THE NEGRO QUESTION.

Eugene V. Debs vives his Estimate of Booker Washington and Points the Only Solution for the Workers, White or Black.

World:

"The World is investigating industrial conditions among colored people. Booker T. Washington advocates industrial education for the Negro. Is the attitude of our labor unions toward black labor compatible with the teachings of Washington? The World is a colored newspaper and would like to publish

To this letter there was attached a clipping from the World containing an article from Mr. D. M. Parry, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, in answer to the same question, the burden of which was that organized labor is a trust and that a majority of its members are opposed to the colored workingmen, especially in reference to the teachings of Washington. His arraignment of organized labor closed with the following remarkable paragraphs: "Mr. Washington is floing more than merely teaching his fellow Negroes: he is emancipating them from artificial conditions that act as a bar to their progressive development as a race. * * * "Driven from the opportunity of learning to be artisans in the shops, their only hope is the technical schools such as Washington conducts.". . "* * *. The chief hope of the younger generation of whites is also the technical school."

First, let me say that all my life I have opposed discrimination, political, economic, or social, against any human being, on account of color or sex, regarding all such as relics of the ignorant, cruel and barbarous past.

Next there was a time when organized labor in the main was hostile to the Negro, and it must be admitted in all candor that certain unions, such as the railroad brotherhoods, still ignorantly guard the trades they represent, as well as their unions, against invasion by the colored man, and in this they have always had the active support of the corporation whose interest it is to have workingmen at each others' throats, that they may keep them all, black and

Indeed, it is a fact, that wherever labor unions, now or in the past, opposed the Negro, such opposition was inspired, or at least encouraged by the employing class represented by Mr. Parry, who now seeks so assiduously to place the responsibility on the poor ignorant dupe of the capitalistic master.

At Montgomery, Ala., some years ago, a riot was almost precipitated at the instigation of the "upper class," because the labor union under whose auspices I spoke, proposed the admission of Negroes to the opera house, on the floors reserved for white people, and the proprietor of the house declared that the house should be burnt to the ground before any "damned nigger" should have access The convention of the American Railway Union which resulted in the great railroad strike of 1894, after a fierce and protracted debate, turned down the Negro and it was one of the factors in our defeat. The leaders of the opposition, as I remember them, proved subsequently to have been traitors to the union, sent to the convention, doubtless, at the instigation of the corporations to defeat the unity of the working class... But in spite of all such influence, the labor movement in general, in America and throughout the world, stands unequivocally committed to receive and treat the Negro upon terms of absolute equality with his white brother, and where this is not the case the genius of unionism is violated and investigation will disclose the fact that corporate power and its henchmen are at the back of it. The Socialists, who represent the political wing of the labor movement, are absolutely free from color prejudice, and the labor union, the economic wing, is rapidly becoming so, and in the next few years not a trace of it will remain even in the so-called black belt of the Southern States. The workers of the world, mainly through organized effort, are becoming conscious of their interests as a class, totally regardless of color, creed or sex. and in time they will unite and act together upon a common basis of equality in spite of "the world, the flesh, and the devil," and the Manufacturers' As-The hypocritical plea of the industrial master for the education "of the poor Negro while he is living out of his labor," deceives no one except the ignorant and servile victims of the wage-system. THE FIRST REQUISITE, MR. PARRY, IN ELEVATING THE NEGRO IS

Will Mr. Parry and his class pretend that their practice accords with their preaching? If they actually believe that the Negro is entitled to equal consideration with the white man why do they not set the example by meeting and treating him as their brother? That is my conviction as a "union" man, and I have the consistency and courage to practice it. Until Mr. Parry and his class do the same, no intelligent Negro will be deceived by their professions of friendship.

WHAT WE SOCIAL DEM-OCRATS ARE AFTER.

(Adopted by the Socialist Party in National Convention at Indianapolis, Ind. July 31, 1901.)

The Socialist party, in national convention assembled, reaffirms its adherence to the principles of International Socialism, and declares its aim to be the organization of the working class, and those in sympathy with it, into a political party, with the object of conquering the powers of government and using them for the purpose of transforming the present system of private ownership of the means of production and distribution into collective ownership by the entire reple.

Formerly the tools of production were simple and owned by the individual orker. Today the machine, which is but an improved and more developed tool orker. Today on the capitalists and not by the workers. This owner-tip enables the capitalists to control the product and keep the workers dependent upon them.

Private ownership of the means of production and distribution is responsible for the ever-increasing uncertainty of livelihood and the poverty and misery of the working class, and it divides society into two hostile classes—the capitalists and wage-workers. The once powerful middle class is rapidly disappearing in the mill of competition. The struggle is now between the capitalist class and the working class. The possession of the means of livelihood gives to the capitalists the control of the government, the press, the pulpit and the schools, and enables them to reduce the workingmen to a state of intellectual, physical and social inferiority, political subservience and virtual slavery.

The accommic interests of the capitalist class dominate our entire social

The economic interests of the capitalist class dominate our entire social em; the lives of the working class are recklessly sacrificed for profit, wars fomented between nations, indiscriminate slaughter is encouraged and the ruction of whole races is sanctioned in order that the capitalists may exterior commercial dominion abroad and enhance their supremacy at home.

tend their commercial dominion abroad and enhance their supremacy at home.

But the same economic causes which developed capitalism are leading to Socialism, which will abolish both the capitalist class and the class of wageworkers. And the active force in bringing about this new and higher order of society is the working class. All other classes, despite their apparent or actual conflicts, are alike interested in the upholding of the system of private ownership of the instruments of wealth production. The Democratic, Republican, the bourgeois public ownership parties, and all other parties which do not stand for the complete overthrow of the capitalist system of production, are alike political representatives of the capitalist class.

The workers can most effectively act as a class in their struggle against the collective powers of capitalism by constituting themselves into a political party, distinct from and opposed to all parties formed by the propertied classes.

While we declare that the development of economic conditions tends to the overthrow of the capitalist system, we recognise that the time and manner of the transition to Socialism also depends upon the stage of development reached by the proletarist. We, therefore, consider it of the utmost importance for the Socialist party to support all active efforts of the working class to better its condition and to elect Socialists to political offices, in order to facilitate the attainment of this end.

As such means we advocate.

As such means we advocate:

1. The collective ownership of all means of transportation and communication and all other public utilities as well as of all industries controlled by monopolies, trusts and combines. No part of the revenue of such industries to be applied to the reduction of taxes on property of the capitalist class, but to be applied wholly to the increase of wages and shortening of the hours of labor of the employes, to the improvement of the service and diminishing the rates to the capsumers.

2. The progressive reduction of the hours of labor and the increase of wages in order to decrease the share of the capitalist and increase the share of the worker in the product of labor.

3. State or national insurance of working people in case of accidents, lack of employment, sickness and want in old age; the funds for this purpose to be furnished by the government and to-be administered under the control of the work-

But in advocating these measures as steps in the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of the co-operative commonwealth, we warn the working class against the so-called public ownership movements as an attempt of the capitalist class to secure governmental control of public utilities for the purpose of obtaining greater security in the exploitation of other industries and not for the amelioration of the conditions of the working, class.

CAPITAL AND LABOR

BY A BLACK-LISTED MACHINIST

This is the book that makes socialists. Clear and scientific, but simple and easy reading. Put it into the hands of a workingman and it will do the rest. Two hundred pages, beautifully printed and bound, with the Socialist Party emblem in three colors on the cover. Sells for 25 cents, and sells fast wherever it is offered to a crowd of laborers.

We want you to sell this book, and here is a special offer to induce you to start in now instead of waiting. For one dollar, if sent at once, we will mail six copies of Capital and Lason to one address, and will send the International Socialist Review one year to a specialist. You know what the Review is unless you are very new in the socialist movement. It is the one periodical that the thinking men in the Socialist Parry feel obliged to read in order to keep in touch with the best thought of socialism. A. M. Simons is the editor, and the ablest socialists of Europe and America are the contributors. The price of the Review alone is a dollar a year; single copies 10c each. Write now. Address

-IT TEACHES: =

That poisons are not remedies.

That symptoms and pains are not the disease, but only the messengers bringing warning of the disease to the brain; that to silence the messengers and leave the disease unchecked is folly.

That prevention is better than cure; that the great elements of prevention are: knowledge of self; cleanliness, physical as well as moral and mental; hygiene and sanitation.

That mind and thought have their influence on bodily health no less than physical and material conditions. A healthy body needs a healthy mind, and a healthy mind makes a healthy body.

Dr. Greer's book treats of all the topics and theories connected with the health of mind and body. "Investigate all things; hold on to that which is good," is the author's motto. Follow the teachings of wise Mother Nature.

The chapters on Child-culture and Education are sure to have a beneficent effect on the well-being of future generations, and the earnest warnings against unnecessary surgical operations add not a little to the value of a volume which can work only good to those who follow its teachings.

An Historic Strike of the Early Days.—Courts Called it a Conspiracy!

The antiquity of trades unions or of their ancient and mediæval equivalents is a well established fact, but that the peculiar manifestations of the perpetual formerly been a union man in good standing, but had broken one of the rules of the organization and been fined through which we are now passing are their ancient and mediæval equivalents is a well established fact, but that the peculiar manifestations of the perpetual struggle between labor and capital through which we are now passing are paralleled in other times is not so generally known, says Burton J. Hendrick in a New York paper. The builders' strike of 1908, however, could profits by be compared to a prolonged "stand out" of journeymen cordwainers on Manhattan Island in the year of grace 1809. It is evident from the interesting ecords bearing upon this notable war of employers and employed that not only are the methods of trades unions not particularly new, but that there is no great novelty in their terminology. "To strike" was the favorite word to describe the drastic pressure brought to bear upon the masters, and when we find that one of the charges brought against the recalcitrant cordwainers was that they applied the "opprobrious term of scab" to such of their members as refused to join their association we eem to be standing on modern ground. The word "scab" was used not only is a noun, but as a verb. Thus a back sliding union man who had been expelled from the organization was said to have been "scabbed." The sympathetic strike, the organization of em ployers to meet the exactions of work ingmen, the prosecution of the leaders on the charge of conspiracy, all these were successive steps in the labor struggle which excited the little city of New York a hundred years ago. It was some time in the year 1805 that the journeymen cordwainers-or shoemakers—of the city organized themselves into a "society" or "club" for the purpose of mutual benefit and for mutual protection against the "tyranny of capital." The constitution drawn up on this occasion is a formidacument. The initiation fee was fixed at "43½ cents" and the monthly dues at "6½ cents." The money thus paid was to be deposited in the United States bank, to be kept as a munition of war in case of a "stand out." The secretary's salary was the modest sum of a dollar a month. Penalties were attached for failure to attend meetings regularly, upon members of the craft from other towns who did not promptly toin the association and upon all aprentices who were backward in pledging their allegiance. Another rule was that providing a schedule of fines against members who used abusive language to their brothers in the society room. The keystone of the whole organization, however, is found in the eighth article of the constitution, which is worth quoting in full:

"No member of this society shall work for an employer that has any journeyman cordwainer or his apprentice in any employment that do not belong to this society, unless the journeyman come and join the same, and should any member work upon the seat with any person or persons that have not joined this society and do not report the same to the president the first meeting night after it comes to his knowledge he shall pay a fine of

By a rule of the society it was provided that no master cordwainer should have more than two apprentices. A schedule of "society wages" was also drawn up. For the four years following their organization on these lines the journey. men cordwainers kept comparatively quiet. Whether they had everything their own way history does not relate. but it was not till the fall of 1800 that they felt called upon to put their elaborate machinery in motion. About the latter port of October in that year, however, their troubles accumulated thick and fast. Their first grievance was directed against one James Cor-

sought clusive precedents in the Engthat they persuaded a grand jury that indictments should be made, and one day, therefore, twenty-four journey-men cordwainers found themselves up before the justices of the sessions or nine counts of conspiracy. The presiding justice was none other than De Witt Clinton, by virtue of his office as mayor, and the others were Peter Mesier and Thomas Carpenter. Messrs. Sampson and Colden appeared for the defendants and Messrs. Griffin and Emmet for the state. The case dragged along for six months, and in July, 1810, all the accused were found guilty by the jury. The presiding judge, howev er, decided that the rebellious makers had suffered enough. In fining them he referred to the novelty of the case; said that evidently the jury by its verdict did not intend so much a punishment as a warning. He therefore gave some fatherly advice as to their future behavior and let them off with a merely nominal fine of a dollar The actual proceedings of the trial are not especially interesting. The facts themselves were not in dispute. of the defendants denied that they had been guilty of the acts alleged. They simply maintained that the refusal to work except on their own terms did not constitute an act of conspiracy. The larger part of the proceedings was thus taken up by learned counsel in debating this point. Mr. Sampson, as soon as the court convened, maved the dismissal of the indictment, and his argument upon this motion is the interesting feature of the proceeding. He cited all existing statutes defining conspiracy and champe ty and showed conclusively that no transaction such as that of which his clients were accused came under any of these heads. As to the legality of the acts in question Mr. Sampson admitted that there were certain English statutes which declared them unlawful. Especially were they prohibited by the statutes of laborers passed in the thirty-sixth year of the reign of It was clear enough, therefore, con-

work was a serious matter to the mas-ters. Whether the city of New York tinued the advocate, that there was no warrant in statutory law for the pres ent prosecution. The state, therefore fell back upon the common law, which it was asserted, clearly forbade confed course to the output of the less skillful eracies such as the one in question. Mr. Sampson declared that even the commen is not set down in the history mon law did not include among conspiracies the refusal of shoemakers to trades unions these recalcitrant cord-wainers were well within their legal work, and even if it did it was not applicable in this country. The rest of his argument was given up to a violent denunciation of the highest common law men that the New York of 1809 took no such charitable view. The striking on general principles. He claimed that was conceived in barbarism and of society. Their refusal to "bottom that it could not possibly have force in shoes" or to make "pumps with French a free country. He ridiculed the common law principle that all confederaedges" except on their own terms was looked upon as a grave infraction of cles wrongfully to oppress a third per son were criminal. From this the proslaw. The great local jurisconsults of the day spent weeks ransacking the ecution deduced the principle that all conspiracies to prejudice the public law books to find some ground for their indictment. They burned the midnight were criminal, upon which the case against the cordwainers practically rested. It is not necessary to go further into the details of the argument or into the rebuttal offered by the attorutes regulating the wages of working-men to apply to the present instance; son's and Colden's eloquence and learn America; twisted old Elizabethan stat-

The first attempt of the state of New York to force union men to work and to prevent them from discrimi-nating against nonassociated fellow workingmen was thus a complete success. The cordwainers were forced to go back to their benches side by side with the men whom they had "scabbed." In the first legal struggle between capital and labor the workingman apparently stood no chance Evidently, however, the labor unions have made some progress in the last

Dr. J. H. GREER, Chicago.

Dr. J. H. OREER, the author, is a practicing physician in Chicago, is Professor of Genito-Urinay Diseases in the College of Medicine and Surgery, Physician-in-Chief to the Harvard Medical Institute, and has written many works of value to the profession and public.

This book is up-to-date in every particular.

It will save you hundreds of dollars in doctor's bills. It tells you how to cure yourself by simple or harmless home remedies

It recommends no polsonous or dangerous drugs.

It teaches simple common sense methods in accordance with Natures laws. It does not endorse dangerous experiments with the surgeon's knife.

It teaches how to save health and life by safe methods. It is entirely free from technical rubbish.

It teaches prevention—that it is better to know how to live and avoid disease than to take any medicine as a cure. It teaches how typhoid and other fevers can be both prevented and cured. It gives the best known treatment for La Grippe, Diptheria, Catarrh, Cossumption, Appendicitis and every other disease.

It is the best medical book for the home yet produced. It is not an advertisement and has no medicine to sell.

It tells you how to live that you may prolong life.

nation and the use of anti-toxine. It has hundreds of excellent recipes for the cure of the various diseases It has 16 Colored Plates, showing different parts of the human body. The chapter on Painless Midwifery is worth its weight in gold to women

It has a large number of valuable illustrations. The "care of children" is something every mother ought to read. It teaches the value of Air, Sunshine and Water as medicines.

It advises people with regard to marriage—tells who should and who should not marry. It contains valuable information for the married.

DEFINITIONS OF SOCIALISM.

The collective ownership of the means of production and distribution. A theory of society that advocates a more precise, orderly and harmonious arrangement of the social relations of mankind than that which has hithertoprevailed. (Webster's Dictionary.)

A science of reconstructing society on A science of reconstructing society on an entirely new basis, by substituting the principle of association for that of competition in every branch of human industry. (Worcester's Dictionary.) ...

A theory that aims to secure the re-construction of society, increase of wealth, and a more equal distribution of the products of labor and capital (as distinguished from property), and the public collective management of all the public industries. Its motto is: "Everyone according to his deeds." (Standard, Dictionary.)

It is hardly necessary to state that there has been a decided change in the methods of Socialist propaganda in this country in recent years, by which the old academically profound books and pamphlets with which conversions were formally attented here. pamphlets with which conversions were formerly attempted have been super-ceded by exceedingly light specimens. About the same change has been apparent in the matter of school text books. Study was no joke with our daddies and our daddies' daddies, with the heavy books they had to pore over. Now the books are made to be readily comprehended. Much of our modern Socialist literature is mighty frothy stuff, it is true, but in the main it is accomplishing remarkable results, particularly as there is usually a desire on the part of the convert to go deeper into cratic Jubilee celebration of the victories of our party in Germany."

The Proper View.—In New York two walking delegates were recently arrested charged with blackmail, and District Attorney Jerome declares that he has evidence to convict them of accepting money bribes for calling off strikes. In Chicago a similar alleged case has been published, and arrests of alleged blackmailers made. Every union man, every friend of organized labor, owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. Jerome or any one else who succeeds in detecting criminals of this character. There can be no meaner or more contemptible rascal than the man who, trusted by his fellows with the conduct of negotiations with their employers, betrays the one and blackmails the others. — Labor World. ophies into the socialistic one, and is well worth anyone's reading.

In his Class Struggles in America,

In his Class Struggles in America, Conrade Simons has given a hurried sketch of the economic and political developments in this country, so hurried in fact that one almost catches at his breath while going through its pages. Some criticism might be made of his omissions in writing of the later socialistic development in this country, particularly as it is not forgotten that he was not above using his International Socialist Review some years ago to strenghten a factional struggle in the national movement. For mere propagatory national movement. For mere propa ganda purposes, however, the pamphle has value and should be freely used.

FREDERIC HEATH,

Official Paper of the Federated Trades Council of Milwaukee and of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor.

Entered at Milwaukee Post-office as Second-class Matter, Aug. 20, 1901.

What International Socialism Demands:

- Collective ownership of public utilities and all industries in the hands
- Dargocratic management of such collective Industry
- Reduction of the hours of labor and progressively increased Remu-
- 5. The Inauguration of public Industries to saleguard the workers
- Education of ALL children up to the age of 18 years. No child labor.
- Equal political and civil rights for men and women.

Military Despotism is Upon Us!

From letters received, and other evidences, it is plain that many of the trade unionists and Socialists of this country do not yet comprehend the full enormity of the military law passed by the recent congress and promptly and triumphantly signed by the only Roosevelt.

Under the military law hitherto existing the state troops were under the sole charge of the governors of those states. The president of the United States, or the commander of the regular army could not interfere with the governor's right to direct them. In fact the president was obliged to wait until the governor of a state found himself unable with the guardsmen under his control to cope with emergencies, real or fancied, within his state, and until said governor asked to have help from the regular army.

This wasn't always adhered to, it is true, as for instance when Cleveland sent the government troops to Illinois, over the protest of Gov. Altgeld, during the big Debs strike of 1894—but we hardly expect the master class to obey the laws, anyway, the laws were not made for

The great trouble with the old arrangement, from the capitalistic standpoint, was that the troops of a state often mutinied when or-dered out in times of strikes and commanded to shoot down their fellow citizens. They hated to shoot the people they knew. Capitalism reasoned, not without cause, that if these state troops could be sent into other states where they are among strangers, they would be more ready to commit legalized murder!

Quite a little of this sort of trouble was experienced during the recent great coal strike. The soldirs sympathized with the strikers.

THE CAPITALISTS ARE BRUTALLY FRANK ABOUT IT.

"IF THERE HAD BEEN A MORE LIBERAL EXPENDITURE
OF AMMUNITION IN PENNSYLVANIA," SAYS THE FINANCIAL RECORD, "THERE WOULD BE AT THE PRESENT TIME
NO LABOR PROBLEM WORTH SPEAKING OF IN THIS

So a military bill was quietly drafted. Owning the press of the country, this devilish assault on the people's liberties was put through by capitalism and the people kept in ignorance of it. Even the lobby of the American Federation of Labor at Washington, rendered sleepy by the Hanna-Gompers Civic Federation opiate, did not sound the alarm. Not until after the "hero" of the toy battle known as the Capture of San Juan Hill had signed the bill and made it a law, were the people allowed to know about it.

Now what IS the new law? Boiled down into simple language, it Every able-bodied male citizen of the United States, and every foreigner who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, between the ages of 18 and 45 years, shall be considered members of the militia. They are divided into two classes: the organized militia, to be known as the NATIONAL GUARD of the the state or territory they reside in; and the rest to be known as the RESERVE MILITIA.

The organization compact and distribute of the NATIONAL GUARD of the rest to be known as the RESERVE MILITIA.

RESERVE MILITIA.

The organization, armament and discipline of the National Guard shall be THE SAME AS THAT PRESCRIBED FOR THE REGULAR ARMY, WITH-IN FIVE YEARS OF THE PASSAGE OF THE LAW!

Whenever the country is invaded, or in danger of invasion, or there is REBELLION AGAINST AUTHORITY, the president can call out such part of the state troops as he needs, for a period of not longer than nine months, to enable him to execute the laws, etc., or to issue such ORDERS TO THE OF-FICERS OF THE MILITIA "as he may think proper!"

Any person within the prescribed age refusing or neglecting to answer the call of the president will be subject to military court martial, and SHOT or otherwise punished, as may be decided.

When acting under the president's command the state troops will be UNDER THE SAME RULES AS THE REGULAR ARMY.

The law directs the Secretary of War to issue, on demand of the proper officers, such guns, belts, and other necessary implements of murder as are required for the United States army.

The above is a true abridgement of the new law. Under it executions.

The above is a true abridgement of the new law. Under it every r under control of the president, under one man.

Whenever capitalism is ready to venture a military despotism in this country, the laws will not have to be changed.

The laboring class is nicely cornered. The manufacturers are organizing and becoming more and more aggressive. Capitalism is becoming a world power. It will brook no interference with its aims. It proposes to have its profits in increasing ratio and to make them out of underpaid labor.

At the time of the great strike of 1894, when it looked as if the workers would win, the rulers of the country were on the verge of declaring martial law. This would have made Debs and his lieutenants "traitors to the government" and the plan was to then take them out on the lake front and shoot them down as political enemies of the Great labor battles are impending, no one can doubt that. With the new military law the people may be goaded and lashed into a new and horrible French Revolution.

That they will not submit to be slaves shorn of the right to revolt against oppression, we are confident.

derated Trades Council of Milwaukee Father Hagerty Coming for Labor Day! WATCHES! WATCHES! FREE! PHOTO BUTTON to Herald Readers.

Notes of the Labor Day Committee. - Trades Council Minutes. -Federal Labor Union to be Investigated.

After a good deal of correspondence, the special committee on Labor Day speaker of the Trades council, has succeeded in securing no less an attraction than the celebrated Socialist-priest, Father Thomas J. Hagerty, of Van Buren, Mo. Comrade Hagerty has just returned to the middle west from a western tour which was a continuous covation. How the special committee the special committee on the ouncil make it a point to march with that body, thus making it representative in fact as well as in name. A band of 18 pieces will head the council.

Turn out, and "fall in."

Trades Council Minutes.

this year. It is also more than earnest-ly requested that those organizations, laving a number of female members see to it that tally-hos or omnibuses are obtained for the sisters and that they, too, show their full strength. There ought to be no diffidence or false modesty on their part in this matter, for women, as well as men, should be proud of the fact that, being workers, they are workers having a principle to

The committee on organization and maintain.

The committee is making arrangements for trophies to be awarded to the unions making the best showing. A further feature or novelty may be the appearance of the lady delegates to the council in an automobile, though this arrangement is as yet but problematical.

That the daily press of this country is owned and controlled by capitalism, is of course not news, but a good illustration of the fact was furnished in connection with the Social Democratic picnic of last Sunday. There were nearly nine thousand people present, but the Sentinel's account put the figure at five thousand, and when the reporter wrote it five the editor couldn't he wrote it five the editor couldn't believe that there were so many people in attendance at a socialistic picnic and had to telephone out to Schlitz Park to see if his reporter wasn't exaggerating!

Now note the difference! Monday night the horse (and donkey) opened at the Exposition. The "quality" of Milwaukee was there, the boxes were reserved for capitalists, the Sentinel said there four thousand people present (which is an over-statement) AND THE SENTINEL GAVE UP FOUR PAGES, MORE OR LESS, TO TELLING ABOUT IT, besides various pictures! Figured on the same basis the Social Democratic property would have deserved a write. picnic would have deserved a writeup of almost the entire paper! And the Socialists represent a vital and Jos.
