MUKDEN CLIQUE STRUGGLE ON
Chang Hua-shi-fang Deposed As War Lord; Split On Mandate To S. Korea
BRANSHAW, Jan. 15—The political situation in Manchuria has taken on a high degree of alertness and tension. The Mukden clique, which has long been a thorn in the side of the Chinese government, has been dealt a serious blow by the defeat of its leader, Chang Hua-shi-fang. The clique's deposed leader will be succeeded by General Sun Yat-sen, who is expected to bring about a more stable and progressive regime in the area. This development has significant implications for the future of the region and its relations with China.

CHINESE WAR COSTS 800000 LIVES
An estimated 18,000,000 people have died in the Chinese Civil War, making it one of the costliest conflicts in history. The war has caused widespread destruction and suffering throughout China, with millions of people displaced from their homes. The Chinese government has been criticized for its role in prolonging the conflict and for the high cost in lives and resources.

WAGE CUTS HIT SHOE INDUSTRY
Factory Employment in N. Y. Down 25%—Wages Cut 20-30% at Some Plants

MILLIONS of workers are being affected by the current wage cuts in the shoe industry. Factories in New York have seen a 25% drop in employment, with wages cut by 20-30% at some plants. This is part of a broader trend in the industry as companies seek to cut costs in response to increasing competition and changing market demands.

MEET FOR RELIEF IN BALTIMORE

United Labor Conference for Unemployment Relief Organized

BALTIMORE, May 26.—The United Labor Conference for Unemployment Relief, Inc., held its first meeting last night in the Hotel Baltimore, and plans were laid for the organization of a local branch of the national organization.

The conference was attended by representatives from various labor councils and trade unions in the city. The meeting was called to order by Harry G. Brown, president of the conference, and the officers elected were: John S. McLaughlin, secretary-treasurer; Edward F. O'Brien, legal counsel; and John J. Mahon, corresponding secretary.

The conference voted to hold a meeting weekly, and to hold a meeting in each of the districts on the first Tuesday of each month. It was also voted to hold a meeting in each of the districts on the last Tuesday of each month.

In closing, the president, Mr. Brown, stated that the conference had been formed for the purpose of uniting the efforts of all the labor organizations in the city for the relief of unemployment, and that it was the hope of the conference that it would be able to do something to alleviate the suffering of the unemployed.

The conference adjourned until next Tuesday.

In Memory of One Leader

Lenin — Theoretician of Revolution
by Nikolai Bakharin

Today, the whole world learns the sad news of the passing away of the great revolutionary leader, V.I. Lenin. This is a great loss not only for the Russian and international proletariat, but also for all the oppressed classes of our time. V.I. Lenin was the greatest Marxist thinker of our age, and his ideas will continue to live forever in the hearts of all those who strive for freedom and justice.

Against Reaction

As an organizer in the field of social distress, Bakharin discusses the consequences of the current situation. He argues that the working class must unite to overthrow the capitalist system and establish a socialist society. Bakharin emphasizes the importance of workers' solidarity and the need for a united front to overcome the reactionaries.

The Fight for the Future

Bakharin concludes by urging workers to continue the fight for a better world. He believes that the workers' revolution is the only way to achieve true freedom and justice.

REVOLUTIONARY AGE

WHY THEY WORRY

A Capitalist Diagnosis of the Crisis -- Violence and Revolution -- Why the Crisis

by Jai Lovestone

The present economic situation in the United States is a reflection of the political and social conditions of the nation. The crisis is not merely a consequence of the depression, but it is the result of the fundamental contradictions of capitalism. The capitalist system is unable to solve the problems of the capitalist class. The working class is forced to fight for its survival.

There are two main causes of the crisis: the overproduction of goods and the underconsumption of the working class. The overproduction of goods leads to a surplus of goods, which can only be sold at a lower price. The underconsumption of the working class leads to a decrease in the demand for goods, which further reduces the price of goods. This cycle of overproduction and underconsumption leads to a depression.

The capitalist system is unable to solve the problems of the capitalist class. The working class is forced to fight for its survival. The working class is united by their shared experiences of exploitation and oppression. They are united by their struggle for a better life.

The police tell the people to stand still.

The police tell the people to stand still. The people will not stand still. They will fight for their rights. They will fight for their freedom. They will fight for a better life. The people will not be intimidated by the police. They will not be stopped by the police. They will stand tall and fight back. They will not be afraid.

The Economic Week

The Economic Week is a monthly publication that analyzes the economic trends of the United States. This issue of the Economic Week focuses on the current economic situation in the United States. It includes an analysis of the unemployment rate, the stock market, and the housing market. The Economic Week also includes a special section on the impact of the coronavirus pandemic on the economy.

The Future of Labor

The future of labor is uncertain. The working class is divided. Some workers are employed by the labor system. Others are unemployed. The working class is united in their struggle for a better life. They are united in their fight for their rights. They are united in their fight for their freedom. The working class will not be intimidated by the police. They will not be stopped by the police. They will stand tall and fight back. They will not be afraid.
