While the rate of interest slower than it was and while it is true that capital is content with smaller may may of profit, the fact is that to counterstance this, all successful profit-skiming business is run on a larger and more unuses acale than was formerly the case. Thus the little store with its few customers a day, and hours of inactivity for its ders, is slowly drifting to sure and certain bankruptcy, whilst in the department of the profits of business—a high-tension state of trade, and it is a game that is surely using us to a better state. The big find of business—will smallow each other. It is all preparing the way for Socialism, and the quicker the pace the sooner it will be over and the shorter will be the sounding transition period.

In Massachusetts there is a law requiring all employers of labor to grant their men two hours on election day on which to vote. This is a concession forced from capitalism—a sop thrown to also to keep it quiet, but in Massachusetta, it appears, labor made mighty good use of it. It class conscious labor was in cantro of legislation it would not make it we free hours but the whole day, for cettaily so important a day as election day should be a holiday. We hope to force the new legislature in Wisconsin to mat some concession along this line—it not all day, then two hours.

Then President Hoosevelt heard the stans from all over the country and the Republican successes, he made at a gambler's phraze and said that a Republican party would have to make good." . Is Monarchy Before Us? .

Opponents of city ownership set up the specious plea that such ownership is of no benefit to the working class because the saving in the service simply relieves the taxpayers, the workers being, as a rule, non-taxpayers. Yet this very claim is a confession that city ownership saves money for the city, instead of the service being used by private capitalists to extract profits out of the community. Those who oppose municipal ownership are pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for the capitalists who fatten on the municipal stupidity of the people. Such is the case with the asphalt trust, for in the case with the asphalt trust, for in the case with the asphalt trust, for in the case with the clectric lighting company and the gas company. And take the quasi-public service companies, of which the telephone company is an example. Such monopolies should be taken out of private hands. The public mind is moving in that direction. And the direction is right. Monarchy is sometimes hinted at as a possible refuge from the power of the pasple. I would scarcely be justified ests I to omit exercising a warning tie the effort to place capital above labor in the structure of the government. I bid the laboring people because of surrendering a power which possess. For when it is surrendered their liberty will be lost.—Lincian, 1965.

The use of soft coal, by reason of the coal famine, has brought the chimney sweep back into his old-time prominence as a benefactor of the race. Under Socialism such occupations as chimney sweeping will be done away with, because it is not a healthy occupation. Under Socialism the inventive genius of the people will be directed toward developing machinery that will do the dirty, disagrecable and dangerous work, and set free the men in those employments and transferring them to other rund more pleasurable work.

We want to serve fair warning on the politicians. The Social Democratic party will have none of them. If it did it could develop politicians of its own, but it has a deep prejudice against the tribe and will keep them out at all hazards. In some of the wards of Milwaukee the old-party politicians are so shaken up over the Socialist gains and see such a hope-

Stephen Bull of Racine will give that city a park of 100 acres. Mr. Bull is a millionaire and an octogenarian. He is one of the owners of the Case threshing machine works and the Milwaukee Harvester works, the latter one of the most soulless exhausters of labor in this city. But who, actually, gives that park to Racine. None else than the workers, all of whom are quite sure to go down to unglorified graves when their careers of exploited energy run their natural or unnatural courses.

The above falls from the lips of a capitalist, of course—an interested party. It is a familiar piece of cant. It sounds nice to talk of labor and capital being in partnership, it soothes the poor, weary, despairing worker and makes him forget his rags. But his contentment, even for the time being, is a criminal contentment, for he becomes party to the great crime of capitalistic exploitation through which men, women and children are being ground to bits by the great institution of private ownership of capital. If labor and capital were in a real partnership labor would not receive a mere 17 per cent, of the product of that "partnership."

Jay Cooke, the veteran Pennsylvania financier and legal gambler, says the coal strike should have never been begun and some other things he says are sufficiently significant to deserve a little attention. He says:

· Capitalism Is Doomed. ·

"I do not see how any intelligent man can expect the existing order of things to continue much longer, or how any humane man can desire that it should. Nor does it require very much prophetic fore sight to see that it will not."—Prof. Chas. W. Pearson, recently removed from the Northwestern University for

He says:

"Supposing I had been in the position of these operators, I would have called the men up and said: "Well, boys, what do you want?" "An eight-hour day and 20 cents more on the ton." "That is too much, boys. We employers work ten to twelve hours a day, and we get only our bread and butter, just as you do. All the rest is vanity. But let us say a nine-hour day and 20 cents on the ton." And THEN I'D ADD THAT 20 CENTS TO THE PRICE OF COAL, AND THE PUBLIC WOULD PAY IT. There would be no strike."

This is not so shocking after all. It is simply according to the gospel of business. It is business morality to keep up the profits of capital by making someone else pay. When the capitalist becomes benevolent he simply robs Peter to pay Paul, and he does it so slyly that Peter doesn't see the game. The fact is the coal barons are now doing just what Cook suggests. They are making the dear people pay for the cost of the coal strike. How do you like it?

Rabbi Hirsch of Chicago preached a sermon on "Judaism and Socialism" the other day in which he said that there was a remarkable likeness in the two systems. "The ultimate note of our religion is true, humane, enlightened Socialism." And this was said in a city whose daily press and low-browed police captains used to take delight in painting collectivists as enemies of society.

Labor did some more waking up last week, but it is not yet sufficiently wide awake to conserve its own interests. In Wisconsin, for instance, labor must again this winter go down on its knees to representatives of capitalism and BEG for labor laws. What a spectacle! And labor has votes enough and to spare to put its own representatives in the Legislature. And this is a great nation of workers and the next Congress will again present an almost unbroken line of capitalistic representatives!

Some of the successful Republican candidates in Milwaukee have filed schedules of their campaign expenses. Almosz without exception they spent over $1000 each. In other words, it cost them over $1000 to help people make up their minds how to vote. It was very kind of them, for otherwise the people might not have known their own minds and voted Social Democratic!

Labor, starving amidst plenty, is the best picture our present boasted civiliza-tion is able to present. Such a condition cannot endure, and it ought not to.

WHY SOCIALISM IS IRRESISTIBLE IN AMERICA.

On the day after election Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, addressed the students of Yale College, and had the following to say regarding Socialism;

"I believe the movement toward Socialism in this country to be irresistible and I believe, too, that IT OUGHT NOT TO BE RESISTED.

"I believe every great question, as this one, will be debated by the American people and solved peaceably by them. You may think, as I do, that it is easier for me to settle this question on this platform than in the factory. The real solution must be worked out in the factory by real men.

"It is just as necessary to have an organization of labor to carry on a great factory as it is to have an organization of capital. And shall such organization be one of autocracy or of democracy? The peril to America is not in the greatness of the organization, but in the direction which it shall take. Believe me, this movement toward organization is not alone irresistible, but it is beneficial.

"There are 19,000 stockholders in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; there are 19,000 employes of the road. The owners are organized; why should not the employes be organized? Why should they be organized? The trades unions answer this by saying: The man of great business ability and much money puts his money into the stock of a company, and the widow with no business knowledge and little money puts her money into the same company and all is managed by a board of directors which both the rich business man with money and the widow with money trust to do their business honestly.

"So, too, the workman—one a good one, able to earn large wages, the poorer one able to earn less wages—believing that it will be better for both and all, pool their abilities and issues and form a union, and place its direction in the hands of their most competent men—just as the rich man and the poor widow pool their money and place it in charge of directors.

"But we must control, as a people, these organizations, both of capital and of labor. Government of the people must prevent monopoly in the life necessaries by law and regulation, and must prevent crime in a corporation or in a labor union. Law must be alike enforced for the rich and the poor, the employer and the employe."

Coming the day after election, when the report of Socialist gains from all over the country were coming in, Dr. Abbott's utterances attracted no little attention and are being reprinted in various newspapers and periodicals. Yet, if Dr. Abbott's conception of Socialism is to be had from the above quotation, then it is no wonder that he believes it "easier to settle the question of Socialism on the platform than in the factory." It would seem to indicate that he is a sharer Supervisor Lenicheck has prepared four bills for presentation at Madison which are in the right direction. One is in line with our platform demands calling for free attorneys for the poor in civil courts. The second calls for public officers to investigate factory accidents and to supply information to offset the information usually prepared by employers which is used in "vsuits to the employe's disadvantage. I'he employe's attorneys, as a rule, are shut out from collecting evidence inside the factories. The third calls for an enlargement of the scope of the county hospital so that people of small means can be treated at cost. The fourth provides for the taking in of aged people of small means at the county almshouse without their being a county charge—which is not so desirable as the others. One of the happy results of last Tuesday is that those who cast their first vote for Socialism read the election returns with a feeling of exultation and expectancy for the future. Not one of them felt for a minute as if he had the word of them felt for a minute as if he had the word of the state was about $950, while the expension of the future of the had the word of the capitalist parties are wondering how we did it.

in the general misconception of Socialism that obtains even among prominent educators and writers. Socialism is not merely a demand that the factory operatives shall be organized and have equal rights with the stockholding and directing capitalists; it is a demand that the capitalists themselves shall disappear from off the face of the earth, that they shall no longer stand between the hands of the workers and their mouths, so to speak. When Dr. Abbott says, "Law must be alike enforced for the rich and the poor, the employer and the employe," he is demanding nothing that appeals especially to the Socialist.

Why should there be rich, and why poor? is a question that must be first settled before we can even contemplate such a thing as just laws. A strict enforcement of the existing laws would not wipe out capitalism-the exploitation of labor, far from it. The workers, the producers, would still be legally permitted to remain poor.

"But we must control, as a people, these organizations, both of capital and of labor," says Dr. Abbott. This seems to be his idea of Socialism!

The movement toward Socialism is, indeed, irresistible. But there is much more to it than good old Dr. Abbott suspects. It proposes to wrest from selfish, profit-grabbing hands the productive forces of society and to abolish classes, especially the entire capitalist class, by vesting the ownership of all wealth used to produce wealth (capital) in the people. With the coming of Socialism will disappear the fine gentlemen who disport themselves at Newport, at Monte Carlo, at horse shows and charity balls, and who live in luxuriant idleness while Labor toils and sweats and despairs.

We mean to banish poverty, and to raise labor to its proper dignity. To-day wage-labor is the badge of "non-success." The man who labors hasn't been sleek enough to put his fellows under tribute, and our commercial morality rates him accordingly. The government statistics show that the vast majority of men today are "failures." Is it any wonder the movement toward Socialism is irresistible? And Socialism will come as an historical necessity. As has been well said, the real danger to society will lie in opposing it.

We are thankful to Dr. Abbott for pointing out the inevitability of Socialism, but we can but wish that as a teacher of men, he might himself have clearer ideas as to the real meaning of the Social Democratic movement.

An Appeal to the Young Men.

Young men, life is before you. Two voices are calling you—one, coming from the swamps of selfishness and force, where success means death, and the other, from the hilltops of justice and progress, where even failure brings glory. Two lights are seen in your horizon—one the fast fading marsh light of power, and the other the slowly rising sun of human brotherhood. Two ways lie open for you—one leading to an even lower and lower plane, where are heard the cries of despair and the curses of the poor, where manhood shrivels and possession rots down the possessor; and the other leading off to the highlands of the morning, where are heard the glad shouts of humanity and where honest effort is rewarded with immortality.—John P. Altgeld.

"Any increase in wages will necessarily increase the price of coal to the public." says "Divine Right" Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal Company, in his reply filed with Roosevelt's commission, in answer to the demands of the mine workers. Good for Baer. All honor to a fleecer honest enough to come to the dividence of the mine workers. However, we will be the mine workers of the mine workers. However, we will be truth! This man Baer, wallowing in his millions fleeced from Labor both as producer and consumer, coolly both as producer and consumer, coolly both as producer and consumer, coolly the selection of the producer of the selection of the selection. It is well that the people should get the truth direct from the capitalists themselves. We Socialists have pointed it out enough times, of course, but now people must believe it, when it comes direct from the camp of the capitalists. All the monsters of history pale before the Twentieth century monster of capitalism. Speaking of work hours, Baer says: Speaking of work hours, Baer says

Speaking of work hours, Baer says:
In general, we deny that, in so far at they relate to anthractte mining, that the ten-hour day is detrimental to the health life, safety and well-being of the min workers; that shorter hours improve the hylsical, mental and moral conditions of the workers; that shorter hours increase the intensity and efficiency of labor; that working day of less than ten hours will we of any advantage to the workmen engaged in and about the anthracite mine and colleties. In some exceptionally chausting work a day of ten hours is to long, but there is no exhausting labor which institutes a reduction of hours of work in the anthracite coal operations.

Considering the way the stupid masse send the Herald eight months to five secretaries, five dollars to twenty-five— which means the introduction of Socialism into twenty-five unions. A secretary converted will surely convert his mates.

Considering the way the stupid mass

Considering the way the stupid masses of Pennsylvania voted last Tuesday—less than 2000 Socialist votes in the great city of Philadelphia, for instance—Baer evidently thinks anything will go down the peop; throats. Ten hours' daily toil in the damp and dark and dust and gases of a coal mine is not detrimental to the health of the miners, says stony-hearted, money-drunk Baer! Think of it! And it is notorious that as a class the miners are practically dying off inch by inch with lung troubles. It is one of the disgraces of this age that society does not step in and prevent men from living their lives in those awful coal burrows and from perpetuating their kind. But if the people only get the coal, the plight of the miners will soon be forgotten, save by the Socialists. Mark the prediction!

Now that election is over and the Republican party's interests are not in jeopardy, the mine owners are preparing to show the Roosevelt commission who is who and what is what. More and more it is clear that the miners were tricked into giving in to the capitalists and that the hope held out of shorter hours, better any and fairer treatment was a game of the capitalist politicians in conference with Roosevelt. There was never a worse sell-out of labor. When the capitalist press unite in flattery over Mitchell, labor has a right to be mistrustful. We do not mean to say that Mitchell was bought, but we do insist that he was tricked and tricked badly. He was not equal to the occasion or to the responsibility of his position, and the poor wretches—our fellow men, women and children—who must now return to the old life underground under the old con-ditions, have only short-sighted leader-ship to thank for it.

It is a sign of the times when the Teachers' Association of Chicago vote to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. School teachers labor as well as manual laborers and are fearfully exploited. When they can put aside alfoolish notions of caste and make common cause with others who labor and are exploited, it means that the day when labor will rule is not for off. In no other way can the workers break down the terrible thievery of capitalism so quickly as by making use of their numerical might. This action of the Chicago teachers will be followed by some other surprises. surprises.

Under the present system capital expands at the expense of labor—at the expense of the people. The pinched, impoverished, discouraged worker is a certificate that somewhere some other human being is luxuriating on unearned wealth. Against such a system Socialism launches its challenge to battle and will fight the thing till it is driven off the globe. We will give no quarter and show no mercy. We cannot be cajoled or intimidated. We will brave even death, if need be.

Socialism has been diligently studied by all classes of people. A few Socialists, especially Messrs. Nishikawa and Katayama and two or three Socialists from the working class, have been very actively engaged in the agitation for Socialism and labor movement. They are holding two or three Socialist meetings in the city and getting ever increasingly a good audience each time. It has been permeating the minds of working classes with Socialism and its future.—Labor World, Japan.

The Daughters of the Revolution in Milwaukee recently had a spasm because a public speaker happened to step on the hem of an American flag used to drape the speaker's stand at a political meeting. Trying to make the flag so accord that it must be worshipped, you meeting. Trying to make the nag so meeting. Trying to make the nag so sacred that it must be worshipped, you know. And under that flag murder has been done in the Philippines! And the same of the flags now in us been done in the Philippines! And a large amount of the flags now in use are made by little children in New England factories, working for $1.25 a week! The right way to protect the flag is to fight the injustices over which it proudly waves.

The evenness of the vote in this state and evenness of the vote in this state, as well as elsewhere, shows that Socialists do not vote for individuals as individuals, but as representatives of a movement for a social reconstruction. It was Socialism the voters voted for.

itchell It is a fine civilization that sacrifices its children to the greed of the factory ponsipoor and mine barons, now don't you think so!

You mave have guessed it before this, but this paper has a wholesome contempt for the so-called representative business man. Who is he but a shark among men. Who but a smiling vampire on the public, an octopus whose tentacles reach unseen into almost everyone's pocket and till! Why are there laws against bri'ery? Because our representative business men, banded together into irresponsible and soulless corporations, are constantly trying to corrupt the people's representatives. The most of the laws on the statute books are put there to curb the dishonest and wolfish aggressions of the "representative business man"—to protect the lambs and little wolves against the big ones. And the worst of it is, the big wolves enjoy security from molestation because the present system is so immoral that it forces the lambs and little wolves to wish they were big wolves! Their chance of becoming big wolves, however, is daily growing less, and this is civilization's gain, for it makes them rebel against the man-spoiling system and gives their better nature a chance to assert itself and to cry out for a clean world and for brotherly love between men. They are crying out for Socialism.

Election is over. The results are highly gratifying.
But with the big increase in votes comes an increase of responsibility. How shall the voters be made more intelligent, from the Saciolist standpoint? The good of the cause demands that every man who votes Socialistic shall also think Socialistic and see conditions with the analytical eyes of the Socialist.

The trust is an improved tool of production, just as the machine is an improvement over the old hand tool. The trust is organizing industry so as to eliminate the wasts of competition. When it has organized production to the proper point the people through the state can take possession. The trust is a factor in industrial evolution, appearing on the scene on scheduled time and so historically necessary, that it cannot be dislodged until its mission is fulfilled.

One of the neat, crafty little objections to Socialistic control of government before Socialism is actually ushered in, is that it will be more expensive. This we deny. However, in one way it will be, for salaries will be undoubtedly raised and hours lessened. But other economies, such as cutting off the graft of profit-grabbing contractors and the like, will more than make up for it.

THE WESTERN LABOR MOVEMENT. Eugene V. Debs contributes to the In ternational Socialist Review an article on the action of conventions of the American Labor Union and the Western Federation of Miners in coming out for Socialism, and in criticism of the action of the headquarters of the Socialist party at St. Louis in taking official action against the move. We have not room for the article entire, but the following excerpts will give the reader an idea of the stand Comrade Debs takes:

Stripped of unnecessary verbiage and free from subterfuge, the Socialist party has been placed in the attitude of turning its back upon the young, virile, class-conscious union movement of the West, and rawning at the feet of the "pure and simple" movement of the East, and this anomalous thing has been done by mer who are supposed to has been done by men who are supposed to stand sponsor to the party and whose ut-terance is credited with being ex cathedra upon party affairs.

They may congratulate themselves that upon this point at least they are in perfect accord with the capitalist press, and also with the "labor lieutenants," the heachmen and heelers, whose duty it is to warn the union against Socialism and guard its members against working-class political action.

men and heeiers, whose duty it is to warn the union against Socialism and guard its members against working-class political action.

The writer takes issue with these comrades upon this vital proposition; and first of all insists that they (including the members of the Quorum) speak for themselves alone, as they undoubtedly have the right to do, and that their declaration in reterence to the American Labor Union is it in any matter binding upon the party, nor is the party to be held responsible for the same.

As a matter of fact the rank and file of the Socialist party, at least so far as I have been able to observe, rejoice in the action of the Denver convention, hall it as a happy augury for the future and welcome with open arms the Western comrades to fellowship in the party.

"Why didn't they stay in the Federation of Labor and carry on their agitation there?
Why split the labor movement?" This is made the burden of the opposition to the Western unionists who refused to be assimilated by Mark Hanna's "Civic Federation"—the pretext for the scant, half-hearted recognition of their stalwart workingclass organization and their ringing declaration in favor of Socialism and in support of the Socialist party.

And this objection may be dismissed with a single sentence. Why did not those who urge it remain in the Socialist Labor Party and carry on their agitation there? Why split the A. F. of L. has been the aggressor, forming dual unions and where the A. F. of L. has been the ag gressor, forming dual unions and through its officers making threats of extermination. It is also shown that in the labor troubles of the East the Western unions have always sent contributions with true brotherly feeling and the claim is made that no such appear for West. is made that no such support for Western unions on strike has been received from the East. Mr. Debs continues:

When the American Federation of Labor sheds its outgrown "pure and simple" pol ley, when it declares against the capitalis system and for union, class-conscious action system and for union, class-conscious action at the ballot box, as the supreme test of union principles, as the American Labor Union has done; when it relegates "leaders" to the rear who secure fat offices for themselves in reward for keeping the rank and file in political ignorance and industrial slavery, when it shall cease to rely upon ethinging lobbying committees, begging, like Lazarus at the gate of Dives, for a bone from a capitalist Legislature and Congress it helped to elect, and marshals its members in class-array against their exploiters on election day to vote their own class into power, then unity will come and the Western men will hall with joy that day And it is coming. It is simply bound to come. In the meantime there need be no quar-

ern men will hall with joy that day And it is coming. It is simply bound to come. In the meantime there need be no quarrel between the East and West and there will be none unless the threatened attempt to "snuff out" the West should materialize, in which case the "snuffers" will be entitled to the credit of having inspired a refreshing exhibition of the "staying" qualities of the class-conscious trades-union movement of the Western state.

The speaking tour of the national officers and executive council of the American Federation, in the mountain states, following the Denver couvention, and widely heraided by the capitalist press as an "uprising of the conservative element of organized labor to squeich the Western radicals" can claim anything but a victory if that was the programme of President Gompers and his colleagues. Some of their meetings, with all the advertising they received, scarcely amounted to a "corporal's guard," and where they had hundreds, the meetings held under the auspices of the Western Union and them the author of capitalist politicians. As to whether the Western movement is growing or decilining since the Denver convention, it is sufficient to say that the reports show that during the month of September the organizations affiliated with the American Labor Union added more than 4000 new names to their rolls of membership.

tween various labor organizations. He says:

The attitude of the Socialist Party toward the trades-unlym movement broadly endorsing and complending it, but stopping there, and silowing it to manage its own internal affairs is, without doubt, the correct one, as any intermeddling must result in harm with no possible hope of good. The party, as such, haust continue to occupy this friendly yet non-interfering position, but the members may, of course, and in my judgment should join the trades-unlons East and West and North and South and put forth their best efforts to bring the American labor movement to its rightful position in the struggle for emancipation.

The British Socialist papers bring news of re-elections of Socialists in West Ham, England. This gives the lie to the article that the capitalistic papers have been industriously circulating about Socialism having been given a trial at West Ham and proving a signal failure. Of course Socialism could not have been given a trial there or any-where else, for it is a change which so-ciety itself must make—a growth of so-ciety from capitalism into a higher stage. It could no more be given a trial in our isolated district than you could color a spot in the ocean purple and expect it to stay so without being and expect it to stay so without being obliterated by the surrounding water. It would be just as sensible to expect a leaf to live independently of the tree of which it is a part. At West Ham not Socialism, but Socialists, were on trial, and their re-election is the best reply the people there can make to the story about their having been a failure. Now that Socialism is strong in this country and likely to put the old parties to rout, we may expect all sorts of untruths to be circulated by the capitalistic press in an effort to give the movetic press in an effort to give the move-ment a black eye. Be on your guard, we shall be glad to dissect any such article our readers may clip and send

We expect to give our readers some interesting facts about the New Orleans convention of the American Federation onvention of the American Federation of Labor, now in session, in our next issue. At its conclusion, Comrade Victor L. Berger will furnish a critical article giving the reader a correct estimate of the importance of these yearly labor meetings and in what ways the fall short of serving the true labor in terests. Pietro Mascagni, the world-famous composer, declares hand organ popularity is the best for a composer. He explains it after this fashion: "The most democratic lastrument in the world is the hand organ. Hand organs go among the most democratic people and cannot carry anything to them but the simplest, the best known, the truest music. It is, therefore, true that the music thus carried by this most democratic of instruments to the most democratic of people is heard by the largest number of attuned ears and is therefore the most popular. Hand organ popularity therefore is the truest of musical composition."

* * JAMES CREEI MAN HAS A LUCID MOMENT. * * *

What happened last Tuesday all over the country-not the triumph of one ving of capitalism over the other, but the real significant thing about this great interstate assembling of the ballots-the great gain of the Social Democrats, is well summed up and set forth by James Creelman, the well known free lance of the New York World. As an introduction to an interview with well known Socialists, under the black-letter heading, "Five Million Socialists Here," mean-

"The impressive reply which Socialism made to the trust system in its enormously increased vote throughout the country on Tuesday, followed by Dr. Lyman Abbott's dramatic declaration that the Socialist movement would prove to be irresistible in America, has suddenly arrested the attention of thinking men to the swiftly growing strength of the co-operative republic idea.

"The fact that the Socialist vote was large enough, as a balance of power, to have controlled the election in New York and aimost in Massachusetts brings Socialism at once into the field of practical politics. There is hardly a political leader who does not recognize the threatening aspect which the new movement has assumed, and the vote in several of the states has aroused the Socialists to a high pitch of enthusiasm and hope.

"The Socialist leaders are preparing to carry on their work on a wider scale."

"The Socialist leaders are preparing to carry on their work on a wider scale from this time forth and to contest ground with the Republican and Democratic

"The commanding fact, however, is that there are nearly 5,000,000 persons in the United States who call themselves Socialists—that the prejudice against the name and the central idea is rapidly disappearing."

But there is another "commanding fact" that Creelman overlooks, which is that capitalism is so self-satisfied and confident of its power to control people's opinions, that it will not begin to actually fight Socialism until after it, Socialism, has grown to such formidable strength as to be quite ready for the battle. Capitalism's little affair with Populism has made it oversure of its ground. But Populism was not a constructive movement, nor did it have back of it the forces of evolution. It was a movement of protest, but nothing beyond that. Its goal was therefore office, not industrial and social reconstruction, and it was thus easily to be corrupted and then disarmed and routed. In the Socialistic movement capitalism has no such vulnerable foe. With the zeal and the determination of the Crusaders and the logic of events to sustain it, Socialism will not down, nor cower before capitalism's savage visage, nor be caught off its guard by crafty blandishments or temptations. When capitalism and Socialism once really grapple, Socialism will have secured the strangle hold.

Socialist Press on the Election.

Socialist Press on the Election.

The results of the election are such that all those who stand for true progress are nighly gratified. While returns are coming in somewhat slowly, enough is known to establish the fact that the political movement of the working class, where organized into the Socialist party or an independent labor party, has made a distinct advance despite all obstacles. That the old party politicians and editors have received an unpleasant shock is plainly apparent in their interviews and editorials. They freely admit that the great social questions of the day have developed into issues that must be met, and credit for this fact must be given the awakened working class, which has begun to assert its independence and demand its rights and revoits at the thought of being regarded as working and voting slaves.

Taking a general survey of the country from an old party point of view, the Republicans are more firmly in the saddle than ever. Their claim of having creared and fostered prosperity—although the working class produces the wealth—was accepted, and the radical or so-called retorm element that rebelled has returned to the fold. The Democracy has had its hopes dashed to the earth, and the ract that stands out plainest on the face of the returns is that where the radical wing of that party was in control, notably in the West, it was almost completely routed, while the conservative element in the East made surprising inroads on the Republicans. It is apparent, therefore, that the "reorganizers have smooth sailing.—Cleveland Citizen.

and liberty is our watchword. We have no time to lose.—Bothwestern Advocate Socialism has made great gains throughout the country, and especially here in Massachusetts, for 1902. It is probably just as well that the responsibilities of socialled prosperity should be left with the Republican party. To be sure it is a prosperity with a 5 or 10 per cent. Increase in wages and a 30 to 40 per cent. Increase in wages and a 30 to 40 per cent. Increase in the cost of living, but it is considered prosperity. When the dream breaks, and the consequences of allowing capitalism to rule this lend appear in a business panic, or agreat railway or other strike, it is right that the party which takes the credit for good crops and so-called prosperity should have the blame. There is a limit to the wealth is concentrated as it is now. Just as sure as the sun rises, the crash is coming. The banks never were in so poor condition to meet an emergency. Nothing can quiet the irrepressible conflict between labor and capital, but the collective ownership of the means of production and distribution. Socialism is just as surely coming, and coming speedily, as the laws of economics are resistless in their action.—Wairen, Mass., Herald.

tion is almost invariably followed by a reaction in favor of the other party at the next congressional election. The reasons of this are not far to seek. But it is not necessary to recount them here. We merely refer to the indisputable fact.

It might reasonably have been expected that the Democrats, simply through the force of this ordinary reaction, would carry several important Republican states and would nearly if not entirely whe out the Republican majority in Congress.

That they did not succeed in doing this constitutes a defeat for the Democrats. It is quite proper that Grover Cleveland's letter should sound more like a dirge than a rallying cry.

The simple fact is that the Democratic party is making the hopeless attempt to ride two horses, to serve God and the Mammon of Unrighteousness at once, to be at the same time on both sides of the now unbridgeable and widening chasm between the working class and the capitalist class.

Milwaukee, Oct. 20.—Social Democratic Heraid: In looking over the news of the day and not otherwise employed I observe that Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury, as guest of a Republican Club of Massachusetts, discusses the evil tendency of Trusts to a body of well-to-do-men, 700 in number, who sat down to dinner with a sumptuous supply of the choice edibles of his globe and not one man so seated was there in search of a laborer's daily wage; All well provided for otherwise. Mr. Shaw in his speech dwells largely on the sugar industry and steel trusts; he believes in competition and in American competition, in which American arrisans will not be forced to the street again to beg. while foreign workmen supply the limited needs of a paralyzed country. He repeats existing laws against Trusts are being vigorous ly enforced. This policy he states must be continued and the laws themselves; he said, I doubt if the government can profitably dictate either the width of the track, or weight of the iron, or the size of the ship, or the capital to be employed in an industry. Why should Mr. Shaw doubt when there is nothing; to prevent government from employing the same men to operate the industrial branches as are now menacingly controlled by dubious private ownership; as stock dividends would be out of the question because not in demand by governmental supervision, which solely relies on honestly remunerated labor in lieu of the illigotten, speculative accumulations of finance now given in exchange for the acknowledged parent of all wealth, which is too frequently wasted by commercial gormandizing. It is not long ago when a rumor was afloat that Lord Hopetowa, the Governor General of Australia, who way in receipt of $50,000 a year for his services, desired that his salary be doubled, that he found it insufficient to cover expenses, otherwise would be constrained to resign, and the people thought it would be prudent for his lordship to so, as they could do as well or even better without his lordy than to squander such an inconsistent advance to double his lordship's salary, to aid him in his repeated excessive carousais with droning satelites of the Upper Ten. His lordship delighted in giving such wild carousals, and the tables must be lavishly supplied, with barons of beef; haunches of venison saddles of mutton, turkies, seasonable game salmon, choice confectionary, champagne, port, sherry and all the select imported liquors; in such style were hundreds of aristicratic drones repeatedly feasted, men of high renown who possessed carriages and servants to convey them safely home when top-heavy and weak on the pins; such men never earned a crust they had ate, all abstracted from the proceeds of the laboring sons and daughters of toli; yet in many instances it must be deeply regretted that the artisan appears too dull to observe that such evil communications to his wife and suffering children. But the Australians, be it to their credit in this case, have given a bright example and deserve genuine applause for the rapid strides they are making toward the establishment of a Socialistic commonweaith.

From the State Organizer.

Two new branches within a week of election sets a pretty stiff pace for the organizer, but we'll try to keep it up.

At Whitewater the comrades were so jubilant over their increase from 4 votes jubilant over their increase from 4 votes to 36 that they wanted to organize at once and begin the campaign for the next election. Accordingly I visited them Saturday, November 9, held a meeting that night in Pratt hall with a good and election, and took the names of eleven members, two of them ladies. Comrade Weaver is the moving spirit here, and by means of his stereopticon lectures in the country round about will do much to spread the good tidings among the farmers.

to spread the good tidings among the farmers.

Monday there came a summons to South Milwaukee for that night. Comrade Luke Seidel, brother to our candidate for governor, had been pushing the work, and the vote of 70 there had shown the comrades their own strength. So they were enthusiastic. Comrade Emil Seidel was also present, and after an impromptu concert the business of organization was taken up. Short addresses by Comrade Seidel and the organizer prepared the minds of those present, and over twenty signed the application for charter. There will be more to follow, because many in the communication. to follow, because many in the commu-ity who voted the old party tickets are disgusted with their former actions, and vill come into our party.

South Milwaukee will undoubtedly be South Milwankee will modoubtedly be one of the strong branches.

Meanwhile we know of one or two other places that are only waiting for the coming of the organizer to do just what Whitewater and South Milwankee have done.—Gaylord.

McCartney's Remarkable Run.

kland, Mass., Nov. 5.—There was table landslide for Socialism in this intable landslide for Socialism in this int at the election yesterday, and result was received with the most wand surprise by all factions, including the Socialist themselves. Frederic MacCartney, the Socialist candidate representative, was re-elected to the dature for the fourth time by 281 offity, the largest that he has ever ited. He got 755 votes in Rockland, in Hanover and 84 in Hanson, while down, the Republican, got 491 in thand, 145 in Hanover, and 57 in 181.

Representative McCartney was seen by the Enterprise reporter late last evening at Socianist headquarters. He said:

"I feel very much pleased at the majority, not to speak of the plurality in the district. The Republicans can no langer complacently claim this to be a rock ribbed Republican district.

In speaking of the returns that had come in last night from other parts of the state Representative McCartney said: "I believe that we will absolutely startle the other two parties. I am satisfied that the leaders of the two capitalistic parties will no longer ignore us."

Expect More Next Month.

The large increase in the Socialist vote which was expected by us has caused a sensation, and Republican and Democratic politicians are staggered. The municipal elections occur one month from now and the campaign begins at once. The election of Socialist mayors in Haverhill and Brockton is practically assured already, with chances of further increase in other cities.—Boston Herald.

From the reports in the daily newspapers it is impossible to even estimate the Socialist vote at this time (Nov. 5), but we are confident that the total vote will run between 8000 and 10,000. In counties where large votes were confidently expected there is disappointment in the results given by the newspapers, though in other counties where little or no vote was counted on, there is a good average vote. Under the circumstances, a remarkable showing has been made by the Socialists and there is every reason for the continuance of the work of organization and education and hope for the final triumph of the cause. Only 700 votes were cast for Eugene V. Debs as Socialist candidate for President two years ago, and as we said above, there are between 8000 and 10,000 Socialist votes cast this year. The whole organization of the party and campaign covered a less period of time than four months and the results are extremely satisfactory for such a radical movement. In two or the counties the Democrats and Republicans combined in voting against the Socialist candidates, and in San Miguel dicounty there were over 400 Republican votes cast for the Democratic candidate for representative in order to defeat the

There were 6829 voters who entered the polling booths yesterday, used their consciences and their lead pencils, and informed the great world of the voice of the people, expressed in secret, but with an announcement when the votes were counted which shook the foundations of the prophesies of the past few weeks and made more than one dizzy politician wonder where he was at. ple would desert the old land marks, and it made the Democrat weep and wail and gnash his teeth.

The feature of the election locally yesterday was the greatly increased Socialist vote, which was so large that the party managers have reason to fear the results in the coming municipal election, and it has surely "jarred" those who have been comfortably prophesying results in the old parties in times past. The vote for governor by the energetic party may be taken as the pure Socialist vote. The Socialist candidate, Chase, received 2115, which was second to the vote received by the Republican candidate, who received 2889, while Col. Gaston, the Democratic idol, received only 1542, considerably lower in the figure scale for third place. The Socialists certainly have considerable to crow over, when compared with the Democratic party.

crats why he should have received 2221 votes.

It is when the Socialists scan the votes for senator, however, that they feel like hugging themselves and bursting with joy. Their candidate, Carlton S. Beals, carried the city, getting 2729 votes, and leaving Senator Pratt, the Republican candidate, behind to the tune of 2605 votes. The Democratic candidate, Thomas Hogan, received 1173 votes.

How shall the whole thing be accounted for? It can be stated, without fear of contradiction, that Brockton at the present time is the strongest Socialist city or town in the country. What We Social Democrats Are After.

ables the capitalists to control the product and keep the workers dependent upon them.

Private ownership of the means of production and distribution is responsible for the ever-increasing uncertainty of livelihood and the poverty and misery of the workers, and it divides society into two hostile classes—the capitalists and wage workers. The once powerful middle class is rapidly disappearing in the mill of competition. The struggle is now between the capitalist class and the working class. The possession of the means of livelihood gives to the capitalists the control of the government, the press, the pulpit and the schools, and enables them to reduce the working men to a state of intellectual, physical and social inferiority, political subservience and virtual slavery.

The economic interests of the capitalist class dominate our entile social system; the lives of the working class are reck lessly socrificed for profit, wars are formented between nations, indiscriminate slaughter is encouraged and the destruction of whole races is sanctioned in order that the capitalists may extend their commercial dominion abroad and enhance their supremacy at home.

But the same economic causes which developed capitalism are leading to Socialism, which will abolish both the capitalist class and the class of wage workers. And the restree force in bringing about this new and higher order of society is the working class. All other classes, despite their apparent or actual conflicts, are alike interested in the upholding of the system of private ownership parties, and all other parties which do not stand for the complete overthrow of the capitalist system of production, are alike political representatives of the capitalist class.

The following is the national platform of principles of the Social Democrats: The Socialist party of America, in-national convention assembled, reaffirms its adherence to the principles of International Socialism, and declares its aim to be the organization of the working class, and those in sympathy with it, into a political party, with the object of conquering the powers of government and using them for the purpose of transforming the present system of private ownership of the means of production and distribution late collective ownership of the means of production, is owned by the individual worker. Today the machine, which is but an improved and more developed tool of production, is owned by the capitalists and not by the workers. This ownership enables the capitalists to control the production and distribution is responsible for the ever-increasing uncertainty of livelihood and the poverty and misery of the workers, and it divides society into two hostile classes—the capitalists and wage workers. did as we pleased with the workingmen, or almost so. It didn't work bad. That that is over, thoroughly over, strikes me in the eye; the thing is no longer open to doubt. The workingman has opened his eyes; or at least some people have made it their business to open them for him. He now is conscious of what he is, of his power, of his omnipotence. Henceforth he is to be reckoned with. We long had reason to expect that we would dispose of those trades unious that reared their heads in the face of our authority; we seduced their presidents and brought them over to our side. Gleanings from Busy Socialistic Fields. WATCHES! WATCHES! SAY, YOU SOCIALISTS!

Notes from Yankee-land. Comrade George D. Herron and wife will return from Europe in December. Prof. Peabody of Yale University has written a book showing points of identity between Socialism and Christianity.

How the daily newspapers do try to ignore the gain in the Socialist vote!— Workers' Gazette.

The Republic of Love is the name of a little magazine of Socialistic impulses issued from 121 Fifth street, Milwaukee. It costs $1 a year, and is worth it.

Comrade J. W. Bennett, who has been organizing in Iowa, woke up at night in a hotel at Le Mars to find the place afire. He leaped to safety from the second story, but lost an overcoat and had the outside of his satchel seared. The literature inside was itself pretty hot and the fire passed it by in despair!

At the meeting of the Milwaukee central committee last Monday evening Comrades Ziegler, Wachtel and Heath were named to draw up resolutions relative to the party requirement of a two years membership on the part of candidates. The resolutions will be given to the daily press for the benefit of politicians who are now anxious to get into the party.

The Crusader, official journal of the "Social Crusaders," has discontinued publication. The editor, Comrade Stitt Wilson, gives as a reason for the step the fact that there are now so, many papers open to the pens of the crusaders that a special organ is no longer needed.

Comrade Herron and wife each sent fifty dollars toward furnishing the Mills school building, Kansas City.

school building, Kansas City.

Some of the men forced out of the S.
L. P., through the inevitable conflict of bossism, have organized the Manhattan Socialist Club in New York city. Among the members are comrades Lucian Sanial, Max Forker, Thomas Hickey, Ben Keinard, Arthur Keep, Hugo Vogt, Peter Fiebiger, Peter Damm and others. Among others round the country who are on the outside are Comrades Val. Remmel (the vational vice presidential candidate of the party in 1900), J. R. Pepin, organizer for Ilinois.

A Socialist Sunday school movement.

Pepin, organizer for Ilinois.

A Socialist Sunday school movement, which has been firmly planted in Great Britain for some years, is described in the Boston Congregationalist. The head-quarters of the movement is at Glasgow. In that city there are eight schools, and a half-penny magazine called the Young Socialist is issued. Socialist Sunday schools also exist in London, Liverpool, Bradford and other cities. A little text book of sixteen pages has recently been published, presenting Socialist doctrines in language suited to the minds of children. By these publications the children are taught to hate capitalism, to strive against the "evil giants" of oppression and exploitation, and to help to unite all nationalities and races in the same impulse of brotherly love.—Literary Digest.

A correspondent calls our attention to Digest.

A correspondent calls our attention to an editorial some weeks ago in the Missouri Socialist in which it was intimated that the plan of the Milwaukee Trades' Council for a conference of city central labor bodies to plan municipal moves in the interests of the toiling classes might be a masked scheme of the new American Labor Union to injure the American Federation of Labor. We saw the editorial at the time it appeared, but thought it too stupid and far-fetched to be worthy of notice. The second circular of the Milwaukee Labor Council on the subject of municipal agitation gives the paper in question a chance to square itself if it cares to.

The Socialist measure introduced in the German Reichstag to suspend the duties when syndicates sell abroad more cheaply than at home was defeated by a vote of 166 to 68. Comrade Bebel, one of the Socialist leaders in the Reichstag, in a speech on the measure, said he saw in syndicates and trusts an embryo of the future nationalization of industries and that the government should closely supervise them by commissions.
