WAGES AND PRICES

How the Money Lender is a “Fellow Biter on the Fence”

By George 1. Midwood

"It seems to me as if the very devil was after the business," he said, "that is the impression I get from talking to people. When the price of labor rises, they say we are inflationists and try to blame it on us. But if wages drop, they say we are deflationists and try to blame us. Yet I have always tried to do the best for the laboring man."

It seems to me that the average person has a misunderstanding of the work of the money lender. He believes that he is a mere speculator in the money market, but he is much more than that. He is a financial engineer who can help to stabilize the economy and prevent wild fluctuations in prices.

I want to explain how the money lender can help to stabilize the economy. When there is a boom, he can lend money to people who want to start new businesses. When there is a depression, he can lend money to people who need to keep their businesses going. By this means, he can help to prevent the extremes of boom and depression which are so harmful to the economy.

But I must say that I do not think the government should interfere too much with the money market. It is dangerous for the government to try to control prices by means of tariffs and other devices. The money lender is much better qualified to do this job.

The money lender is a man of character and integrity. He should be trusted to do what is best for the country. It is time that people should learn to respect the work of the money lender.

PROFESSOR IMPROVED MADISON

The Van Horne (Ga.) Enterprise gives the following account of a new invention by a local citizen:

"Mr. J. B. Van Horne, a well-known inventor, has patented a new device for improving Madison. He has created a machine that will automatically adjust the temperature of the city to a comfortable level. This invention will greatly enhance the quality of life in Madison, and we are proud to support our local innovator."

I am not sure about the practicality of this invention, but it is always nice to see the city being improved in some way. It is true that Madison has been facing some climate challenges, and this invention could be a welcome solution.

I wonder if there is any scientific evidence to support the claim that this device will work. It seems like a very ambitious project, and I hope that it will be successful.

ILLINOIS CAMPAIGN

For the week ending Sept. 17:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>party</th>
<th>total</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Dem</td>
<td>$3,200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rep</td>
<td>$2,500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indep</td>
<td>$1,800</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Illinois campaign is heating up, and we can expect a lot of activity in the coming weeks. It will be interesting to see how the candidates fare.

I hope that the Illinois campaign will be a healthy debate of ideas and policies. It is important that the people have a say in the future of their state.

I would like to see a fair and transparent campaign, with no dirty tricks or misleading advertising. It is crucial that the voters have access to accurate information.

We should remember that the Illinois campaign is not only about the candidates. It is also about the issues that affect our lives. We should be vigilant and informed voters, and we should demand that our representatives act in our best interests.

LONGER, MORE LIGHT

A suggestion to Socialists Societies and Branches of the Social Democratic Party

By Interlaken

What is Socialism?—Socialism is a system of production and distribution of goods. It is characterized by the following features: production for use, allocation by need, and distribution by work. The goal of Socialism is the equal distribution of wealth and the basic needs of all individuals.

What is Social Democracy?—Social Democracy is a political movement that advocates for the gradual transition to Socialism. It seeks to achieve Socialism through democratic and peaceful means. Social Democrats believe in the importance of the working class and the need for workers' organizations.

The Longaberger Company is a Social Democratic business. It is owned by the workers and run by a democratically elected board of directors.
