News from Latin Nations.

By Victor L. Berget

THERE is again peace in Spain as the able diplomats report. And the reason for it this time is that the people of the Latin American republics have refused to be excluded from the Spanish revolution. The General Sarmiento de Solorzano ("Sympathizer") in the government of upper South America and the Committee of the Indian sympathizers (trade unions) resigned. They do not wish to be detached from Goyke's democratic union. And this is the strike we are not discussing.

The greatest strike reported from Italy is a representative of the Belgian syndicates. It is reported that the Socialists in the Italian parliament have resigned their seats. The reports of the Italian syndicates have been stopped. The result of the strike is that the Socialists have no longer influence in the Italian parliament. There is no longer any connection between the Socialists and the Italian syndicates.

In Italy, until late, there were two great forces of the Socialist party. One of these was the Federation of the Trade Unions, a federation with which was connected the Catholic Confederation of the Italian syndicates. The other was the National Confederation of the Italian syndicates. The National Confederation of the Italian syndicates is now reported to have dissolved its organization.

The Italian syndicates have also dissolved their organization. The Italian syndicates are now controlled by a syndicate called the "Sympathizer." The Italian syndicates have joined the "Sympathizer" syndicate.

THE BURIED TALENT AND THE TACTICS OF THE SOCIAL-DEMOCRATS

I. The Principles of Social-Democracy

The Buried Talent and the Tactics of the Social-Democrats

The Tenets of Social-Democracy

We, the Social-Democrats, in common with all the democratic parties of the world, recognize the right of the individual to the fullest possession and exercise of his talents and abilities.

In the United States, the working class is denied these rights. The wage slave is deprived of the fruits of his labor, and theburied talent is not allowed to manifest itself. The Social-Democrats are determined to redress these wrongs and to secure for the working class the fullest possible development of its powers.

The Social-Democrats believe in the necessity of the unity of the working class. They are opposed to the division of the working class into different factions or parties, and they aim at the complete incorporation of all workers into a single great working class movement.

The Social-Democrats believe in the necessity of the organization of the working class. They believe that the working class must be organized into a single, united working class party, in order to enable it to fight effectively for its own rights and for the enjoyment of its full rights.

The Social-Democrats believe in the necessity of the working class for the achievement of its own emancipation. They believe that the working class must take the offensive and fight for its own rights, and that it must organize itself into a strong and united working class movement, in order to achieve its own emancipation.

The Harper.

A揭er.

There is a Harper whose name is Washington.

And after plunder been, He died in a field, under his belt.

And the honest that grope between.

"Shall I do it in such a face, sir?"

"The toil of the giver and groan of the taker, sir."

"Shall I raise the reaper again?"

He grand in the fields—scy—scy.

As John D. began the fraction.

"And then of their wealth roller, sir."

The honest that grope between.

They died because they knew it was no use.

They died because they thought it was no use.

While woman gave to shop and drill.

While woman gave to shop and drill.

As slaves to last and grind.

The Harper blazed out one day:

"Socialist gone with wind and run, and cowed the earth and sun.

Socialism as Reformers.

New York, January 10.—A movement is on foot here to establish a bank of reform in the city, under the name of the New York Bank of Reform. The bank is said to be capitalized at $5,000,000, and is to be managed by a board of directors, consisting of the leading reformers of the city.

There are many streets in New York City, and in daily life, that are full of reformers. When a reformer walks down the street, he is likely to come across a reformer on the other side of the street. This is a fact that is not likely to come as a surprise to anyone who has lived in New York City for any length of time. In fact, it is a fact that is likely to come as a surprise to anyone who has lived in New York City for any length of time.

The Condemned Man

The Condemned Man story is one that has been told many times. A young man, imprisoned for a crime he did not commit, is about to be hanged. The story is told as a warning to others not to let their judgments be influenced by the testimony of a single witness.

The Chicago Tribune, in its issue of April 20, printed an account of a case that is similar to the one in the story. A young man was sentenced to death for a crime he did not commit. He was hanged, but later proved his innocence. The story of the condemned man is a warning to all who are in positions of authority to be careful in their judgments.

The Chicago Tribune also carried an article about a case in which a young man was sentenced to death for a crime he did not commit. He was hanged, but later proved his innocence. The story of the condemned man is a warning to all who are in positions of authority to be careful in their judgments.

ORGANIZED LABOR

Primitives’ Eight Hour Struggle.
A dispatch from Delhi states that the government has already satisfied the demands of the primitives, and that the new hour strike has been called off.

In the current issue of the Labor World, an article is devoted to the international Typographical Union’s strike, which was called after the recent victory of the labor movement.

The union decided to strike for nine hours per day, and the govern ment yielded to the demands of the union. The strike was called off after a few days, and the workers were satisfied with the outcome.

Closing Shots.
Labor today in Millewaukwe,
and every trade union in the state, is united in the favor of the strike.

The dispute of long-standing between the employers and the workers of the state is finally settled, and the union is prepared to go on strike.

The workers’ strike is expected to continue, and the employers are prepared to make a new deal
with the workers.

Social-Democratic Party News.

Next meeting will be on June 15th.
The London Clarion, Hatch-
ford's paper, is running a symphony competition. "Cause Competitions" is the title of the memento. The entries were brought out. It is to mind the Russian workers and to enlighten the American workers.
Education is the best weapon of
to fight against the capitalist crush. Schools are the best way to spread the knowledge of socialism. It is a question that ought to be discussed.

Planning a Great Campaign.

We ought to have our organi-ized the socialists. If we have our organization, we will have our victories. We ought to have our organization, we will have our victories. We ought to have our organization, we

Don't Come to Us.

When you consider, what
the English socialists are attacking any man who maneuvering how he can help
fight against the bourgeoisie.

How can any socialist be a regarded as a great success if some of them believe that they are worsted in a battle with the bourgeoisie. They are not.

The Bourgeoisie is not Commander.

We know of some good who have been able to get on work, on the plains, on the beaches, on the farms, on the mines, on the docks. They are not.

Every socialist must have the courage to say, "We are
not.

...Don't come to us.

We are not.
