The Ethics of Socialism are Identical with the Ethics of Christianity. -- Encyclopedia Brittanica.

Milwaukee, Wis., U. S. A., March 11, 1905.
Purposely Published for Propaganda.

SEVENTH YEAR
NUMBER 45
Whole Number. 845

A bundle of 1 for distribution will be sent in the next 3 weeks for 50 cents.

WHERE NOT PAID IN ADVANCE, THE LOCAL YEARLY RATE IS 75 CENTS.

The Lesson of the Beef Trust

Victoria L. Berger shows the Government's Powerlessness

Theodore Roosevelt has called a special failure of his attack on the "trust system." The trust is the type of monopoly which is the subject of the proposed legislation. The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President. The report is to the effect that these companies have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.

The report is to the effect that six packing companies--Smith, C. & T., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and the National Packing company--have failed to live up to the terms of the act passed last year by Congress and signed by the President.
ON MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

It fits, then, many of the arguments of opponents of municipal ownership have been directed into the speaker of a "patriotic" as a tenet of our own.

The beef has not been brought to the point where the municipal committee has come to a position to make the counter-accusations, and the clear matter will be to make the bill and hold it up to the test of the people.

The commissioner of corporation has made the slighting discovery that the profits of the two city-owned enterprises are enormous. The commission is now in a position to make sure that the city-owned enterprises are used for the benefit of the people and not for the profit of those who are in control of them.

The advisory board of the Gas Commission was appointed for the purpose of investigating the question of municipal ownership, and not for the purpose of promoting the interests of the gas companies.

What We Social-Democrats Are After.

The Social-Democrats are after municipal ownership, not because they are in favor of municipal socialism, but because they believe that the city-owned enterprises are necessary for the welfare of the people.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be run for the benefit of the people, and not for the profit of those who are in control of them.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as fair to the people as possible, and not in a way that will be as profitable as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as efficient as possible, and not in a way that will be as wasteful as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as honest as possible, and not in a way that will be as dishonest as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as just as possible, and not in a way that will be as unjust as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as democratic as possible, and not in a way that will be as undemocratic as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as free as possible, and not in a way that will be as restrained as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as safe as possible, and not in a way that will be as unsafe as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as healthy as possible, and not in a way that will be as unhealthy as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as comfortable as possible, and not in a way that will be as uncomfortable as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as tasty as possible, and not in a way that will be as untasty as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as easy to use as possible, and not in a way that will be as difficult to use as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as convenient as possible, and not in a way that will be as inconvenient as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as cheap as possible, and not in a way that will be as expensive as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as accessible as possible, and not in a way that will be as inaccessible as possible.

The Social-Democrats believe that the city-owned enterprises should be operated in a way that will be as portable as possible, and not in a way that will be as heavy as possible.
THE SURVIVAL OF THE SLICKEST

Robert Blatchford Goes for a British Baronet

MILWAUKEE HeralD

Union Labels and Shop Cards.

Gleanings from Busy Socialistic Fields!

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS:

Walter Thomas Mills, A. M.

The Socialistic Movement in England.

But Don't Tell Garfield!

SociAL-DEMOCRATIC HERALD.

The Socialist movement in England is now in full cry and the Social Democratic Federation is now coming into its own. The Labor party is now in the majority and the Social Democratic Federation is now coming into its own.

The Socialist movement in England is now in full cry and the Social Democratic Federation is now coming into its own. The Labor party is now in the majority and the Social Democratic Federation is now coming into its own.

NOTE: In some cities the organization is known as the Socialistic Party, in others as the Social-Democratic party. In some it is called the Labor party, in others as the Social Democratic Federation.
HALF HOURS IN THE HERALD SANCTUARY.

Review Class Series.

Editor Social-Democratic Herald:—Before closing the week-long course in the History of Labor, it will be well to repeat the rule that the charges made against any group of employers are not to be accepted at their face value, but that the evidence must be carefully examined and the facts ascertained before reaching a conclusion.

The charges against the employers are based on the testimony of workmen, who are often too inexperienced to know the true state of affairs. The employers, on the other hand, are often too prejudiced to tell the truth. The truth lies somewhere between these two extremes, and must be sought for by independent investigation.

The charges against the employers are often based on the testimony of workmen who have been discharged or otherwise treated unfairly. These workmen are often too resentful to give a fair account of the facts, and are likely to exaggerate their grievances.

The employers, on the other hand, are often too secretive to give a complete picture of the conditions in their factories. They are likely to understate the number of accidents, the amount of overtime, and the amount of pay.

The truth lies somewhere between these two extremes, and must be sought for by independent investigation.

The charges against the employers are often based on the testimony of workmen who have been discharged or otherwise treated unfairly. These workmen are often too resentful to give a fair account of the facts, and are likely to exaggerate their grievances.

The employers, on the other hand, are often too secretive to give a complete picture of the conditions in their factories. They are likely to understate the number of accidents, the amount of overtime, and the amount of pay.

The truth lies somewhere between these two extremes, and must be sought for by independent investigation.