WHAT ARE WE TO DO TO BE SAVED?

A LABOR SERMON BY VICTOR L. BERGER - Concluded.

CHILD LABOR.

Before this, the capitalist era, masters worked in England with their children. In the factories, Pennsylvania and elsewhere children can be seen in every place. The children are worked too hard, too many hours. But yet there are many cases where the laborer is compelled to disrupt his family and send his children to work because they are too many and the family cannot survive. This is an evil that capitalist society is creating. To remove this evil, a law is necessary. That law must be a law that regulates the hours of work of children. If it is not a law, it must be a law that regulates the wages of children. If it is not a law, it must be a law that regulates the conditions of work of children.

In the cotton and woolen factories of Northern New England, there were children of ten and eleven working in the factories. In the tobacco factories of the South, there were children of twelve and thirteen working. In the sugar factories of the West Indies, there were children of twelve and thirteen working. In the coal mines of Scotland, there were children of twelve and thirteen working. In the cotton mills of America, there were children of ten and eleven working.

CHILD LABOR.

American children are not the only ones who are exploited. Children are exploited in every country in the world. In England, there are children of twelve and thirteen working in the coal mines. In France, there are children of twelve and thirteen working in the factories. In Germany, there are children of twelve and thirteen working in the sugar factories. In Russia, there are children of twelve and thirteen working in the textile mills.

CAPITALIST PRINCIPLES.

AMERICAN PRINCIPLES.

But look at those poor men's principles. They cannot believe that they are fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are fit to be the masters of the world.

The big capitalists are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world. They are not fit to be the masters of the world.

WHAT ARE WE TO DO TO BE SAVED?

Note: In some parts of the country, there is a certain prejudice against the Socialists. This prejudice is not held by the Socialists themselves, but it is held by their enemies. The Socialists are not afraid of this prejudice. They are not afraid of this prejudice. They are not afraid of this prejudice.

WHAT ARE WE TO DO TO BE SAVED?
SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC HERALD

NO PITY IN CAPITALISM.

NOT CONTENT WITH ROBBING LABOR THROUGH THE WAGE SYSTEM, IT GIVES OLD MEN, NO MATTER HOW FAITHFUL, THEIR CHOICE BETWEEN SUICIDE OR THE POOR-HOUSE!

THIRD AND RAILWAY WORKERS may here by clipping coupons, giving at the 3rd Avenue Club, mending, painting Europe, etc., etc. Why are you surprised? Because you are not 45 years of age. I come for you, as a rule, and you’re your wife and hardly, and it’s not our only one, and there is no sentence to business you know. There are factories where your children can work, you know. To them that is a hundred dollars a month, and to those who have to work for young father and mother, you know. I want to be a good man, keep up a decent home, and not work for the Black Cross. To those who have to work for young father and mother, you know. I want to be a good man, keep up a decent home, and not work for the Black Cross.

CAPITALISM'S OWNERSHIP OF THE INDUSTRY TURNS TO DOUBLE-DYED DESPOTISM WHEN IT DENIES MEN IN THE PRIME OF LIFE THE RIGHT TO EARN BREAD.

THE WORKERS HAVE THE BALL AT A MEETING. LET THEM USE IT TO CRANNISH THE SYSTEM BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE!

HALF HOURS IN THE HERALD SANCTUARY.

New York, Aug. 25, 1898—(Herald Office.)

Mr. P. J. Farrell, of the Milwaukee Herald, said here today that the Herald would print the following message from Mr. P. J. Farrell:

"The committals in the case before the Supreme Court of the United States, are, it is believed, not only not of the character of the Supreme Court of the United States, but of the character of the Supreme Court of the United States, and not yet of the character of the Supreme Court.

"The case of the United States v. the Milwaukee Herald, is, in the opinion of the Supreme Court, not one of the character of the Supreme Court, but of the character of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States is, as it was, the court of the United States, and the character of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States, is not only not of the character of the Supreme Court, but of the character of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The court of the United States is, as it was, the court of the United States, and the character of the court of the United States, is not only not of the character of the Supreme Court, but of the character of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States. The Supreme Court of the United States of the United States is not the court of the United States, but of the court of the United States, and of the Supreme Court of the United States."
