"The ethical question which has been sown by a great corporation in New York is an interesting one. It is proved that the poolroom gambling establishments would be compelled to close if the telegraph service were cut off."

The editor of the Seattle Socialist makes the point that the prosperity that capitalism vouchsafes the working class is "pros-poverty."

The attitude of some clerics who oppose Socialism on the ground that if it made the world pleasant to live in the people would have less thought for Heaven, is a spectacle for the gods.

"Socialism as a Rival of Organized Christianity," is the title of an article in the North American Review written by Dr. Thomas C. Hall, professor of theology in the Union Theological Seminary of New York.

Militant class rule in Colorado just now is furnishing some astonishing corroborations of all that the Socialists have been teaching as to the existence of a class struggle under capitalism.

There are nearly two million children at work in the United States. That means nearly two million children robbed of their right to a full education and the right to sufficient leisure in the play-time of life.

There are two jobs to every man who works.—Marcus Hanna.

Meadville, Pa., May 23.—According to notices posted in the Erie Railroad Company's shops here Saturday, more than 200 workmen were paid off and discharged at quitting time tonight.

Jamestown, March 9. —"Dear Sister—I can't get no job, so good-bye. Rich, be a good boy." The above was found written on a piece of yellow wrapping paper on the table at the home of Mrs. Sophia Lagerquist in Allen Street yesterday afternoon.

The fight for Socialism is the fight of the working class. And they must pay the expenses of the fight, as a result. If the capitalists were paying the bills of the Social-Democratic party, you wouldn't believe in its honesty.

Aren't we a strange people! One man named Perdicaris, said to be an American citizen, has been captured by a Moroccan chief and the whole country is churned up over the terrible outrage.

Nevertheless, the question presented by the relations of the Western Union and the poolrooms is taking a strong hold on the public attention in New York.

Alexander Hamilton believed that the common people were not fit to govern themselves and he wanted the government to be by the rich.

All communities divide themselves into the few and the many. The first are the rich and well born; the others the mass of the people.

The struggle for a government by the people for the people is almost a lost struggle today. Socialism is the only force that can possibly restore it and make it complete.

Do you know that there are actually some people who think that it is only necessary for a Social-Democrat to vote the ticket after somebody else has gone to the expense and trouble and risk of seeing that it is properly nominated?

At Indianapolis the Woodworkers' union discovered that one Chester C. Kidd, the president of one of their unions and also of the Indianapolis District Council, was under salary from the Parry people to give out secret reports of the proceedings of the unions.

The union men in Colorado organized a posse and rounded up all the mine owners and their sympathizers they could get, brutally clubbed them, put them on a train under guard and shipped them across the border into Kansas and left them without a cent on the prairie.

There is an imperative necessity for the organization of the Social-Democratic party. The movement would not amount to a row of brass pins without it. It is necessary now, what is the reason why you should not join it?

SOCIALISM MADE PLAIN.

WHY THE FEW ARE RICH AND THE MANY POOR.

CAPITALISM THE CAUSE OF MODERN WARS; SOCIALISM THE CURE.

For the smile of a woman, or because of the frown of a man, nations used to go to war. Troops were hurled against troops, cannon were trained upon cannon, cities were destroyed and thousands were made to suffer or to die because two quarreling rulers had willed it so.

Times have changed since then, and the causes of wars have changed with them. Nations no longer go to war because a court beauty desires a ruler to humble the occupant of another throne.

But while the causes of wars have changed and the more deadly weapons in use have made wars so costly of life and treasure that they are less frequent than of old, the world is still troubled with wars.

"Gold is good—they hoped to hold it. Life was cheap—wherefore they sold it." To use a modified version of Mr. Kipling's lines, is an adequate enumeration of the causes and impulses of the ruling classes of the nations in bringing about wars, the fact always being kept in mind that it is the lives of the working class and not their own that the rulers "sell" for gold.

The question that agitated the world a century ago was how to make production equal the demands of the people for consumption. In 1826, Thomas R. Malthus issued in England a pamphlet in which he showed that inasmuch as population, unchecked, tended to increase more rapidly than production, it was the patriotic duty of some of those who loved their kind to refrain from marriage, or at least to refrain from becoming parents.

Then along came the machine and what had become known as the "Malthusian theory" ceased to incite alarm. The perfection of the steam engine and the introduction of electricity as a motive power still further increased the productivity of labor, which, even in 1850, had become so great that, according to Carroll D. Wright, for many years United States commissioner of labor, there occurred the first panic due to the modern cause of "over-production."

But in solving one problem it created another—the problem of how to dispose of surplus products—the excess of the workers' products over their wages which the capitalists withheld as profits. And from the beginning, this became an important problem for two reasons:

1.—Because the capitalists could not make profits unless the workers were employed; 2.—Because no government could long exist under which the working class was in a chronic state of idleness—the suffering people would arise and overthrow their government.

The problem of the statesmen of all industrial nations for the last 50 years—particularly during the last 20 years—has been how to find markets for the manufacturing industries of their respective nations. And coupled with this, there has been manifested a strong desire on the part of every great nation and some of the smaller ones, to relieve the pressure at home due to poverty by conquering and annexing other lands.

1.—They furnished new fields for exploitation and therefore profits for the capitalists; 2.—By encouraging emigration, they relieved the competition for jobs at home and therefore tended to the security of governments by diminishing the unrest of the people due to poverty.

And what has been the result? Read the newspapers. What is the great question that is being discussed in the congresses, the parliaments and the reichstags of the world? Isn't it: "What can we do to get foreign markets for our products?" For what other reason are the envious eyes of the world cast upon China and the far east, whose teeming millions offer tremendous prospective profits to the nation that can awaken a desire for its goods on the part of the slumbering Orientals and thus market its surplus products? Why, if not for this reason, is the United States insisting upon the "open door" in China—otherwise, equal trade privileges with all other nations—even though Senator Hale, of Maine, gave timely warning during the congressional session of 1903-4 that strict adherence to this demand might some time involve this nation in war with a combination of other powers?

And if we take the Philippines to "bring them the blessings of civilization," why did we take them? Does the fact that the Philippines lies at the door of the far east, into whose markets we are anxious to force our surplus products, offer any hint of our real purpose? Does the fact that American capitalists are seeking franchises in the Philippines and planning in every conceivable way to exploit the natural resources and the labor of the islands throw any additional light on the question of why "Duty and Destiny" so suddenly made it manifest that we should become holders of subject peoples? And, as a matter of fact, is there any reason to doubt that Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, after visiting the islands, failed to state his party's whole case in a nutshell when he came home and advocated the retention of the islands on the ground that "It would pay?"

Other nations plunge into commercial wars for the same reasons—to find markets for their surplus products or to acquire more territory to which some of their congested populations may be lured. Why, if not for both of these reasons and the added incentive of rich gold mines, did Great Britain find it advisable to spend a billion dollars to crush out the South African republics? By trumping up fraudulent appeals to the patriotism of the English workingmen, the English statesmen succeeded in inducing the toilers of the kingdom to fight the battles of the British capitalists; but there was never any inspiration for the Boer war, so far as the British government was concerned, but pounds and pence—and the pounds and pence were for the British capitalists—not for the British workingmen who did the fighting.

As these lines are being written, the workingmen of Russia and the workingmen of Japan are engaged in mortal combat to decide which shall control Manchuria and Korea. Yet the workingmen of Russia and the workingmen of Japan have no grievance against each other; nor have the workingmen of either country anything to gain by slaughtering the workingmen of the other country.

In like manner, the workingmen of Japan will have gained nothing worth their sacrifice if Japan shall succeed in conquering Russia. But not so with the Japanese capitalists. If Japan shall win, the victory will mean millions of dollars to the capitalist class of Japan, who will not only find rich fields for exploitation in the conquered territory, but the victory will give Japan a great advantage in the race that all the nations are running to break into the markets of China.

And it is to decide which of these sets of capitalists—the Russians or the Japanese—shall exploit Manchuria and Korea, which neither nation owns—that the workingmen of Japan and Korea are slaughtering each other!

Why do rulers find it expedient to permit their subjects and citizens to be slain by wholesale to "get trade" for their capitalist classes? It is not a difficult question, nor does it necessarily follow that a ruler must be a cruel or "bad" man, as men go, to permit such inhuman contests. Take the late President McKinley, for instance. He was a humane, tender-hearted man. Of course it is the fashion in certain quarters to denounce as a murderer every ruler who permits a war, without reference to the environment and point of view of the ruler. Yet McKinley, kind-hearted and sympathetic as he was, did not scruple to hold the Philippines, which he well knew might involve war, after the interests that usually controlled him decided that it would be a profitable thing to have the islands. McKinley unquestionably invited and obtained a war with the Filipinos for no other reason than to advance the commercial interests of the country, as all rulers wage commercial wars. And McKinley, like all other rulers who wage commercial wars, doubtless justified his position to himself by arguing that foreign markets were needed to furnish an outlet for the surplus products of American labor, without which there must be idleness for millions and therefore unhappiness. Because the statesmen of these commercial nations estimate the prosperity of their respective countries by the amount of their annual exports. If a nation export $100,000,000 worth of goods in a year, its statesmen plume themselves on the wonderful "prosperity" that has come to their country because of the great volume in governing it, while the plain truth is exactly the reverse. Heavy exports in proportion to the total production always mean that the laborers who produced the goods received so little for their labor that they were unable to buy back more than a fraction of their products and that the capitalists were therefore compelled to go abroad for a market. For, as a matter of fact, there are only a comparatively few things that we can really afford to export. If we raise more wheat than we need for bread, the surplus may consistently be exported, but the trouble is that we export millions of dollars worth of goods each year—clothing, furniture and innumerable other things—which the American wage workers who produced them would have liked to keep if they had received in wages enough to enable them to pay for them.

Under capitalism, commercial wars must necessarily become more numerous and bitter as the increased productivity of labor more rapidly glutts the home markets with its own products and brings about commercial stagnation while the surplus is being consumed. The government that cannot keep its citizens or subjects from suffering as the result of illnesses of frequent or lengthy periods will naturally become an unpopular government, and, as such, be in danger of destruction by its own discontented people. All governments so threatened will therefore strive to perpetuate themselves by securing markets for the surplus products of their manufacturing industries, to the end that discontent may be allayed by the revival of industry. And, of course, the revival of industry will also result in more profits for the capitalist classes who control the governments. But to dispose of these surplus products in foreign markets, it will often be necessary to engage in wars with other nations who are striving to obtain the same markets for their respective peoples; and it is doubtful if the capitalists themselves have more than the most hazy idea of where the spirit of commercial warfare upon which they have been compelled to embark by the force of necessity, will lead them. No one knows but the greatest war in the history of the world will be fought in the Pacific ocean in the present century for the control of the markets of the Orient. And if such a world war should be fought, and a certain combination of nations should defeat another combination, no one can know how long it might be until a re-alignment of the nations would precipitate another war.

Commercial wars are waged for two purposes: 1.—To afford profits for the capitalist class; 2.—To decrease the possibility of rebellions by providing the working classes with an opportunity to labor; or, to exact, to enable the capitalist classes to permit the working classes to labor at a profit for the capitalist classes. Socialism would destroy both of these incentives to commercial warfare. Under Socialism, a man who had produced more than he could consume for a considerable time, would sit down to a well-earned rest, instead of trying to kill a man beyond an ocean, whom he had never seen.

SEE ANNOUNCEMENT ELSEWHERE OF "SOCIALISM MADE PLAIN," IN BOOK FORM. THREE MORE INSTALLMENTS WILL COMPLETE THE WORK.

The National Socialist Platform for 1904. (As Adopted at Chicago, Day 5, 1904.)

I. We, the Socialist party, in convention assembled, make our appeal to the American people as the defender and preserver of the idea of liberty and self-government, in which the nation was born; as the only political movement standing for the program and principles by which the liberty of the individual may become a fact; as the only political organization that is democratic, and that has for its purpose the democratizing of the whole of society.

To this idea of liberty the Republican and Democratic parties are equally false. They alike struggle for power to maintain and profit by an industrial system which can be preserved only by the complete overthrow of such liberties as we already have, and by the still further enslavement and degradation of labor.

Our American institutions came into the world in the name of freedom. They have been seized upon by the capitalist class as the means of robbing the idea of freedom from among the people. Our state and national legislatures have become the mere agencies of great propertyed interests. These interests control the appointments and decisions of the judges of our courts. They have come into what is practically a private ownership of all the functions and forces of government. They are using these to betray and conquer foreign and weaker people, in order to establish new markets for the surplus goods which the people make, but are too poor to buy. They are gradually so invading and restricting the right of suffrage as to take away unawares the right of the worker to a vote or voice in public affairs. By enacting new and misinterpreting old laws, they are preparing to attack the liberty of the individual even to speak or think for himself, or for the common good.

By controlling all the sources of social revenue, the possessing class is able to silence what might be the voice of protest against the passing of liberty and the coming of tyranny. It completely controls the university and public school, the pulpit, and the press, and the arts and literature. By making these economically dependent upon itself, it has brought all the forms of public teaching into servile submission to its own interests.

Our political institutions are also being used as the destroyers of that individual property upon which all liberty and opportunity depend. The promise of economic independence to each man was one of the faiths upon which our institutions were founded. But, under the guise of defending private property, capitalism is using our political institutions to make it impossible for the vast majority of human beings ever to become possessors of private property in the means of life.

Capitalism is the enemy and destroyer of essential private property. Its development is through the legalized confiscation of all that the labor of the working class produces, above its subsistence-wage. The private ownership of the means of employment grounds society in an economic slavery which renders intellectual and political tyranny inevitable.

Socialism comes so to organize industry and society that every individual shall be secure in that private property in the means of life upon which his liberty of being, thought and action depend. It comes to rescue the people from the fast increasing and successful assault of capitalism upon the liberty of the individual.

II. As an American Socialist party, we pledge our fidelity to the principles of international Socialism, as embodied in the united thought and action of the Socialists of all nations. In the industrial development already accomplished, the interests of the world's workers are separated by no national boundaries. The condition of the most exploited and oppressed workers, in the most remote places of the earth, inevitably tends to drag down all the workers of the world to the same level. The tendency of the competitive wage system is to make laborer's lowest condition the measure or rule of its universal condition. Industry and finance are no longer national but international, in both organization and results. The chief significance of national boundaries, and of the so-called patriotisms which the ruling class of each nation is seeking to revive, is the power which these give to capitalism to keep the workers of the world from uniting, and to throw them against each other in the struggles of contending capitalist interests for the control of the yet unexploited markets of the world, or the remaining sources of profit.

The Socialist movement therefore is a world movement. It knows of no conflicts of interest between the workers of one nation and the workers of another. It stands for the freedom of the workers of all nations; and, in so standing, it makes for the full freedom of all humanity.

III. The Socialist movement owes its birth and growth to that economic development or world process which is rapidly separating a working or producing class from a possessing or capitalist class. The class that produces nothing possesses labor's fruits, and the opportunities and enjoyments these fruits afford, while the class that does the world's real work has increasing economic uncertainty, and physical and intellectual misery, for its portion.

The fact that these two classes have not yet become fully conscious of their distinction from each other, the fact that the lines of division and interest may not yet be clearly drawn, does not change the fact of the class conflict.

This class struggle is due to the private ownership of the means of employment, or the tools of production. Whenever and wherever man owned his own land and tools, and by them produced only the things which he used, economic independence was possible. But production, or the making of goods, has long ceased to be individual. The labor of scores, or even thousands, enters into almost every article of use and value. Production is now social or collective. Practically everything is made or done by many men—sometimes separated by seas or continents—working together for the same end. But this co-operation in production is not for the direct use of the things made by the workers together for the same end, but for the profit of the owners of the tools and means of production; and to this is due the present division of society into two classes; and from it have sprung all the miseries, inharmonies and contradictions of our civilization.

Between these two classes there can be no possible compromise or identity of interests, any more than there can be peace in the midst of war, or light in the midst of darkness. A society based upon this class division carries in itself the seeds of its own destruction. Such a society is founded in fundamental injustice. There can be no possible basis for social peace, for individual freedom, for mental and moral harmony, except in the conscious and complete triumph of the working class as the only class that has the right or power to be.

The Socialist program is not a theory imposed upon society for its acceptance or rejection. It is but the interpretation of what is, sooner or later, inevitable. Capitalism is already struggling to its destruction. It is no longer content to organize or administer the work of the world, or even to preserve itself. The captains of industry are appalled at their own inability to control or direct the rapidly socializing forces of industry. The so-called trust is but a sign and form of the developing socialization of the world's work. The universal increase of the uncertainty of employment, the universal capitalist determination to break down the unity of labor in the trades unions, the widespread apprehensions of impending change, reveal that the institutions of capitalist society are passing under the power of inhering forces that will soon destroy them. Into the midst of the strain and crisis of civilization, the Socialist movement comes as the only saving or conservative force. If the world is to be saved from chaos, from universal disorder and misery, it must be by the union of the workers of all movements of the Socialist movement. The Socialist party comes with the only proposition or program for intelligently and deliberately organizing the nation for the common good of all its citizens. It is the first time that the mind of man has ever been directed toward the conscious organization of society. Socialism means that all those things upon which the people in common depend shall be by the people in common be owned and administered. It means that the tools of employment shall belong to their creators and users; that all production shall be for the direct use of the producers; that the making of goods for profit shall come to an end; that we shall all be workers together; and that all opportunities shall be open and equal to all men. To the end that the workers may seize every possible advantage that may strengthen them to gain complete control of the powers of government, and thereby the sooner establish the co-operative commonwealth, the Socialist party pledges itself to watch and work in both the economic and the political struggle for each successive immediate interest of the working class; for shortened days of labor and increases of wages; for the immediate insurance of the workers against accident, sickness and lack of employment; for pensions for aged and exhausted workers; for the public ownership of the means of transportation, communication and exchange; for the graduated taxation of incomes, inheritances, franchises and land values, the proceeds to be applied by the public employment and improvement of the conditions of the workers; for the complete education of children, and their freedom from the workshop; for the equal suffrage of men and women; for the prevention of the use of the military against labor in the settlement of strikes; for the free administration of justice; for popular government, including initiative, referendum, proportional representation, equal suffrage and municipal home rule, and the recall of officers by their constituents; and for every gain or advantage for the workers that may be wrested from the capitalist system, and that may relieve the suffering and strengthen the hands of labor. We lay upon every man elected to any executive or legislative office the first duty of striving to procure whatever is for the workers' most immediate interest, and for whatever will lessen the economic and political powers of the capitalist, and increase the like powers of the worker. But, in so doing, we are using these remedial measures as means to the one great end of the co-operative commonwealth. Such measures of relief as we may be able to force from capitalism are but a preparation of the workers to seize the whole powers of government, in order that they may thereby lay hold of the whole system of industry, and thus come into their rightful inheritance. To this end we pledge ourselves, as the party of the working class, to use all political power, as fast as it shall be entrusted to us by our fellow-workers, both for their immediate interests and for their ultimate and complete emancipation. To this end we appeal to all the workers of America, and to all who will lend their lives to the service of the workers in their struggle to gain their own, and to all who will nobly and disinterestedly give their days and energies unto the workers' cause, to cast in their lot and faith with the Socialist party. And we appeal only to what we, and the men and women whom we represent, are ready to give and have given. Our appeal for the trust and suffrages of our fellow-workers is at once an appeal for their common good and freedom, and for the freedom and blossoming of our common humanity. In pledging ourselves, and those we represent, to be faithful to the appeal which we make, we believe that we are but preparing the soil of that economic freedom from which will spring the freedom of the whole man.

Socialists Need a Program.

Socialism is Attained the Outposts Must be Captured and Wisely Administered with a View of our Final Goal.

By Carl D. Thompson.

There are many reasons why socialism should have a program and state as well as a platform. It seems impossible to have a program of socialism without a platform. That is, a program of socialism is a misnaming of the thing. It is a misnaming because it is a misnaming of the thing that is to be done. It is a misnaming because it is a misnaming of the thing that is to be done. It is a misnaming because it is a misnaming of the thing that is to be done.

Moreover, the program is a necessity from the standpoint of the education of our membership. It would be a calamity if the working class who hope to some day have the whole fabric of human society in their control, should remain ignorant of national, municipal and international problems, until the day they captured the powers of government. Under those conditions that would be a fatal day. What guarantee of safety under Socialism if Socialists are to scorn the knowledge that is the result of detailed study of actual problems intensified and clarified by actual experience in these matters?

It might be conceded that if the program would come to us in the simple form that some think, it would be easy to manage. If the people were all Socialists, if capitalism were utterly uprooted, if there was nothing left of the old system—it would be easy. But our problem is an infinitely greater one. We have to meet capitalism and vanquish it. And to do that we must get the majority on our side. To win that majority we must convince those whom we would win, of our sanity and sense, and capacity,—of our discipline, patience and grasp of problems. We cannot do this except by a widespread dissemination of knowledge of practical affairs among the working class.

If we were anarchists we might say, "It does no good to elect Socialists to office in city or state because they can do nothing till we overthrow the government at Washington." And if we were anarchists, it would not matter to us if such a position as this made the great majority of the working class afraid of us and our propaganda, because it requires only a few bold leaders to manipulate a mob when the hour of a world catastrophe comes.

But we are not anarchists—we are Socialists. And that is quite a different thing. We believe in a political party to capture the powers of government by the classes that are today being oppressed. And we know that we cannot capture all the states, all the cities and all the national governments at once. We know that we will capture here and there a city, a state, a nation. We will have not only to capture the outposts; we will have to hold them for months and perhaps for years before we shall be able to carry the central governments. And thus there will face us the problem of how to develop the endurance, the loyalty and solidarity to hold the victories we win till others can be added. How shall we do this? We cannot do it by telling the hungry that some day there will be a revolution. And especially not while other political parties are offering to the hungry actual bread at hand.

To solicit the votes of the workers, to secure them and thus elect municipal and state officials and then decline to do anything for the workers, would be suicide.

The Socialist party can do something. Those who think they can not, should learn something of what the Socialists who have been elected have been able to do. Let them follow the record of the Socialist officials in Milwaukee as reported from week to week in the Social-Democratic Herald. Or, better,—as these form only a minority and have been in office but a few weeks,—let them read the records of the things accomplished by the Socialists in France. (See pamphlet by Kerr & Co., Chicago, on "Socialists in French Municipalities.")

I suggest that county central committee be composed of one delegate at large from each local; and one extra delegate for every 15 members or majority fraction thereof in good standing; and that such committee be organized when there are three locals in the county.

Officers of County Central Committee.

The officers should be chairman, secretary, treasurer and organizer. The chairman should be a member of the committee. The other officers need not be members of the committee. It is best to have the chairman and secretary located in the same town.

Work of County Central Committee.

1. To define the jurisdiction or field work of each local in the county. 2. To organize a local in every precinct in the county, if possible, and to see that its membership is properly informed in the doctrine and tactics of the Socialist movement, the work of a local and the duties of its officers. 3. To have direction of the county tours of Socialist speakers. 4. To raise funds for sustaining party work in the county. 5. To have control of the county political work, such as calling county conventions, arranging for election of delegates, filling nomination papers, conducting county

THE FARMER'S HOG-YARD, AND THE LORD'S.

Once upon a time—now many years ago—I was working on a farm. My work was of many different kinds, feeding the hogs three times a day, among the rest. There were quite a number of hogs on the place. There were a few big ones, some middling sized ones and a lot of small pigs, and I sometimes amused myself watching them when I had given them their rations. I carried baskets of corn and scattered it all over the ground so as to give all a chance to get a share of it. They went for the corn, shelled it with their teeth and generally the rooster with his flock of hens and chickens got a share too. And the hogs did not mind the chickens either, even when they picked up the loose kernels from right under their feet. As long as there was any corn left they were welcome to their portion. Then when the hogs had enough they would seek a place of rest and lay down together the picture of contentment. And each ration time the operation would be repeated. So much for the hogs.

We will find no such harmony and contentment in God's hogyard. Our good God scatters his corn all over his immense pasture, and there is enough for his whole hog family and some to spare. But what do we see the human hogs do? We see the biggest hogs gather up large heaps of it for themselves, in fact many times more than they can eat themselves. Not always the biggest and strongest hog does this, but in our present time, the most cunning one. Does he gather his enormous heap of corn himself? Not much he don't. Such a heap as he has would take an individual centuries to gather together. That is too slow an operation. He compels the less cunning ones to do the gathering for him—the silly, but innocent dupes of the human hog system, all working until the heap reaches the very sky and he sits on the top rail smiling at his growing property. What is this cunning hog going to do with it all? Providence has ordained that it shall be his, he says, and he will not let his dupes have any more of it than will keep them from starving. What will he do with it? Why, he will give and Engels; "Socialism, Utopian and Scientific," by Engels; "Value, Price and Profit," and "Wage, Labor and Capital," two small books by Marx; and, if you are equal to the task, read "Capital" by Marx. There are many other good books to read. Of course you must be familiar with the national platform!

7. Remember: That the fellows who are doing the dirty work in capitalistic parties, if allowed to join a Socialist local, will be pretty likely to continue serving their old masters. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

8. Remember: That a member who can pay his dues, but will not, has no right in the councils of the Socialist movement. Let him lapse and keep out.

9. Remember: That a member of a local, who, with or without the local, is constantly fighting the generally accepted purposes, doctrines and tactics of the Socialist movement, and advances ideas in sharp conflict therewith, is not entitled to membership in the party, until he has made himself clear to the party. Hence it must have a program in harmony with that purpose. Therefore a platform mixed with the economic interests of any other element of society is not a Socialist platform. To thoroughly understand this, a Socialist must be class-conscious from the standpoint of the interests of the wage-working class.

10. Remember: That the Socialist movement is not a machine to be used by would-be leaders and "great men" to boost themselves into fat political positions. When a member is found plotting and scheming, a la old party methods, to further his own selfish ends, lay him on the shelf until he learns that the Socialist party is a democratic movement which has the right to select its own servants and candidates.

11. Remember: That fusion and side-tracking schemes are the result of unclearness in doctrine and tactics on the part of the rank and file, plus the scheming of a handful of unscrupulous self-seekers who prefer power to principle.

are many capitalists who think of labor as separate from personality and who pay so much money for abstracted labor. The spirit shown by the people in Transvaal may be characterized as typical of the capitalist system. We do not say these things in favor of Asiatic laborers, because we believe that no laborer in Asia would go there under such conditions. But we are rather sorry for the people of the Transvaal that they are so absorbed in self-interest that they forget to obey the principles of civilization and humanity.

NATL. HEADQUARTERS.—The interest displayed in the half day's pay donation during the third week in June to the National Campaign Fund is prophetic of good returns. The good thing about this scheme is that the local and state organizations have an equal share in the proceeds and it is to their interest to push the distribution of lists to the utmost.

Local Cheyenne, Wyo., reports the expulsion of Peter Anderson and Chas. A. Strickland from membership in the local. The report of the national convention bound in paper and cloth covers will be ready for delivery June 15 and orders will be filled promptly after that date. The report is well printed, contains every subject of interest concerning the convention and it should be in the hands of every Socialist in America. Stiff paper covers, 50 cents a copy; red cloth cover, $1 a copy. Order direct from William Masilly, National Secretary, 269 Dearborn st., Chicago, Ill.

NOTES FROM YANKEE LAND. The state convention of Colorado will be held in Denver, July 4.

Ben. Hanford has returned to New York from Colorado, where he went to get material for a pamphlet, which will be used during the presidential campaign.

The Socialists of Chicago made an excursion to Michigan City, Ind., last Sunday on the steamship Indianapolis. The proceeds of the excursion go to strengthen the Chicago Socialist.

Comrade Charles Dobbs, who has severed his connection with Wilshire's Magazine, will continue his residence in New York. He was formerly national committeeman from Kentucky.

At its convention in Denver last week the Western Federation of Miners again declared for Socialism by a vote of over two to one. This furnishes the members a guide in their political conduct that ought to lead the membership in Colorado away from the political snares of capitalism as expressed in both the capitalistic parties.

A bunch of misplaced S. I. P.'s in Detroit, who control Branch 1 of our party in that city, are throwing a convulsion over the "reform" national platform adopted at the Chicago convention, not dreaming, in their obtuseness, that the Chicago platform is no change from the usual Socialist platform except that it is loaded down with words. A comparison between it and the Erfurt platform shows that it adheres closely to the established Social-Democratic principles as embodied in that historic and classic document. The Detroit comrades imagine they see a betrayal of the party by "middle class muddle-heads," and as to just who they mean by this a paragraph in some resolutions they have drafted, shows. In that paragraph they "unreservedly condemn the boss-rust system inaugurated by the Berger-Simons-Untermann combine." The Detroit members call the new platform "a disgrace to the party," which seems to bear out our criticism of it that it is not written in the language of the street and therefore liable not to be readily grasped by some people.

Our Chicago comrades are now going ahead to redeem Chicago as a true Socialist center. The spewing out of the impossibilists is already bearing fine fruit and last week a county convention was held at which there were 175 delegates present and a large number of sympathetic spectators. Seymour Stedman was nominated for states' attorney, James P. Larson for recorder, Charles W. Green for clerk of superior court, John T. Caulfield for clerk of circuit court, and the following as county commissioners: A. Henry, A. B. Grout, Henry Doze, C. H. Lintelman, H. J. Wiesel, Sidney C. Yoeman, Thomas Halls, Barney Berlyn, G. Y. Courtney, and A. A. Wigness. For commissioners from the county Robert Knox of Winnetka, Daniel Quinn of Chicago Heights, Louis Stolle of Evanston, William McConnell of Melrose Park, and Frank Smith of Winnetka, were nominated. For member of board of review, Charles L. Breckon; for member board of assessors, Leonard Button; for coroner, Dr. George Slater; for county surveyor, L. A. Mitchell; and for judges of the superior court, Peter Sissman, A. W. Mance, Grant Dever, William A. Cunnea, W. H. Ryder and J. M. Crook were nominated. The committee on platform was made up as follows: Thomas J. Morgan, Seymour Stedman, F. McClusky, A. M. Simons, Charles L. Breckon, Barney Berlyn and T. J. Coney. A. S. Edwards was made permanent secretary of the convention. Now watch Chicago!

The impossibilist bunch in Chicago who have been forced out of control of the party, have issued a small paper named "No Compromise." It is published and edited by W. H. Spears.

ACROSS THE HERRING POND. Heimen Shinbun, the Japanese Socialist paper, has this to say of the Transvaal and Asiatic labor importation:

Since the Boer war, gold production in the Transvaal has decreased a great deal, the amount being not more than two-thirds of the volume reached before the war. The mining companies have been endeavoring to get permission from the authorities to import Chinese coolies. When we heard about it, we thought it would give a good opportunity for Asiatic laborers to enter into a new field of activity in South Africa, but we are greatly disappointed since we have learned what the regulations are defining the conditions under which Asiatic laborers may be brought in. The principal provisions are as follows:

- 1. No Asiatic laborer shall be employed except in unskilled labor in the mines.
2. At the expiration of three years or five years, unless he renews his contract, the laborer shall be returned to the country from which he is brought.
3. While working in the mines he shall not leave the premises on which he is employed without a permit signed by an authorized person, and no permit shall cover more than forty-eight hours.
4. The contractor who imports the laborers shall be responsible for their return at the expiration of the contract, and his rights over the laborers cannot legally be assigned save to one other person, and that a person licensed by public officials as having provided suitable accommodations for coolie laborers.
5. This is only a disguised form of slavery. Is it necessary to bind innocent laborers in chains in order to make them slaves? No, if you treat a man as a machine, you are making him your slave. To invite a man to any kind of hard labor and send him back as soon as the term of the contract expires, is nothing more than to treat him as a lifeless machine. It would be quite reasonable if the people in the Transvaal refused the importation of Asiatic laborers because of their lack of education, but this is not their intention; they would reject them on the ground that they are skilled laborers. They do not care for personality, education and skill, but they need unskilled laborers who can never compete with them. They

Books on International Socialism.

Table listing various books on international socialism with authors and prices. Includes titles like 'A Study in Government', 'The Communist Manifesto', 'The Social Revolution', etc.

What International Socialism Demands:

- 1. Collective ownership of public utilities and all industries in the hands of Trusts and Combinations. 2. Democratic management of such collective industry. 3. Reduction of the hours of labor and progressively increased remuneration.

Woman and other Workers, and the Modern "Hustle."

"In a word, the truth about woman in industry is, she is a frightful failure." This is the contention of a Mrs. Flora McDonald Thompson in an article published in the North American Review.

The Massachusetts bureau of labor statistics has found that, when the wife earns wages, the husband earns less than other laborers. Seven thousand seven hundred and forty-eight men whose wives are employed earn less than fifty cents a day.

What the writer says about the wearing of business life upon women is doubtless true. Woman today has "nerves." It is not a natural condition to be in, but it can hardly be avoided under our modern ways of living, dressing and eating.

All this does not argue that the pursuit called business is not woman's sphere. By no means. It merely argues that woman stands the strenuousness of modern business and industrial life less successfully than man.

The strenuous business life which the present stage of the development of the capitalist system demands, has not held the stage long enough for us to accurately measure its deleterious effect on the human race.

It is partly for this reason that mankind is turning to Socialism as a way out of the modern day-time nightmare called competition. Socialism, with its order, its planfulness, and its justice between man and man, promises a society in which each one by contributing of his strength a reasonable number of hours daily, will secure a peaceful existence, a normal leisure and a temperate, self-respecting and wholesome life.

Of all ridiculous things! Now comes the scheme-factory at Girard with a proposition to give away a house-boat navy in a subscriber contest. The winner is to give up his vulgar bread and butter labors and convert to Socialism all people who can be lured to sit on the banks of the navigable rivers and listen to a speech.

Organized labor in Chicago has appealed to President Roosevelt, the president of the rich, to send federal troops into Colorado and to restore order there. Roosevelt will not send them, of course, but still it is a duty for organized labor to register its protest and the petitions ought to fly into Washington like snowflakes driven by a blizzard.

Are you a lazy Socialist? Prove that you are not. The proof is your membership card, paid up to date. Notice to Camden, N. J., readers. L. Juster, 17 Hudson St., Camden, N. J., is authorized to take subscriptions for this paper.

Why Socialists Need a Program. (Continued from Page 3.) of capitalism, thus relieving the workers, and to that extent redeeming society, such a course will be regarded by people everywhere and in every class as a practical demonstration of the ability and wisdom of the Socialists and of the correctness of the Socialist philosophy.

The general philosophy is presented to them. They see the idea and know it is good. But they ask: How is it to be brought about? That is a fair question. It is not sufficient to reply that Socialism is inevitable. And besides it is untrue. It is not enough to answer by explaining the doctrine of "economic determinism."

"Only a Sprinkle!"
One Michael Walsh, a veteran of office-seeker and old party politician, who has traded on his unionism for years until it was found by the Democrats that he was not "delivering the goods," and who then turned Republican in the hope of continuing the game, declared in the meeting of the Milwaukee Catholic societies that no bona fide union would have anything to do with Socialism and that he had kept Socialism down to a mere sprinkle in his own union, Typographical No. 23, had the pleasure (?) recently of seeing his own union elect a prominent Socialist for president, later on cast an overwhelming vote for Victor L. Berger in the national referendum for delegates to the A. F. of L. convention from the I. T. U., and now we learn that at the last meeting of the union a motion to purchase fifty tickets to the picnic of the Wisconsin Socialists at Schlitz Park, Milwaukee, July 17, went through without a dissenting vote. Poor Walsh! According to his own definition his own union is no longer "bona fide," and the "mere sprinkle" is of a kind that isn't so "mere" after all.

ATTENTION MILWAUKEE AND WISCONSINI!

Important Work is in Hand. Are You Willing to Sustain it? Do You Want the Work to go on?

It would make a great deal of noise if there were to be five thousand and talkers for Socialism in this city, but if no one organized there would never be a vote cast for the party.

What is needed to get rid of the rotten machines of the old parties in a fighting machine of Social-Democrats. We have the machine, but it is not yet large enough to do the work demanded of it in this fall's campaign.

Working men rightly distrust the sincerity of any party which professes to be friendly to labor, and then asks for big campaign distributions from the capitalist class.

Thirty new members for the party, and four townships all stirred up over the campaign of the Social-Democrats, are the results so far of the new work in Waukesha county.

Funds are needed to pay for the literature which is being distributed in the county, and comrades who are interested are requested to send contributions for this purpose to the state organizer, W. R. Gaylord.

Similar work will be begun in the outlying towns of Milwaukee county before long, and the old party politicians will find that their fences are breaking down in every direction before long, as a result of the systematic work which is being done.

Inquiries and requests for meetings are coming in from Calhoun, Cudahy and West Allis, thus showing that the record of the spring campaign, together with the work of our Social-Democratic aldermen and supervisors, is having its effect upon the minds of the people around the city.

Organize, organize! and then distribute literature, is the method of our campaign of education.

Attention, Comrades!

The National Quorum recommends that all locals of the Social-Democratic party be advised to arrange public protest meetings against capitalist anarchy in Colorado. The lawless and brutal oppression of miners in that state and the utter disregard of law and constitutional rights should stir the indignation of every American citizen.

E. H. Thomas, State Secy.

Reference Library Needed.

The need has arisen in our Milwaukee movement for a reference library adapted to the needs of the comrades who are elected to public office, as well as those who are making a study of the problems connected with municipal and state government.

While there are many books in the public library which can be and are being used, there ought to be a collection of such works at the headquarters of the party, not to be taken away, which can be consulted by those who most need them.

Such a collection should include public reports, for instance of the U. S. Labor Commissioner, and reports of State Departments of Labor, Educational reports, reports of Prison and other Commissioners, reports of Municipal Conventions, and in short everything of a nature calculated to furnish information to those who wish to be posted upon the subjects connected with our public life.

We therefore invite comrades having such works on hand which they are willing to contribute to bring them to the headquarters, where they will be put into a convenient place, and where as the collection grows the comrades can furnish suitable book-cases for them.

The beginning of this library can be made now, and its later development looked after as it grows and is found useful by those who consult it.

This paper may be had ten weeks for ten cents. Try it.

We don't know everything

We are learning every day. We, last week, acquired some new information as to the price a first class, honest-made shoe could be made for workingmen.

The Railway Employee's Journal

It is the official organ of the United Brotherhood of Railway Employees (An industrial union embracing every department of R. R. service) and of the RAILROAD AUXILIARY, U. S. R. E. The Journal contains more news of interest to R. R. men every week, than any other paper. It supports the principles of New Trade Unionism and Political Action and deserves the support of every intelligent R. R. Employee.

Echoes from the Committee Room.

The graveyard, where the hopes of the Working-Class are laid quietly at rest.

The ice plant ordinance presented to the common council was referred to the Judiciary Committee. It provided that the city-fathers go on record as favoring the erection of a municipal ice plant, and that they instruct the Legislative Committee to take such steps as are necessary to procure favorable legislation at Madison.

No wit's up to the city attorney. There will be an intellectual abortion at that office. The name of the babe will be: "Not Legal."

Wake up! Get your acquaintances to wake up. The Social Democratic Herald is the best alarm clock. Why not give it a trial and see?

the Parry Citizens' Alliance. Capitalism was getting ready to turn the American Republic into an empire and relied on the Alliance to prepare the way.

The Organization and Grievance committees reported jointly, it having decided to turn down the purchase of tickets for the Social-Democratic picnic and the Garment Workers' picnic.

Bro. Handley reported for the committee to see Geo. Brunder relative to union paper and committee was given further time.

The Label Section reported that Bro. Feeley had been elected president and Bro. Reichert vice president.

Executive Board announced that it would audit the books on July 3. A resolution to purchase $5 worth of literature each month was carried.

Resolutions were passed to be presented to the Municipal Ice mass meeting and the following delegation of twenty-five appointed to represent the council: Bros. Dipple, Hanson, Wilson, Hartwig, Rooney, Thompson, Vogt, Drout, Hoffman, Heath, Weber, Wilson, Dietz, Bauman, Hendrickson, Brodke, Breen, Kourt, Peterson, Pepke, Gaylord, Crowley, Diederich, Reichert and Freitag. Following are the resolutions:

Whereas, The citizens of Milwaukee are now suffering and are likely to suffer more on account of the exorbitant prices being charged for ice by the dealers in this city, and

Whereas, This rise in the price of ice is not due to any shortage of the supply or increase in the cost of production, but is due entirely to the fact that a few persons have it in their power to control the sale of ice for their own personal profit, regardless of the welfare of the community or the health of the people; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Federated Trades Council of Milwaukee, representing 23,000 organized working people of this city, do hereby demand that the city council and the members of the state legislature take such steps as shall be calculated to secure the establishment of a municipal ice plant, for the furnishing of ice to the people of the city, and be it also

Resolved, That these resolutions be presented to the mass meeting to be held at Liedertafel hall by a delegation of twenty-five members of this body.

Resolutions on the Colorado situation from Typographical 23 were unanimously passed as follows:

Whereas, Colorado situation—that's enough:

Resolved, That the corresponding secretary sign, seal and forward to the President of the United States the following letter:

Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, Washington, D. C.

Sir: The Milwaukee Federated Trades Council, a voluntary delegate body representative of 23,000 union men and women, calls your attention to the deplorable condition of affairs now and for some time past existing in the state of Colorado, and, as sovereign citizens, we make most emphatic and vigorous protest against a continuance of same.

We hold that you, as the chief executive of the nation and commander in chief of the army and navy, have it in your power to restore the state of Colorado to its normal condition of peace, with safety, freedom, and happiness for its citizens, and we demand that you do so, using the quickest and best means at your command. If there is need of military rule in Colorado, which we doubt, let it be under your direction. You have no precedent to break. If, in 1894, it was lawful and right for Grover Cleveland to send United States troops into the state of Illinois, against the wishes of governor, county, and municipal officers, it is now, in 1904, a hundred times more right that Theodore Roosevelt wrest from Peabody and Bell the authority usurped and exercised.

Heed this, our righteously indignant protest, and a demand founded upon and tempered with justice. Act without fear and stand right in the eyes of the world.

Business Agent Wilson, of the MacInists, informed the council of the high handed proceedings of the board of public works in the interests of the bidders on the new pump for the water works and of the throw-down of labor in its demand that it be made by men working eight hours a day. Delegate Gaylord called attention to the fact that the board had lost one member for reasons that were well known and that in their present conduct they were at least selling out the life of the working class. On motion the board of business agents was instructed to seek legal advice with full power to act.

Delegates from the Barbers announced that the bosses were no longer in control of the union and a disagreement between the delegates was referred to the Grievance committee. A motion to extend sympathy to the Western Federation of Miners and to urge them to join the A. F. of L. was laid over.

Communications. From Brush-workers announcing new affiliation with Brushmakers and the new label. From Barbers complaining of union men getting shaved in non-union shops. From Butcher Workmen asking endorsement of putting Wm. Barkow, 871 Kinnickinnic ave., on unfair list. Action already taken. Receipts for evening $65.07. Disbursements $119.67.

Town Topics by the Town Crier.

Socialism interests mainly the working class and this fact is one of the obstacles as well as the advantages of the Socialist propaganda. It makes it impracticable to employ solicitors, and yet the working class must be induced to read up on Socialism if they are to get a correct understanding of it.

Milwaukee indulged in a big mass meeting Thursday evening at Liedertafel hall, to protest against the ice squeeze and to urge the city council to demand of the coming state legislature the necessary permission to permit the city to establish a municipal ice plant.

Here is a chance for wide awake boys to make a little extra money! Since the entrance of the Social Democrats into the city council and the county board the call for copies of The Herald on the streets has increased and we are prepared to make a very liberal offer to any boy who wishes to put in part of his Saturday selling the paper on the down town streets.

DEFIES THE CITY COUNCIL!

Capitalistic Officials are always against Labor - and Labor is in the Majority!

Another case of capitalistic official duplicity has developed at the city hall. Some time ago the board of public works advertised for bids for a 20-million gallon pumping engine for the North Point pumping station, but the 8-hour work clause was omitted.

day arrived the mayor had not signed the resolution and the board proceeded to defy the mandate of the council and opened the bids. The aldermen who introduced the resolution made a formal protest to the board, but it did no good and the contract was awarded to the William Todd Company of Youngstown, O., who were understood to have the inside track in the bidding.
