Let Us Give Thanks

Let us give thanks that the Working Class is no longer the capitalist class. The working class now numbers millions of people in this country. It is the class that does all the work and produces all the wealth. It is the class that has been exploited and oppressed for too long.

The policies of the working class are based on the principles of social justice and equality. They strive for a world where everyone has access to basic necessities such as food, shelter, and healthcare. They fight against discrimination and inequality in all its forms.

We have a long way to go, but let us be grateful for the progress we have made so far. Let us continue to work towards a better world for all people.
LIVED ON SAWDUST

The August is a normally cheerful month in the life of the average family. In the middle of the month the National Forest Service is supposed to be in full swing and the sawdust sold by the Federal government. This makes it possible for the average family to live on sawdust during the entire month.
