JACK POT'S OBSERVATIONS ON THINGS AND PERSONS

INTERESTING TO WORKMEN

erves Tests of Munition Filtered by a Man of Civilized Manners Appeared Aroused in Cell of Cell

Mr. Workman, here is what Man

1s now the year, a young people doing their work, in order to look at the other side of the

Dr. Jack Pot. He is a young brother. I am not sure if I have heard of this before. I think it might be Jack Pot's observations on things and persons.

Mr. Workman says that it is a good thing to be able to look at things from both sides.

He says that it is important to have a different perspective when thinking about work.

Mr. Workman observes that young people need to find a balance between being responsible and being creative.

He suggests that they should be encouraged to think outside the box and try new approaches.

Mr. Workman also mentions how important it is to have a good leader who can motivate and inspire others.

He believes that leaders should be role models for young people and should encourage them to pursue their passions.

Mr. Workman concludes by stating that everyone has the ability to make a difference in the world and that it is up to us to choose how we use that ability.

DEBS STANDS TO THE END

A week ago reference was made in these columns to the expected reply of Debs and of the National American Socialist party to the recent statement of the friendly committee of the Democratic party. It was well known that the Socialist party for a number of years has been in favor of an alliance with the Democratic party, and it was further known that Debs and his associates were desirous of bringing about such an alliance; but never was there so much question as to the exact manner in which the alliance would be brought about or as to the precise terms on which it would be carried into effect.

Debs went to Chicago from Denver for a National American Socialist convention, and it was expected that he would make a complete statement as to the attitude of his party toward the Democratic party. It was well known that Debs and his associates were desirous of bringing about such an alliance; but never was there so much question as to the exact manner in which the alliance would be brought about or as to the precise terms on which it would be carried into effect.
