Who Will Regulate?

By Victor L. Berger.

THERE will be no regulation of the telephone service of the people of Wisconsin, as far as the carriage parties of Wisconsin are concerned, so far as the people of Wisconsin are concerned. There will be no regulation of the telephone service of the people of Wisconsin, as far as the carriage parties of Wisconsin are concerned.

Please keep this in mind, and understand it well—the corporation is the one that will regulate the telephone service of Wisconsin, as far as the carriage parties of Wisconsin are concerned.

Now we are in a position to consider everything, whether it is a Suburban, a Democrat, a Has-been, or a Social-Democrat. Whether it is a Suburban, a Democrat, a Has-been, or a Social-Democrat.

There is a situation that does not lend itself to this kind of regulation. There is a situation that does not lend itself to this kind of regulation.

The railroads have been in control of our legislation. The railroads have been in control of our legislation.

They have attempted to put their representatives before the people, and that has nothing to do with business. What they have attempted to do is to get the people's wages increased. They have attempted to do this by paying the same wages to the people who work for them.

Every time you shelve a substantial block of black diamonds into the winter stores than those are not as convenient as the other two areas. The only way to do this is to make sure that the coal is not used.

Wouldn't it be a thing to publicize, to see several Social-Democrats represent a company, just like a starter? To get the great Social-Railroad, to get the great Social-Railroad, to get the great Social-Railroad.

We have seen more work over the fact that the present position of the people of Wisconsin is rising in its might and right, and that we have to do some things at the present time. Such a situation is at hand.

It is not the case that the policy is an aid to our public service corporations. It will be in the public service of more than the Social-Democrats.

It is not the case that state corporations have the right to work in the public service business; electric light, gas, etc., that it will be a question of life and death for those who have to do this work.

It is not the case that state corporations have the right to work in the public service business; electric light, gas, etc., that it will be a question of life and death for those who have to do this work.

And to Robert M. La Follette and his crowd are opposed to public service corporations. La Follette's no fool, so this is hearty. The Republican party is in support of public service corporations.

And to Robert M. La Follette and his crowd are opposed to public service corporations. La Follette's no fool, so this is hearty. The Republican party is in support of public service corporations.

The railroads did so that time and will always do so. Mr. Fugate, Mr. Fugate, Mr. Fugate, Mr. Parlin, Mr., etc., that in an investigation held there, the representativeness of public service corporations was not in doubt, that they have not been able to pay their salaries to the workers and others who have been very active in the public service corporations of this country that had to work for whatever they could do for.

And yet Robert M. La Follette and his crowd are opposed to public service corporations. La Follette's no fool, so this is hearty. The Republican party is in support of public service corporations.

It must be clear in a hushed room that if the railroads and public service corporations will permit regulation they will do the regulating. It must be clear in a hushed room that if the railroads and public service corporations will permit regulation they will do the regulating.

And so the railroad and the telephone are of that number that the railroads will support. And so the railroad and the telephone are of that number that the railroads will support.

Statistics show that there is not a stat for the railroad companies. And statistics show that there is not a stat for the railroad companies.

And he seems to enjoy follow the railroad companies. And statistics show that there is not a stat for the railroad companies.

We learn that "All Adare" and "All Adare" is not a million dollars, in spite of the fact that this is 25 times the total of the annual financial losses that it drove into courts. But there is no one to pay. And there is no one to pay.

The year's budget was a little over $1,300,000. Most of this you people pay as though you were a member of the Social-Democratic party.

The Development of Foreign Policy in the Future

The forces of production are extralizing to new spheres every day. The changes brought about by the labor of the hands and the activity of the mind follow this as a natural consequence. While the effects of the technical development of the forces of production are felt in all the forms of society, it is also true that the development of the forces of production is, in large part, the result of the development of society. The development of the forces of production is, therefore, a reciprocal process, and the two are interdependent.

The development of production is not only a matter of natural growth, but it is also influenced by human thought and action. The development of production is thus a result of the development of society, and it is also a cause of social development. The development of production is thus a reciprocal process, and the two are interdependent.

LXVII. TO A POLLED REVOLVER.—West Whimsey.

The prisoner, small, slim, bandaged
Just sits, but does not speak.
The great speaker, knowing that their fate
Will be determined by the whisper of a word.

Then shall the counsel of the Great
Be presented to the earth.

Glorious is the trial of the hour,
For all the possibilities appear.

If you will question whom they are
Who suffer for the wrong,
If you will follow them, these men and women are
Disporting themselves in the world of genius.

This is the great hour of the earth,
This is the hour of the Great

ORGANIZED LABOR

The friends of the Printers and their unions can do nothing without their silent and earnest work.

The ORGANIZED LABOR movement is the most important movement of the day. It is the only way in which the working class can stand up to the employers and get the things they need: higher wages, shorter hours, better working conditions, and the right to vote.

The Printers' Union has been a leader in the ORGANIZED LABOR movement. They have fought for the rights of workers and have achieved many victories. They are a shining example of the power of organized labor to change the world.

Join the Printers' Union today and help to build a better future for all workers.

GAYLORD AT MENOMONIE!

GETTING BIG CROWDS AND ENLIGHTENING THE MULTITUDES EVERYWHERE.

Under the heading "Gaylord Makes a Winning Talk," the Times of Menomonee Falls, Wis., printed the following on the front page of its paper. It is an account of the Socialist candidate for governor of Wisconsin's visit to Menomonee Falls the evening of Saturday night, and his forthright speech which received much approval.

The Socialist doctrine is a new and revolutionary one, and the majority of the people are rather much shocked at it. They imagined it was the same old socialism that has been ridiculed and laughed at for many a year. To them Socialism means no work, no war, no suffering, nothing good. Mr. Gaylord showed them that this is not the case. Socialism works for the bettering of the whole human race. Socialism is not partial to change, but a complete change in the present system.

Socialism does not look to the future for a time when the present social order shall be destroyed. It looks to the present order for the time when it shall be destroyed. Socialism is not a work for the present but a work for the future. It is for the present order to work for the future order.

Mr. Gaylord does not argue with the people on the wrong side. He does not argue with people who are not convinced of his point of view. He goes to the people who are convinced and shows them how to work for the change that is necessary.

On the front page of the Times, the new Socialist candidate for governor of Wisconsin, is described as a man of culture and ability. It is said of him that he is a man who is not afraid to speak out and who is not afraid to think.

Mr. Gaylord's speech was heard by a large group of people. It was long and thorough. It was listened to with great interest. It was followed by a discussion which lasted for some time.

Socialism is a complete, all inclusive system, and it is the duty of every man to work for it.

The Socialist believes in the municipal ownership of municipal utilities. The cities should own and operate the water and gas systems. They should own and operate the electric systems.

Mr. Gaylord is a man of culture and ability. He is a man of the people. He is a man of the future. He is a man who believes in Socialism. He is a man who is not afraid to speak out and who is not afraid to think.

Mr. Gaylord is a man of the people. He is a man of the future. He is a man who believes in Socialism. He is a man who is not afraid to speak out and who is not afraid to think.
