BLATZ WIENER BEER

To be health inspiring, appetizing, nourishing — the beer must be good. Blatz Wiener beer possesses every element of beer quality. Its very fragrance and "body" suggests at once the honesty of its ingredients. The wheat, malt and the aromatic properties of the hops are manifest in every glass. The Blatz method of preparing the malt and original style of brewing accomplish perfection peculiar to Blatz Beers — this is the secret of Blatz character.

Winner as a Table Beverage

The hop bitterizes as an appetizer and digestant — and the malt is nourishing and "body." The brew is admirably digestible. Blatz Wiener is the Scholastic favorite and withal a favorite of all National Intelligence. It is the nourishing beverage of the nation's current health. It always gives the best result in a case won from home.

Socialist Aldermen at Work!

The City Council of Milwaukee was in session last week and many of the Aldermen were present. The meeting was rather a quiet one, as there were only a few items of business to be transacted. Among the items of business was the passing of the appropriations for the various departments of the city. The Aldermen were all present and gave their approval to the various resolutions. The meeting lasted for several hours and the Aldermen were all occupied in the discharge of their duties.

Public Ownership Cheaper Than Private Plundering

Our correspondents who are "due" in New York for the American Institute of Architects have prepared this important article for publication in the "New York Independent," with the consent of architects everywhere. It is so strikingly realistic that even the most sanguine of us will be forced to admit that the thing is of the most serious consequence.

Our correspondent states that the "New York Independent" is now in the process of printing a series of articles on the subject of public ownership of utilities. The first article, written by a well-known architect, is entitled "Public Ownership Cheaper Than Private Plundering." The article is based on the experiences of the architects in New York City, and it is pointed out that the cost of building a public works project is much lower than the cost of building a private project.

The article also states that the architects have found that the public works projects are less prone to corruption than the private projects. The reason for this is that the public works projects are subject to public scrutiny, whereas the private projects are not. The architects also point out that the public works projects are more likely to be built on time and within budget, whereas the private projects are more likely to be completed late and over budget.

The article concludes that the public works projects are a better investment for the taxpayers, and that the architects are in favor of public ownership of utilities.

The "New York Independent" is a respected periodical, and the article by the architects is sure to attract a great deal of attention. It is hoped that the article will help to bring about a change in the way that public works projects are handled.

FOR OUR NEW READERS:

THIS COUNTRY is made up of working people, both industrial and agricultural, and both city and country. Being is part of the government, we new government. We are working people, and we don’t believe in the exploitation of the people. The government is just the government, and we work for its sake. The people is the government, and we work for its sake.

The Social-Democratic Herald has been in publication for over 20 years, and during that time has been the leading voice of the working people. We have always stood for the working people, and we will always stand for the working people.

The Social-Democratic Herald is published every week, and is available in all the major cities of the country. We welcome new readers, and hope that you will support us in our work for the working people.

Program of International Social-Democracy:

1. Collectives of all kinds in the hands of the workers and not of the masters.
2. Industrial trade unions with the right of strike and lockout.
3. Direct democracy in the hands of the workers and not in the hands of the masters.
4. National independence for all the workers.
5. Social settlement for all the workers.

The Social-Democratic Herald is the voice of the working people, and we will always stand for the working people. We welcome new readers, and hope that you will support us in our work for the working people.

A Warning to Advertisers!

At Wednesday's meeting of the Advertising Committee of the Social Democratic Party, a resolution was adopted which is considered to be an important step in the right direction. The resolution, which was presented by Mr. E. C. M. Matthews, a member of the party, states that it is the duty of every member of the party to refrain from making any advertisement which may be considered false or misleading. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 5, with the following members voting in favor: Matthews, Smith, Brown, Johnson, and Williams. The following members voted against: Clark, Davis, White, Green, and Brown.

Social-Democratic Notes.

The next meeting of the Social-Democratic Party will be held on Tuesday, May 10th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Hall of the State University. All members are requested to attend. The agenda will include the following subjects:

1. The results of the recent elections in Europe.
2. The current state of the workers' movement in America.
3. The recent decisions of the International Workingmen's Association.

Following the speeches, a discussion will be held on the following topics:

1. The role of the Social-Democratic Party in the struggle for socialism.
2. The need for unity among workers of all countries.
3. The importance of education in the workers' movement.

Special guest speakers for this meeting will be Mr. E. C. M. Matthews and Mr. J. H. Davis, both prominent members of the party.
