SWEEPING AWAY BEFORE US EVERYWHERE!

The-Social-Democratic-Candidates and their Cross-Country Tours.

The following tours of the national Social-Democratic candidates, Debs and Haggard, are the marvel of the electoral crime in the various cities in which they speak. Crowds assemble everywhere to hear the speeches of these men of the people, and every walking talk of the meeting is talked over again. The meetings have been well attended, and the property of the city has been used for the purpose of the meeting.

The Socialist's candidates are not the only ones engaging in a political campaign. The Socialist candidates have been pitched into a heated battle with the candidates of the Republican Party, and the contest is likely to be a close one.

The Social-Democratic candidates have been placed in a position where they are compelled to speak out and make their position known. They are not afraid to speak out and make their position known, and they are determined to keep the country moving in the direction of Socialism.

The millines in Pennsylvania are said to be lathered in those states, amplifying the feelings of the Social-Democrats. The latter are said to be working hard to ensure the success of their candidates. The millines are also known to be supportive of the Social-Democrats, and their support is crucial for the success of the candidates. The Social-Democrats are expected to make significant gains in the upcoming elections, as they continue to gain support from the working class and other minority groups.

The Best is Good Enough

When we say the BEST we mean that a Stove or Heater should be one equipped with all the latest improvements known in the science of stove-making. And should be made by the most skilled Mechanics in a mechanical way, that, when a stove is ready for the consumer, there is no question about what the stove will do. People have got tired of having stoves misrepresented to them. Our line of stoves are not made by the stove trust, but are made by independent Mfrs., who employ only the best mechanics to be had, and who pay living wages and work their men under fair condition. We do not propose to make the public believe that we sell our goods at cost, for that would be impossible. But do say that we will give the customer the best value for what he pays.

But conscientiously believe that we have the Best Line of Stoves and Heaters in the City.

It is Man versus Mammon—The Church Will Have to Take its Stand!

Cecil Clayton J. Lamb, editor of the City View, has written a book entitled "It Is Man versus Mammon—The Church Will Have to Take Its Stand!" which is a strong plea for the importance of religion in society and the need for churches to address the issue of materialism.

Lamb argues that in a society increasingly dominated by material values, the church must take a stand against the tyranny of Mammon—money and material possessions. He contends that the church must teach its members to value spiritual wealth over material gain.

The book discusses the role of the church in society and the importance of religious education in fostering a society that values the spiritual over the material. Lamb also argues that the church must engage with the issues of social justice and economic inequality in order to truly address the problem of Mammon.

The author invites readers to consider the ways in which they can contribute to a society that values spiritual wealth over material gain. He encourages readers to think critically about the role of money in society and to consider how they can lead lives that are guided by spiritual principles rather than by material desires.

This Ought to Wake You!!

The article discusses the need for people to wake up and realize the importance of their actions in society. It calls for a greater awareness of the issues facing the world and the need for individuals to take responsibility for their actions.

The author argues that people are often complacent and do not take the time to think critically about the world around them. They are content to let others solve problems and do not question the status quo.

The article encourages readers to become more engaged in their communities and to take action to address the issues that face society. It emphasizes the importance of education and critical thinking in creating a more just and equitable world.

Don’t Forget to Register.

Member is very much in favor of registering in the State. The registration bureaus are held by the people of the same age and the rules of the same age, and the voters in the same age must be kept up, if there is any chance of winning.

In the state of Wisconsin the Social-Democratic vote will be the first one from the Chicago district, and it will be the last one from the Lake district.

One of the best measures to carry this vote is to register, and to vote for all the Social-Democratic candidates, and to vote for the state orders of the District.
