The Tormencies of Hell in a Steel Trust Plant

The campaign orators will soon be coming to your door, and it is necessary that you be prepared with the facts of steel trustbery; and that to "return your trees, and bring out your hoes," to the Republican or Democratic ticket, or whichever you think will give you the most dinner, and not to be carried away by the breeze of justi- tion or the lie of the flies. Voting with a blind eye is not doing your duty, and self-deception will be a counterpart of self-satisfaction. The voters have a right to know what the candidates' plans are, and how they are going to carry them out. The field of politics is too large to be left to the politicians and the newspapers to fill in the blanks. Your duty is to fill them in yourself, and to judge the candidates according to their platforms and their promises.

The newspapers of Chicago have been doing their best to make it difficult for the Illinois Steel Company's agents to sell their tickets. Here, in the Tribune, they have said that this is a movement that the Tribune could not support.

The raising of the cost of living among the employees of the Illinois Steel Company has been going on for some time now, and the newspapers have been very critical of the company's action. The Tribune has even gone so far as to say that the company is trying to make a profit at the expense of its employees.

The problem of the steel trusts is a complicated one, and it is difficult to make a clear distinction between what is good and what is bad. However, it is clear that the steel trusts are using their power to keep the cost of living high, and to limit the wages of their workers. The workers are not being paid a fair wage, and they are not being given the chance to improve their lives. The steel trusts are using their power to keep the cost of living high, and to limit the wages of their workers. Indiana Social Democrats held their first state convention at Elkhart, Indiana, the first such convention to be held in any state in the United States.

The socialists took the lead in the movement, being the best known and most widely distributed party in the state. They have made good progress in the past few years, and are now the third largest party in the state.

The convention voted to adopt the Social Democratic platform, which states that the party is opposed to the war in Europe, and that it supports the working class in its struggle for peace.

The convention also voted to support the socialists in the upcoming elections, and to work for the extension of the socialist movement in the state.

The convention adjourned at 5 p.m.

THE PLATFORM

The Social Democratic Party of America declares that the war is an unmitigated disaster for the working class.

In our economic development an insatiable demand for monopoly and capitalization has been created. In the hope of making even more money, new companies are constantly being formed, while old companies are constantly being taken over by large and medium-sized capitalists.

The platform would be carried on not for profit, but for consumption, when socialized production will be carried on by society in the interest of the community. Production will be under the control of the people and the land will be a public utility of the people.

The platform also demands that the government, under the direction of scientists, should become the most important factor in the economic life of the country.

The platform demands a social revolution of the entire social order, a transformation of the entire social order, a transformation of the entire social order, a transformation of the entire social order.
