SOCIAL DEMOCRAT'S LETTER TO THE CAPITALIST CLASS

The Position of the Univeineous and Useless Owners of Capital in Society Clearly Defined in the Case of the Ungrateful Donkey

By Rev. Alexander

I would like to have a straight talk with you, the capitalist, about the crisis of life and the struggle to live. The daily round of your work, the endless toil, the dog's life is nothing but the drudgery of your existence. Your money is only a means to an end, to earn more money. Your greed knows no bounds, and you are always striving to increase your wealth. You are never satisfied, and your only aim is to accumulate more and more wealth.

Your pleasure is only in the accumulation of wealth, in the increase of your capital. You do not care for the suffering of others, for the misery of the masses. You are only interested in your own gain, in your own comfort, in your own pleasure.

The world is yours, and you rule it with an iron hand. You are the master of the world, the king of the universe. You are the lord of all things, and you control everything. You are the absolute ruler of the world, and you are the only one who matters.

The world is yours, and you control it with an iron hand. You are the master of the universe, the king of all things. You are the absolute ruler, and you are the only one who matters.

But the world is not yours alone. It is shared with others, and we are all equal. We are all one, and we all belong to the same human race. We are all brothers and sisters, and we should all be treated equally.

You are not above the laws of nature, and you cannot escape them. You cannot escape the laws of cause and effect, and you cannot escape the laws of justice. You are subject to the same laws as everyone else, and you must obey them.

But you are not above the laws of nature, and you cannot escape them. You cannot escape the laws of cause and effect, and you cannot escape the laws of justice. You are subject to the same laws as everyone else, and you must obey them.

The world is yours, and you are the masters of it. You are the absolute rulers, and you are the only ones who matter. But the world is not yours alone. It is shared with others, and we are all equal. We are all one, and we all belong to the same human race. We are all brothers and sisters, and we should all be treated equally.

You are not above the laws of nature, and you cannot escape them. You cannot escape the laws of cause and effect, and you cannot escape the laws of justice. You are subject to the same laws as everyone else, and you must obey them.

But you are not above the laws of nature, and you cannot escape them. You cannot escape the laws of cause and effect, and you cannot escape the laws of justice. You are subject to the same laws as everyone else, and you must obey them.

SOCIALIST FLASHLIGHT TURNED OUT IN A LIMP EVENT

FROM NOW HAVING AS THE subject of a statement, the Labor movement, the state of the country, the state of the state about what is going on, and when you vote for the Democratic or Republican party, it is as if you vote for a man — or woman — for state or for house of representatives, and you must vote according to the election results.

The rich, the politicians who serve in a servile way the present system be-cause they are interested in the people's sufferings, and therefore have no fear for the as-yet tiny body of voters, but they are also afraid of the masses and the great numbers.

The poor are not "blinded" and lack knowledge, they are the victims of the present system.

SOCIALIST CLAIMS DISPROVED

The Farmers' Review: The labor movement is changing the economic and social structure of the country, and more they discuss the question the fewer they think it will require time. The Farmers' Review is印 4.5% of the total number of votes cast, and 1.0% of the total number of votes cast in the state of Illinois. This is a class-conscious struggle, and the state of Illinois has been the only state in the union that has ever had a socialist vote. Ten years ago the socialist vote in Illinois was only 2.0% of the total number of votes cast, and 0.5% of the total number of votes cast in the state of Illinois.
