Archbishop Messmer says that the Socialists' claim that religion is a private matter is all wrong. What does he want? Does he want religion considered a public matter political parties meddling in it? The Social-Democrats say that their party has enough to tend to its own knitting, its business is to bring about the common ownership of the means of production and dis tribution. Its members keep their own religious views to themselves and merely band together in an effort to overturn the present political system.

A party of young aristocratic at Springfield, Ills. dulged in a banquet at the bottom of a coal mine near that place, as a new sensation, in imitation we suppose of the monkey dinners of the snobs at Newport. The useful citizens who mine coal had to stand around and wait till the useless trash got through with their feast. Whether the miners felt honored at this visit of the parasites who consume what they and their kind produce, we do not know. But it gave them a chance to get a near view of the superficiality of the class that grinds their faces.

According to a bulletin just is sued by the government the export trade from this country to foreign markets has increased since 1000 one hundred and nine per cent. during the same time the population has increased only twen-ty per cent. That's the vav the old thing works! The depletion of the people grows with giant strides in comparison with the growth of the population itself. No wonder there is race suicide when the food and the wealth produced by the workers of the country is being hurried abroad to be turned into dollars for the enrichment of our capitalists.

Milwaukee's "boy wonder" mayor has been put on the freak list of several Western Chautauquas. This is a little hard on the public, but doubtless a good thing for the "wonder" as he will by frequent repetition be finally able to read the speech prepared for him without atumbling over the words of three syllables. The stress of unemployment is so great in England that the better class of the out-of-works, after being at their wits end as to how to keep life in their bodies and a roof over their heads, have taken in des over their heads, have taken in desperation to the vacant lands and refuse to "move on." They organize agricultural squads and regularly start in to raise crops. A six acre field belonging to the cathedral of Manchester was seized by one such body of sufferers, and as they proved to be defiant and have no respect for title deeds that did not come from the maker of the earth come from the maker of the earth, the cathedral is puzzling over the question of "what would Jesus do" if he had become a commercialized land owner under the present economic system! Envy and Malice! Justice is envy and malice to these fellows get the prosperity and who want to retain their monopoly of it. Envy is set down as a sin. It all depends. If the workers work themselves into disease and death and non-workers get the wealth the workers create, then if it be envy for the workers to feel that the product should go to them, then 'envy" is a virtue, and we say it without hesitation.

Michael Davitt two days before his death made the request that no testimoni, e raised on behalf of his family or public monument to his memory. It was just such a request as one would expect the big-hearted and unostentatious Irish patriot to make, and yet there is a question after all, if he has the right to command his admirers the world over in such matters. Monuments have been erected to numbskulls and utterly unworthy men, it is true, but this is no reason why Davitt's memory should not be perpetuated in bronze or stone. Erecting monuments may be a vain thing but just the same, in proper cases. it is a natural prompting and a praisworthy recognition of the human ideals that people admire.

Stoddard Dewcy writes as folows about Socialism in France in the August number of the Atlantic monthly: To come down to round numbers, which are not further out of the way than round numbers usually are, one quarter of the French people may be considered passively ripe for the Socialist gospel, more, apparently, than the number of those ready to interest themselves in the Roman Catholic religion; 4,000,000 individuals are already more or less actively turned toward the new light; and, apart from politics and voting, at least a half million of genuine "workmen" have come to full conscious-ness, of Socialism, have united themselves in working grops, and, as in all real religions which sweep the world progressively, have the terrible activity of first believers.

At the Third congressional district convention of the Socialists of Kansas resolutions were passed setting forth the fact that Congressman P. P. Campbell had been quoted as saying that "the Socialists should be suppressed before they become so strong that it will require bayonets to suppress them," and calling upon the gentle congressman to explain himself. Copies of the resolutions have been made public in the press and the sanguinary representative of capitalist thought wondering whether he better dodge or face the music. Such a bloodthirsty remark makes no hit with the average Kansan, for that peopled with a very radical lot of people, and Campbell will probably serve his interests best by wrapping himself up in a good dig-nified silence, on the theory that the least said the soonest mended.

No leading country on the globe seems to be entirely free from Socialist martyrdom at the hands of the ruling class. We take the fol-lowing from the columns of our apanese exchange, The Hikari, of Tokyo:

It is the test of insanitation in the extreme degree with us for we never have bedbugs usually in the city. Even the existence of lice in our family considered to be the most filthy and unhealthy sign of neglect of sanitary work: Lice and other undesirable creatures are the commonest associates of prisoners in Japanese prison. We sympathize with our comrades who are put in those pens on these warm and tiresome days awaiting their trials for more than eight weeks. The streets of Kansas City, had been closed by the police to Socialist meetings for some months. After spraking an hour, Comrade Lewis was instructed to stop by the polic and on refusing to do so, was ar-rested along with Comrade Guy E. Etherton, who had charge of the literature bag. Next morning Police Judge Kyle, after a lengthy argument on both sides, dismissed the case. Says the N. Y. Evening Post:
"Although a general election in Germany is still distant, politicians there are ever watching for straws to show whether the growth of the Socialist party is continuing or not. Two recent elections have thrown some light on the trend of public opinion. In Hanover the Socialists elected their candidate by 31,803 votes, against 30,596 for the four other candidates, showing, for the first time since the election of 1903, a handsome gain in numbers. But their increase was not so large re-latively as that of the National Liberals, nor their majority so large as three years ago. In Altena-Iser-lohn, where the other contest took place, a second election became ne-Socialists. Owing to the failure to bring about the usual combination of the other parties, the Socialists again won an unexpected and de-cisive victory and obtained a seat never before held by them. In re-venge for this failure of the Liber-als to support the Center, that party has informed its followers that they may vote, if they please, for the So cialist candidate on July 19, when the seat so long held for the Radi-cals by Eugene Richter is to be filled. From all indications, therefore, his successor is likely to be a follower of Bebel. W. W.—but also because we alwave were in favor of a working program for our party and always will be. Now even some people of that sort who lay claim to a little brains are opposed to a working program or belittle its value. Why? Well, they say, we can never accomplish anything as long as capitalism ex-And because any program means compromise middle class and is therefore treason. And because Hearst or Bryan might steal our thunder, and that would be the end of us.

The first of these arguments-that nothing can be done under capitalism-we deny in toto.

A great deal has been done under capitalism for the laboring class and for humanity. And a great deal more must be done, or Socialism will never be possible.

As a matter of fact, we do not know much about the co-opera-tive commonwealth, and none of us who have really studied Socialism and history care to describe it. What interests us first, is the solution of those problems which

Socialists must solve within the present society-

Therefore, we are compelled to put forth and maintain the series of demands which form the working program of the Socialist platform. The Social-Democratic party is just a political party. I we were a mere sect, then we should only need a sort of confession of As a political party, which wishes above all things to represent the wage-working class, if is our first duty to take care that all the people who perform the useful and necessary labor shall be economically, morally, and physically strengthened, rescued from extreme poverty and made capable of resistance inbody and spirit. Every success in this direction will naturally compel us to work for those demands which are not vet attained.

In this way, the present capitalist system—not without many dar-gers, and perhaps with repeated effusions of blood—will "grow in-(to use Liebknecht's expression) the Socialistic system.

As for the second argument, that all social reforms necessitate working with the middle Alass at certain times—and certain "compromises" as the Deleonites would call it—that cannot be denied. But that is not treason, that is simply citizenship. All politics is compromise, because it means abiding by the will of the majority. And of course, we have not the majority.

No real scientific Socialist will accuse the SOCIAL - DEMO-CRATIC HERALD of "opportunism" because we believe in a po of steady Socialistic reforms. We do not believe that a "catastrophe" can change very much in the social system per se, unless economic conditions (heridae also the social system per se, unless economic conditions (besides also the education and enlightenment of the people) are favorable towards a complete change.

Otherwise, we might simply change masters.

And we can truthfully say that some of the so-called Socialists we know personally and others perhaps that we do not know would be worse task-masters than any the capitalist world has ever produced.

A moral, physical, and intellectual strengthening of the proletariat, and the formation of a class alliance with farmers of progressive views, we consider pre-requisites, without which, there is no chance far Socialism, even if "revolutions" do happen.

Moreover, as we have frequently pointed out in these columns, the evolutionary view which we stand for does not necessarily exclude a "bloody revolution," or even a round dozen of them. For proof of

Just so, or even more so, it will be with the social revolution, or rather, the social revolutions.

And the silliest argument of all is the one that Hearst and Bryan 'might steal our thunder.' If it can be stolen, it ought to be stolen. If Hearst and Bryan should steal our thunder, they are really we to it. But we do not believe that they can steal it. The might at certain phrases—and especially, the phraseology of the I. W. Besides, we, the Social-Democraty, do not simply "want to make a noise like Socialists." We actually want to do something as Social ists. We want to be constructive and build up, not only destructive and tear down, Our Socialism is not thunder-not simply hot air- it is Behtning

But unfortunately, the Titans are all dead-Prometheus was the Neither Billie Hearst nor Billie Bryan have a drop of Titanie

Some of us have little faith in heavens—either the ancient Greek, the modern Christian, or the future Socialist heaven.

With this declaration, we give hereby the Sergeant-at-arms of the "Socialist heaven" of the future the right to shut the door in our face, if we should ever apply for admission.

Yet, because we are evolutionary Socialists, we should like to see a systematic way of arming all the people. Not for the sake of "revolution," but for the sake of peace and progress.

An armed people are ilways a free people. Even the demagorues then would have a great deal less to say than they have to-day.

An armed people is always a strong people.

With the nation armed (as for instance, in Switzerland) reforms of all kinds are carried easily and without bloodshed. With the nation armed, the proletariat could even trust capitalist parties with earnestly desiring social reforms and with earnestly carrying them out.

With the nation armed in a systematic way, the capitalist class need not fear any sudden uprisings. But with the nation armed, the workingmen are not in danger of being shot down like dogs at the

TRADES UNIONS AND POLITICAL PARTIES.

BY AUGUST BEBEL

(Translated from the German by E. H. THOMAS.)

THE TRADES UNIONIST AS A CITIZEN AND A PARTY MAN.

From what has been said, it follows that, although the trades union must go into workingmen's politics, but not necessarily party politics, yet for the individual member of the trades union, the hour will come when he must give due expression to his convictions in the fight of political parties. But here he acts not as a trades enionist, but as a citizen of his country.

Moreover, in city, state and national elections, the trades unionist must take a position not only on questions which especially interest him as a member of his trades union, but also on other questions de-manding attention as the times call them forth, and which concern him as a member of the city and the nation. These questions are popular and higher education, the position of religious communities in state and community, taxes, traffic affairs of public welfare and pubhe and private security, public administration, care of public health, and the poor, administration of civil and penal justice, political rights of men and women as citizens in the nation, state, and city, agrarian and individual politics, commercial politics, foreign and colonial poli-

The trades unionist, whether he takes part as a single voter or solicits the confidence of the voters as a candidate, now appears as a party man. For only in a party can he gain his purpose, either to see elected the man of his choice or to be elected himself.

What party he joins, is the affair of his own convictions. For the trades union has no right to question him about his political convictions, nor has it the right to prescribe to him to what party he shall belong outside of the trades union. If the trades unions know how to practice this degree of tolerance on both sides, their future will be satisfactory and useful.

For these who cannot yet accustom themselves to such a stand of the trades unions, I point to the attitude of the cuemies of every strong labor movement,- according to my old rule of listening to what the enemy says. These opponents, without exception, are against my deductions. This for me is a proof that I and those who think with me are on the right road.

In conclusion, just a short reply to my critics in our own party I have here purposely avoided going into their objections against my views. I do not wish to push an argument which can easily do more harm than good.

In my opinion, the tendency to unity and solidarity in the trades unions is irresistable, just because it results from the inherent nature of this movement. I have not spoken on my own initiative, but I was asked to state my opinion on this subject. Moreover, I am convinced that no tongue however eloquent, and no pen, however able can long persuade the trades unionists of different factions that what has proved to be a great advantage to their natural enemies, the class of the employers, is a disadvantage to the workingmen.

As centralization in the organization of the working class becomes a necessity against the centralizing tendencies of capitalism, so the centralized united trades unions of the workingmen is necessary against the centralized industrial organization of the employers.

The members of the various trades unions daily must repeat to themselves this question: Why are they urged to organize in independent liberal, Catholic, and Protestant unions and unions "friendly to employers," while the employers themselves, laying aside all their differences, unite together as a solid employers' organization against the divided union organizations? And again: Why are organizations friendly to employers" formed, like the dual organization of the printers union, while no one has ever heard of an employers' organization friendly to workmen?

Answer: Class interest preserves the employers from such harmful follies. But the deficient class interest and class-consciousness, the ignorance and narrowness of a great part of the workingmen enables false friends to lead them by the nose and divide them to the delight of their natural enemies:

Now it is the contention of those

This furnishes the deday at seeing two young ladies, full of pride and worthy of better things, help feeling that it was only a matter of time when these bright girls, and those students would reflect more and more of their environment--a description of which is now in order.

The office to this boarding house was described by one who said it reminded him of the office of a second class livery stable. Possibly some would conclude that this was good enough inasmuch as working stock was boarded at either place, but the writer must confess that he has seen offices of livery stables neater, cleaner, and more artistic. The sleeping rooms were everything but inviting. There was no floor covering, no pictures on the walls, and the furniture was filthy.

It required a strong stomach indeed to enter the dining room. The first thing that greeted one was the odors of the badly ventilated kitchen and dining room. The dishes were cracked and nicked and in these crevices were many germs of disease and foulness. The cutlery and spoons were of the iron variety, black and rusty, and so greasy that one hesitated to take hold of them. The servants were as polite as could be expected and really tried to please one, but they were unclean beyond description. They were worked hard in the kitchen up to the very moment the meals were announced, and then with no opportunity to take a bath or change their clothing they hasti-Socialism for Beginners. by threw on a write coat and came to the dining room with the personal fallow from their faces ly threw on a white coat and came the principles of Socialismina readable way. that they had made a mistake and had got the axel grease instead of it. The writer asks to be pardoned for thus lengthening out this unlife and he has had no other object in view than to show that such private enterprises are against the morals and the refinment of any people and should not be tolerated, and will not be when men become free economically and when cooperation takes the place of compe-

The writer has seen men who operate drays, lined up along cer-tain streets in our cities, standing for hours and hours at a time in the broiling sun of mid-summer, or shivering in zero weather in winter, waiting for some one to call them to do a small job of hauling.

This book, although scarcely dry from the press, has been adopted as a text book by Columbia University. The main difference between good bee and bad beer is in the after-effect. order to make them good draymen. These hardships, and the mean living they get because of the fierce competition among them is the in-centive that capitalism seems to offer. The writer is unable to see any other. Yet it is honorable work; healthful work; and no clear thinking person would deny that if this occupation were so organized that those who engage in it could be men, could develope their characters, could have some time for study and intellectual pursuits there would be more persons willing to engage in it than there are even

The drayman of to-day is often very illiterate man. He does very little thinking. He very often uses his unoccupied time in filthy con-versation. The writer on one occasion stated that he never saw these men reading anything, not even a newspaper, while they were standing about, and that he thought they were to be blamed for thus wasting time that they might use for self improvement; so he called the attention of one of them to this matter, after which he (the writer) was a wiser man.

The drayman explained that every one of the men standing about were watching with eagle eye for every prospective patron, and if any fellow was so foolish as to try to read a paper he would certainly get no hauling to do. This was plain enough, and shows how the competitive system tends to keep the masses in ignorance and stupidity.

Wisconsin State Platform

HE Social-Democratic party is the American political expression of the international movement of the modern working class for better food, better houses, sufficient sleep, more leisure, morg education, and more culture.

Under the present system, society is rapidly dividing into two classes: the rich and the poor, the capitalist class and the prole-tariat. The one toils without enjoying, the other enjoys without

In the wage earner of the cities and the farmer, we recognize the types of the producing elements of this country. Under our present economic system, both are exploited for the benefit of the capitalist class, the laborer on the sale of his labor power and the farmer on the sale of his products. Both are again exploited in the purchase of practically all the necessities of life.

The final dim of the Social-Democratic party is the emancipa-tion of the producers and the abolition of the capitalistic system. For that purpose, we organize the producing classes in city and country into a political party to take control of the powers of government.

The most characteristic expression of the present economic sysis the trust and the monopoly.

Electricity, steam, and many modern inventions have struck the death blow at production on a small scale. Competition has wiped out competition. Production on a large scale makes monopoly a necessary condition. The trust and the monopoly are here, whether we wish it or not. The only question is whether they shall be public or private monopolies. Private monopoly is a curse to the nation.

see the coal trust making untold millions out of the sufferings of the poor, the oil trust piling up the greatest fortune the world has ever seen upon the ruin of innumerable small dealers and in defiance of all laws and courts of justice, the meat trust sending thousands of unsuspecting human beings to an early grave by selling diseased meat simply to make dividends and heap up millions. Similar statements could be proven against all the other trusts.

Therefore the Social-Democratic party demands that the production of this country shall be taken away from the control of a small number of irresponsible men whose only aim is to exploit us to the last limit of our endurance, without regard to human life or welfare.

There is no relief to be expected from any of the old parties.

Formerly, the Repul-hean party was the favorite political organization of capitalism, while the Democratic party stood for the middle class. But since the trusts have bought the Democratic party, there is no difference between the two. They both stand for capitalism and the present economic system.

With this in view, the Social-Democratic party of the state of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, reaffirms its allegiance to the principles of international Socialism and declares its adherence to the platform of the national Socialist party adopted at the convention in Chicago, and pledges itself at the present time to the following

That the state legislature, the governor and our representatives in Congress shall take such action as is calculated,

First, to bring about the nationalization of all the trusts, notably the coal, the meat, the oil, the sugar, the farming machinery trusts, and others of the same kind. Second, to bring about the national ownership of the railroads, telegraphs, telephones, and express companies and steamship lines.

Third, to enact a law, granting every wage worker over 60 years of age, who has carned less than $1,000 a year and has been a citizen of the United States for sixteen years at least, a pension of not less than $12 a month for the rest of his life.

Fourth, to bring about the enactment of a national law by which the government of the United States shall lend the cities and townships money on bonds issued by said cities and townships. Such loans shall be made in legal tender and without interest, the refund to take place in twenty years in equal shares. The money shall have its intrinsic value secured by the bonds and the assessed valuation of the city or townshipthat receives the loan, and it shall be canceled with the bonds as fastas the loan is refunded.

Fifth, to amend the United States constitution so as to abolish the United States Senate, which is a bulwark of capitalism and trustocracy,—the general referendum of all the people to take its place as a check, under proper provisions. Furthermore to elect the United States, judges by the people of their respective districts, for terms not to exceed six years—instead of having them appointed by the president—this in order to make an end of government by in-

Sixth, to establish life-insurance by the national gevernment

We also demand,

Seventh, that all elective officers, national, state, and municipal, shall be made subject to the imperative mandate, and to a recall, by the expressed wish of three-fourths of their constituency.

Eighth, that no city in Wisconsin shall have the right to sell, lease or give away public franchisea. Provided, however, that in eases where existing laws and public necessity make a franchise unavoidable, it shall be granted only upon such terms as will guarantee justice to the people in the matter of rates, and fair treatment of the workers in respect to hours of labor, wages, etc., and especially shall provide for the transfer of the utility to public ownership at the earliest possible hour. Or, provided further, that the granting of such franchise shall first be approved by general referendum of the respective city or township. pective city or township.

Ninth. Every city in Wisconsin shall have the right to take possession of all its public utilities by paying to the present owners the price of the properties involved as fixed by an impartial jury, the same not to include any franchise values; and every city and township shall have the right to issue bonds for that purpose. All unlimited franchises now in existence to be declared null and void.

Tenth, complete self-government for cities and townships. They shall have the right to erect public slaughter houses, cold-storage plants, elevators, coal and wood yards, ice houses, stock yards, and manufacture commodities and self them to the citizens at cost.

Eleventh, the state shall provide free school books and school utensils to the pupils of the public schools. We also demand legislation enabling school districts in the country to give better school facilities and free transportation for the children to and

Twelfth, that no further water rights shall be given away to individuals or private corporations, and those that have been given away, shall be recovered as rapidly as possible. All mineral rights reserved in private contract shall be abolished. No land belonging to the state shall be sold, and all lands now belonging to the state shall be kept

Thirteenth, that steps be taken to protect the head waters of our rivers. We demand also the reforesting of denuded tracts suitable for reforesting, so as to provide wooded land for future generations who have been robbed by the timber thieves.

Fourteenth, that laws be enacted, limiting the working of youths under 21 years of age and women of any age employed anywhere in Wisconsin to eight hours a day, and prohibiting the employment of children under 16 years of age in any factory, store, workshop or mine, also for the strictest protection of life and limb in workshops, factories, mines, stores, railways and boats. Also the removal of the principle of contributary negligence from our statutes, and the enactment of laws to compensate workmen when injured while employed. All wages to be paid weekly in lawful money. Fiftgenth, that a graduated income and inheritance tax be enacted, small inheritances and small incomes to be exempt

Sixteenth, that fire and accident insurance be established by the

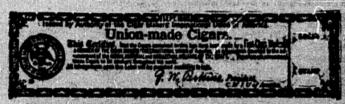

The Social-Democratic party also stands for every radical change that will bring more wealth, more culture, and more security to the masses of the people. But we call attention to the fact that the measures we urge are not a cure for all the existing evils, nor are they all Socialistic measures. They are to be viewed rather as mere palliatives, capable of being carried out evenunder the present con ditions. Under no circumstances should the people rest content with palliatives of this kind. The peoed out even under the present conquest of all public powers, to an entire change of the present system for one which will secure to the people collectively the ownership of the means of production and distribution and thereby the blessings of our modern inventions, and a standard of civilization and culture hitherto unknown in history.

This is the program of the Social-Democratic party in Wisconsin. We call upon every intelligent voter of this state, regardless of race, nationality or religion to join the Social-Democratic party, vote its ticket, build up its organization, and stand shoulder to shoulder for a better order and a higher civilization. And especially to the economically oppressed we call in the words of the immortal Karl

All truths to me are sacred. I do not hold Socialism simply because its ethics were taught by Moses, Isalah, Jesus, Paul or James; if they taught it, and they did, it was because, to them, it seemed a truth. Let us take truth for truth's sake, and not because somebody did or did not believe is in the past.

There is abundance of proof that the Hebrews went into captivity because of their oppressions of the poor. Isaiah iii. 12-15, says: "O, my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths. The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people. The Lord will enter into judgement with the ancients (rulers) of his people, and the princes thereof, for ye have eaten up the vinyard, the spoil of the poor is in your houses. Israel learned a lesson, while in captivity and when it returned it began an earnest work of co-operation. Isaiah xlvi. 6, says. "They belped every one his neighbor, and every one said to his brother, be of good courage. So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smoothed with the hammer him that smote the anvil."

The Old Testament in arguing the question of the natural equality of men, said, "Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously as every man against his brother?

Everywhere is the idea of the equality of man taught. Every man was made to be the equal of every other. Even Ahab, a great king was not allowed to unjustly take Naboth's farm from him; and for his doing that the dogs ate the king's blood in the same place where they had eaten that of Naboth. See I. Kin. xxi. 3-25.

The last scriptures to which I re-ferred are found in Amos v. 11, 12, and Mich. iii 3. I use these scriptures as hyperbole only, but as sure as the Hebrews lost their land and their polity because of their oppressions, and their forgetfulness of their brotherhood with the common people, and as sure as like causes produce like effects, so sure we as a people must "right about, face," or we must drink the same wormwood and gall which they drank.

The Jews learned why these evils came upon them, and repented of their wrongs. They returned from their captivity with inclinations that were Socialistic and were prosperous until again selfishness overcame their principles, "they helped every one his neighbor; and every one said to his brother, be of good courage."

There; all of the above has said mean ye that ye beat my people to itself; I took my pen to merely say, pieces, and grind the faces of the that Jesus and his disciples and followers were Socialistic, and that no person can, in the true sense of the word be a Christian and not a So-

Who except Socialists can truly and reverently pray, "Thy kingdom come and thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." Matt. vi. 10. Henry Ward Beecher once said "Many good Christians pray cream, and live skimmed milk." Prayer is aspiration, when one prays "thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven," he virtually pledges himself to do the will of God as it is done in heaven, does any one suppose that trusts, combines and syndicates exist in heaven and that for the purpose of handling immense fortunes and keeping them from the starving poor? If that is your heaven I want none of it. If that is not your heaven then cease to pray thy kingdom come. As Jesus directed.

The Golden Rule which is found in both the Old and the New Testament, See Lev. xix, 18. Matt. vii 12., is given to be carried out in this life. Let us either cease to talk about it or undertake to live it. Was Jesus an idealist saying what he did not mean, or was he sent to tell his friends what to do:

Now permit me to ask you, my Christian friend, Do you want to see the doctrines of Jesus prevail everywhere, and the knowledge of the Lord to fill the earth as the waters fill the sea? Such a time is foretold by the prophets, See Is. xi. 9. Do you want to see the Golden Rule become the rule of the land. If you are here when that time comes you will not seek to over-reach your neighbor, nor will your neighbor ut dertake to "do"

Do you, my Christian friend be lieve the time will ever come when every one shall love every other one as Jesus loved his comrades? See Jno xiii. 34. Do you believe "the meek shall inherit the earth," as Jesus said? See Matt. v. c Do the meek inherit the ear; Or is the principal part of the carth, and the best parts of it owned by such men as Lord Scully who owns one or two counties of the best farming lands in Illinois and Kansas.

My Christian friend, do you know that twenty dukes and Lords in England own one milion, five hundred and fifteen thousand and four hundred and seventy acres of our lands? Do you think Christianity would justify the railroads owning more square miles of our territory than there is in the enination accepted.

The Socialist platform is the corner stone of industrial liberty. The land States, with Nev York and Pennsylvania thrown in? programme is clean, clear-cut, un-compromising. Principles can not be arbitrated. Let the campaign slogan be, "There is nothing to ar-bitrate." The class struggle must When Socialism comes no foreigners or nation will take the common people's homes from them, and the railreads will not own the lands simply to keep them from the peo-ple. Foreigners will not send their serfs here to take the common peo-ple's homes, and to raise crops to send in bulk to those who never did an honest day's work in the world. When you become an honest Christian, a real follower of Christ you will say with Paul, in a Thess. iii, 10, "If any man would not work neither should he eat."

Do you, my Christian friend, believe that we are all the offsprings of God, as the Grecians taught, and Paul endorsed and incorporated into his discourse before the Athen-ians? Acts xvii. 28. And do you assumes, in fact, claims, a vested right of private ownership in the collective production of society. It is the aspiration, the object, the sole purpose of the Socialist party to dispet the illusion, to quest the presumption, to take and control the means of production and distribution, to vest in every producer the honest right to the full equivalent for the product of his toil. endorse Paul's other statement in that same discourse, that "God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the whole earth." See verse 26.

Do you believe, "The profit of the earth is for all." as stated in Eccle. v. 9? Or is the profit of the earth only for a few parasites who live to consume and to waste what Capitalism is the common enemy of the working class. Whether in the realm of Czars, Kings, Emperors or Captains of Industry, if there he a difference, it is against the last-mamed breed of despots, monarchs of wage slaves instead of serfs or subjects; the attempt to shirk every vestige of responsibility in a mad, wanton lust for the power of gold. T HIS COUNTRY is largely made up of working people, both in-dustrial and agricultural, but it is ruled by the capitalist class, which is numerically a very small fraction of the population. Being in control, that class runs the government in its own interests and against the interests of the rest of the people who are the overwhelm-against the interests of the rest of the people who are the overwhelming majority.

We Socialist believe that the country should be managed in the interests and for the well-being of those who produce the wealth. That is what government is for in the first place. The means of existence are now privately owned by capitalists who comprise only twelve per cent. of the population. By means of this private ownership a mere ONE PER CENT of the people OWN OVER HALF OF THE WEALTH OF THE NATION, and the concentration is going on at a pell-mell speed.

The means of production should be owned by the collectivity in order that the fruits of industry should go to the MANY, instead of to the FEW.

Under the present capitalist system, the majority of mankind must sell their labor power to the capitalistic owners of the means of production and distribution in order to live—and to live very miserably

The people own the post office and everybody is glad of the fact. The people ought to also own all the trusts so that all may enjoy the benefits. They ought to own every industry as soon as it has become sufficiently concentrated and organized to permit of such com-come sufficiently concentrated and organized to permit of such common ownership.

To bring this about, the people.—that is, the workers, not the shirkers—must have possession of the political power. The Social-Demorcatic party (known as the Socialist pary in some states, and nationally) is organized to bring this about—this and the abolition of capitalism. We insist that the industrious class shall be the wealthy class, and the idle class the poor and dependent class.—although Social-Democracy will in time abolish all poverty and eliminate the drones.

The Social-Democratic movement is international, but will doubtless achieve success in the United States first, because the capitalist system is farthest developed here and is preparing the ground for the higher system of society.

EDITORIAL ETCHINGS.

There has appeared in a church journal of recent date an interesting sketch of the pope as he appears from personal observation and from all the facts that can be gathered from authentic sources. It is claimed that he feels his unfitness for the trying position he was placed in by his election, inasmuch as he is lacking in the high statecraft that is needed to guide the great international ci urch successfully midst modern perals to its discipline and the modern expansion in general knowledge on the part of the people. His predecessor, Leo XIII, was possessed of great diplomatic abilities, had a wide knowledge of men and things and was an intellectual leader in his church-On the other hand Sarto, when called to the papacy had only distinguished himself as a zealous pastor, with the mediocre intellectual abilities of the parish priest, and it was natural that he should regard his pontificate as simply an enlargement of his parish duties, whereas, under modern conditions, skillful diplomacy and statecraft are prime

It has not taken three years of Sarto's reign to show the cardinals that he was not the one for the position, and it is said he feels this himself. He is a disappointed man, and has drawn away from his cardinals who would otherwise advise him.

An acceptor of established facts, the pope's conservatism will em-broil the church rather than keep it out of conflict with progress and modern knowledge. Thus the writer we have referred to says: "Leo ....had no fear but that ultimately intellectualism comes to the service of the church. He was patient, therefore loath to condemn. Pius X. is not so. The condemnation of Loisy, whom Leo did not condemn, was one of the first significent acts of the new pope. The syllabus in preparation is a list of modern errors which are to receive a formal condemnation; and, if report is correct, propositions of three English Roman Catholic writers find thmselves included in the number of those anathematized. There is evidently to be a return to the days of Pius IX, when the intellectual state of the Roman church descended to the level of the darkest of the early Middle Ages. Pius X is evidently frightened at intellectual problems he cannot grasp or understand in all their bearings, so he is easily led by those, who, even narrower than himself, know how to play upon his su-ceptibilities."

In other words, the pope as helmsman, means to steer straight at rocks which the church dared to condemn in the ignorant past, whereas a practiced hand like Leo's would veer rout 4 and between them. It is said that one of the things that will be condemned in the forthcoming encyclical will be Socialism. It is pretty late in the day to do It would be about as sensible to anathematize the tides. as far back as 1891 when Leo gaveout his encyclical, Rerum Novarum, it was found to be actually pervaded with the spirit of Socialism, whilst appearing to condeun it. It was in this encyclical that those famous sentences appeared: "Is it just that the fruit of a man's own sweat and labor should be possessed and enjoyed by anyone else? As effects follow their cause, so is it just and right that the results of labor should belong to those who have bestowed their labor."

We are told that we cannot expect any such sentiment from the present pope—but that is the pops a misfortune, not ours. The failure of the church to keep the workingmen away from Socialism in Germany ought to carry its lesson, however.

The Social-Democrats of Berlin, it is reported, will make use of the stage as a means of raising party revenue. A new society has been formed, called the "Home of Fine Art" which will produce plays and give concerts and lectures for the nasses. Already a theater has been offered for the purpose, it is alleged. When the German editors were invited to lunch at Windsor, says the Standard, the King was careful to say that the one lady editor should be included. But Madame Braun was a Social-Democrat, and she refused to go. Mr. Stead wrote begging her to accept, but pleaded in vain Lord Avebury sat on Lord Farquhar's right. The chair on the left was vacunt. "Where," asked Lord Farquhar, "is the lady? I was promised a lady, and reserved her this chair." An excuse was murmured as to Ma-dame Braun being with her small son in the town, but at last the truth came out. The lady was a Social-Democrat. Having thus saved the day for the worst places, the hypocritical old party aldermen were now ready to strain at gnats. A man named Schulz wanted a license for a saloon in the Tenth ward. His record had a black page in it, but his subsequent conduct indicated that he had braced up. But he lacked a stand-in with the police department and the aldermen took ready advantage of the chance thus offered to be very virtuous and denied his application. Much the same sort of thing happened with the appli-cation of a man named Zastrow. also without a police pull. And down he went. in the land a Socialist agrarian party that threatens not only innovation, but revolution. It can muster millions of votes, and must be reckoned with. It is a genuine crop. Paternalism in the Republic can party begat agrarianism in the Democratic party. Agrarianism in the Democratic party begat Social ism in the great centers of popular tion, in manufacturing cities, and in mining regions. That stream it swelling, and who knows but that it will be an irresistable torrent to sweep all before it?

Political Realignment. Catholic Citizen: Bryan is now

sufficiently conservative for the Gold Democrats, who holted him in 1896. Not that Bryan has be come less radical; but these Democrats perceive that the conservative of 186 (one feature of which was political committees), is getting outworn. And Roosevelt offers no refuge. The "interests," too, feel kindlier to Bryan. If a radical must sit in the presidential chair, they prefer a radical who can not crack his whip over the stand-patters. The stand-pat organization, with Rosevelt in power, must cone cede compromises to Rosevelt's radical initiative. But the stand-pat organization, with Bryan in the White House, may be utilized to block reform measures with the partisan cry that such measures are Democratic heresies. Standard Oil is a practical politician—short on principles, but long on tactics.

WHERLAS, It has pleased the Great and Supreme Ruler of the Universe, in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our ranks, without warning, in the full bloom of life, our worthy esteemed brother and comrade, Albert Skuhra, and

WHEREAS, The long and inthe discharge of his duties as leputy organizer of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of him, therefor be it

RESOLVED, That the wisdom and ability he has exercised in the interest of our organization by services, contribution and courage will be held in grateful remembrance; be it further

RESOLVED, That the unexpected removal of such a life from our midst, leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be keenly realized by all the members and friends of this organization and prove a great loss to the members and friends of the trade unions of Manitowoc, be it further

RESOLVED, That we extend and loving wife in her present affliction, and express the hope that even so great and so unexpected and sudden a loss of a true and loving husband may be overcome by Him who doeth all things well, and further

RESOLV.D, That our charter will be draped for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be presented to his bereaved wife and the Manitowoc Central Labor Union, that these resolutions be recorded on our minute book and a copy be sent to our official Journol, the Social-Democratic Herald, for publication.

The Eight-hour Struggle.

Typothetae convention, cheduled for Buffalo the week of July 16. did not actually begin work until July 18. President Lynch and Vice-President Hays of the I. T. U. were on the ground. Not actually in attendance upon the convention sessions, of course—the Typothetae officers vere too careful of their poor, frightened charges to permit of their being alarmed by the appearance before them of the officers of a real trade union. But the president and vice-president were in Buffalo, nevertheless, and after onsidering fully the temper of the Typothetae convention, or rather of the officers in control of the asfore written to the delegates setting forth the effort the printers had made on former occasions to prevent the strike and giving a general view of the situation that the delegates were known to have been kept in ignorancee of. A letter was also sent to the convention, care of the president. This he did not get, probably under some arrangement by which it would be tardily delivered. Then on the last day another was sent in such a way that interests only if elected. Union men, hanging on for office to the tail end of the old political parties. And president, are more in the field for public office outside the Social-Democratic party, have limited their promises to a promise to consult business other was sent in such a way that interests only if elected."

the convention engineers could not ignore it. In just thirty minutes came back a set of resolutions alleged to have been passed by the convention in answer to the letter just received-something wonder-ful as a matter of time! The resolutions refused a conference to the officers of the printers.

"Many of the employers attending the Typothetae convention," says Pres. Lynch, "expressed regret that the strike should continue but were powerless in the face of the open-shop fanatics in control of our heartfelt sympathy to the young the convention. We have made now up to the individual employer to terminate his hopeless struggle against the eight-hour day. He can rest assured that those employers in control of the Typothetae, many of whom have always conducted non-union offices, will get in out of the wet as soon as the shoe pinches them."

A Reply to Gompersism.

The executives of the Wisconsin state Federation of Labor and the Milwaukee Federated Trades Council in joint session have prepared an answer to the communication sent Milwaakee by the American Federation of Labor in regard to the local political situation from the Labor standpoint. Among other things the reply says: Ine Joint Meeting hails with satisfaction the Mineral street, on Saturday, August position of the Executive Council II. 1006, at 8 P. M., for the purof the American Federation of Labor in its new attitude, calling to political action the wage-workers of our country to "unite (as you advise) at the polls at every elec-tion," in order, that they may participate in governmental affairs to relieve the many wrongs perpetrated on them.'

But the really states that a convention of lal, we in Wisconsin, as suggested, would not be advisable, owing to the expense and the state convention having just been held, and also the probability that "it would 'degenerate into a scramble for public office,' because of the fact that our movement outside of this large industrial center is rather young in experience, especially in matters of progressive political action." Nor does it agree with the endorsing of capitalist, political semblage, it was determined to candidates, and in answer thereto place the situation squarely up to points to "the experience of organthe attendants. A letter was there lized labor, in the past, at this game, which has proven most unsatis-factory. In fact, to such an extent was this true, that organized labor at this moment can not refer with-out blushing to the time when it endorsed and elected union men,

The letter closes by saming that the two labor bodies are not partisan organizations, but advises all union men and wage-workers generally to support the party nearest to their class interests, and it points out that this has been sound inasmuch as none of the men elected on the Social-Democratic ticket have proven false to labor.

ALHAMBRA.

The Alhambra will open its sea-son this Saturday evening with the much heralded new musical comedy "The Time, the Place and the Girl." It is a big attraction and the first time that the LaSalle Stock company of Chicago has been entour. The company is a strong one. Besides the famous LaSalle "broilers" and the beauty chorus, it will number such performers as Cecil Lean, well known for his success in "The Umpire," Miss Holbrook, a charming and petite comedienne; Joseph E. Howard, the composer of popular songs and who wrote the music for the piece; Olive Vail, a stately beauty with pleasing voice; Georgie Drew Mendum, seen in "The Coward" and "The College Widow;" Arthur Sanders, a quaint comedian; deville acts. During the action of "Billy" Robinson, an actor of the the comedy the following artists apold school; Mart Lorenz, who is a local favorite; Harry Clinton Saw-yer; Phrynette Ogden, Fred Wal-ton and others. The new play is by adams, Hough and Howard. It will be in three acts, the scene laid the imported Wahlfrieds, a female

If there is one fact that stands out stronger than another in the Dietz case it is the lact that the people have a strong mistrust of justice under the capitalistic law. Almost everyone in Sawyer county is on Dietz' side in his resort to the shotgun to protect his legal rights, a state of affairs for which capitalists state of affairs for which capitalists the past week, there came before have only themselves to blame. If the board of aldermen a question people regard the courts as dispens-ers of injustice instead of justice, as a place where the poor man gets plucked by the wealth interests, it is only because the courts have been such plucking places. The way to licensing these places; and, sad to change this is not to call out the say, all the Catholic aldermen, exmilitia, but to reorganize our system of justice.

Night sessions of the council, as confronts usproposed by the Socialists, ought to be gaining favor after such half and half sessions as that of Monday. It was neither an afternoon session nor an evening session. Yet it was just enough of both to thoroughly incommode the aldermen and break into both their afternoon and their evening, with the chance of an irate spouse keeping the supper waiting for them until nine o'clock.

That was a smooth play of Ald. Douglas voting to license the Henderer den and then waxing virtuous against a reformed dive keeper who wanted to run a daylight saloon in a factory district. It was a case of sticking his head up above the slime just long enough to protest against slime that has apparantly icen changed to clean earth.

The comrades of the Tenth Ward report a good sale of tickets for their big picnic a week from Sun-day, at Rack's park, Lisbon avenue, corner of Twenty-seventh. The comrades round the city are anx-ious to give the Tenth Warders a boost and expect to be there in force. A general good time will be had, and Comrade Albert J. Welch, candidate for congress on the Sc-cial-Democratic ticket, will make an address. Don't miss it.

has made special preparations. The visiting aeries will hold their com-petitive drills at the Park in the afternoon, and in the evening there will be a special program of free acts, band concert, and big display of fireworks, also showing emblems of the order.

The great feature for the coming week, commencing this afternoon, will be James Shine in his sensational whirl of death. Instead of looping the loop on the inside of the apparatus, he actually makes the circuit on the outside hanging to a trapere bar.

STAR THEATER.

For the opening week a big bill will be presented at the Star. "The Brigadiers" is one of the best companies on the boards. They will present a two act musical comedy entitled "Mr. Doolev on the Emission of pire Circuit" besides an olio of vaupear: Jack Symonds, the sisters Maginel-Mullini, instrumentalists; Sherman and Fuller in knockabout; Lester and Moure in "A Day at the Beach;" Miss Nellie Burt; and sextette in a musical and dancing act. #### NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

Free Press: Chief Janssen used to talk about what he would do to saloons if he had his own way. He has had it, with compound interest, but with what result?

Catholic Citisen: At Milwaukee of granting licenses to eleven notorious saloons, most of which are virtually temples of "free love." Singular to relate, all of the twelve Socialist aldermen voted against cept one, voted to license there temples of free love. Evidently it is a condition and not a theory which

Evening Wisconsin: Saloon keeprs running places with "European hotel" or other connections on the border of the "Red Light" district are glad that they ran their places 'tight" for the past month and contented themselves with the legitimate profits at the bar alone. About six aldermen have been investigating the saloons in that district. They found everything orderly, the pro-prietors appeared to be perfect gentlemen, and patrons in the saloons assured them that they never had seen anything done there that would hurt the feelings of the gentlest of women. Thereupon the investigation was carried on to the next place. At the council meeting Mon-day afternoon Ald. Walter, one of the investigators, gave his notice of reconsideration, having discovered that all of the saloons were run in an ideal manner. Ald. Deuster de-cided that if the chief of police saw nothing wrong there, he was sure that there was nothing immoral with the places. Ald Seidel impoliticly interrupted to ask why the chief never saw any gambling in Milwauke but Seidel was ignored. All of the eleven licenses held up two week ago were granted. The vote was generally 27 to 17, the twenty-seven all saying that they would put the responsibility on

The dive politicians were ready to wear Neelen buttons last Satur-day when that dispenser of the police court brand of justice fined Ald. A. W. Strehlow $5 and costs for alleged disorderly conduct. Ever since the council blacklist went through the dive politicians have been organized for self protection and have had lawyers busy watch-ing for say development that might he used to frame up a game to in-fluence public or nion. When, therefore, it was reported that Ald. Strehlow of the Twentieth Ward Strehlow of the Twentieth Ward had insisted on being shown through the rooms of a saloon out on the Hopkins Roard, in response to complaints of people in that ward that the place was not what it might be, it looked as if the thing might be developed into a case that would serve their ends. Ald Strehwould serve their ends. Ald. Strehlow was arrested, on complaint of the saloonkeeper and the case was tried Saturday with the result stated. The saloonkeeper himself was out of ten cents.

saloonkeeper himself was out of town at the time, but his wife had as a witness a man who was in the sa-loon at the time, and although their stories conflicted at certain points, the defense felt that they were in the hands of an adverse judge. Judge Neelen said the alderman had the undoubted right to view the premises, but that he fined him because he had used a certain profane expression. Yet the testimony showed that when the alderman en-tered the saloon and announced his mission the woman immediately becarve excited and said in German,

"I suppose you think wearerunning - house here," or words to that effect, and the alderman merely repeated the profane expression she had used. For this, according to the judge, he was fined. Ald. Strehlow told the court that he felt it his official duty to ascertain whether the reports about the place were well grounded, and said that he frequently, when out walking Sundays with his wife, took her into family saloon entrances to get a glass of beer and that in such cases people were taking chances that the reputation of the place was good.

Are You Satisfied With Your Gas Service??

1 Beside the fact that GAS at 80c a thousand cu. ft. is the CHEAPEST FUEL to be obtained, consumers should bear in mind that the Gas Company is at all times not only ready, but glad to remedy defects in the service, of whatever kind, as well as to assist the consumer in its economical and advantageous use.

The company realizes that satisfied con-sumers are its best advertisement, and that these satisfied consumers, having once experienced the cheapness and reliability of gas for lighting, fuel and industrial purposes, would naturally desire to use the medium which they found to be the cheapest and most advantageous for every possible purpose.

TIt therefore employs:

¶ (1) Gas range demonstrators, who instruct the housewife how to cook and bake in her gas range; how to take care of it; how to regulate ¶ (2) Gas range repair men, who assist these demonstrators in tracing and locating troubles in gas ranges, and who do not leave them until they work perfectly.

¶ (3) Burner maintenance men, who regularly clean and adjust the thousands of gas are lamps in use in the city for a small stated sum, and who will examine and adjust Welsbach lamps and other burners free of charge, as well as locate any cause of unsatisfactory light. They also place purchased mantles and other materials on the lamps free of charge.

¶ (4) Industrial experts, who will confer with the manufacturer, and go over his factory to see if the gas appliances in use can be made to do better service, and if the use of gas cannot be extended to other operations in his factory with advantage to himself.

§ (5) Gas engine men, thoroughly posted in the use of Gas for Power, who are ready at all times to assist you in remedying any trouble you may be having. They are prepared to tell you the amount of power necessary to run your factory, to figure costs of circulation, and to demionstrate the economy of gas over other sources
