The strike wave has spread rapidly, and a new wave of strikes has set in. The most recent event was the strike of the workers at the Redpath Steel Company, a large steel mill in the city of Detroit. The workers have been on strike for several weeks, and the company has refused to meet their demands. The strike has caused a severe setback to the company's business, and it is likely that the company will be forced to close down. The strike is an example of the growing power of the workers in the country. The strike wave is likely to continue, and it is expected that the workers will demand improvements in their working conditions.

The Economic Week

Fpiration is now being prospected as a consequent remedy. This is especially inspired by the collapse of the stock market, the levels of which have now reached those of 1935 in value. Bonds are still reaching new lows. Public financing for the first nine months has fallen to less than half of its 1935 levels. The new cheapness of private property is the result of a definite move toward productivity. Capitalism is generally approaching the old time lows of 1897 and 1929. The small market is popular. During the week all gains reached new lows. The gold situation is beginning to affect the carefully managed money market. The collapse continues to follow. Inflation is going into extreme threatening stages.
A Discussion With an Intellectual

Communism and Intellectuals

by Will Herberg

We have received the following interesting and stimulating letter from an intellectual and we feel certain that many of you are interested in the following:

"I am grateful to your distinguished paper on the intellectual and its place in our society. As a non-partisan observer, I have taken the liberty of sending you the following letter which reflects my views on the subject.

"I believe that the intellectual is a vitally important part of our society. He is the one who provides the intellectual leadership which helps to shape our values and guide our actions. He is the one who challenges our assumptions and questions our beliefs. And he is the one who helps to create the new ideas and concepts that are necessary for the future.

"But I also believe that the intellectual must be responsible. He must be accountable for the ideas he promotes. He must be willing to take a stand and be willing to be criticized. And he must be willing to work with others to achieve his goals.

"I am confident that the intellectual can play an important role in our society. But he must do so in a responsible and accountable way."

We hope that you will find this letter as interesting as we do.
