic, such as the United States. It is therefore important to understand the nature of the two-party system and its effects on the working class.

The two-party system is based on the concept that there are only two political parties, the Democratic and the Republican. The purpose of this system is to prevent the masses from understanding the real nature of politics and to keep them divided. The two parties are not equal, but one is always the dominant party, while the other is the minority party. This system is maintained by the ruling class, which benefits from it.

The two-party system is maintained by the ruling class, which benefits from it. The two parties represent the interests of the ruling class, which includes the wealthy, the corporations, and the politicians who work for them. They are not interested in the welfare of the working class, but rather in their own interests.

The two-party system is maintained by the manipulation of the masses, who are not aware of the real nature of politics. The ruling class uses the two-party system to keep the masses divided and to prevent them from unite in a common struggle against the ruling class.

The labor party, on the other hand, represents the interests of the working class. It is not interested in maintaining the two-party system, but rather in overthrowing it and establishing a new system of politics that is based on the needs of the working class. The labor party is not afraid to challenge the ruling class, and it is dedicated to the welfare of the working class.

The labor party is the party of the working class, and it is dedicated to the welfare of the working class. It is not afraid to challenge the ruling class, and it is determined to overthrow the two-party system and establish a new system of politics that is based on the needs of the working class.
