The TRUE STRENGTH OF TRADE UNIONISM.

by ELTHERTON STIERWALT, Special Agent Trade Union Department.

The very foundation of all organized labor is the Trade Union, or labor organization, as it is popularly called. The workers in every trade have banded together to further their common interests, to look out for each other, and to maintain their rights. The Trade Union is the backbone of organized labor.

The strength of a Trade Union lies in its membership. The more members it has, the stronger it becomes. The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong membership if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong organization if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong leadership if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong financial base if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong educational program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong political program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong international connections if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong economic program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong cultural program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong recreational program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong social program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong religious program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong sports program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong fitness program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong safety program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong health program if it is to be effective in its work.

The Trade Union must always be able to show a strong retirement program if it is to be effective in its work. The Trade Union must also be able to show a strong educational program if it is to be effective in its work.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT OF QUALITY!

Why should a gift be an object of beauty—or an article that wears out—or anything that doesn't become better as time goes on? A share in the Cooperative Department Store will increase in value every year. Before next Christmas comes around, twice the price paid for it wouldn't be the holder the buyer with it. It is certainly the most useful gift; consider that hundreds of men and women all over the city and state are readily subscribing for stock, without scarcely one word of argument.

As a gift to your mother, your wife, your son, your daughter, or anyone you desire to give, nothing can be more attractive than a share of stock in a cooperative store. It is ever earning and eventually is sure to double and triple in value. It makes the recipient a share holder and profiteer in a complete and thoroughly executive department store with the additional privileges of purchasing at a discount, any article in any department in the entire store.

Perhaps one of the stockholders may ask an opportunity to talk with you about an investment in this store, some time this or next week. You are free to see for yourself why this is an investment of the highest type, for every point of view. If you know what other consumers have recently learned, in regard to this Cooperative Department Store, you would purchase it at the offices of every one somewhere to call on you. As announced last week, the price of the stock is to be increased as soon as the final allotment is disposed of, which will be in the very near future.
