Uncle Ike Will Have His Coveted Dance.

By Victor L. Berger

The resignation of John C. Spooner has created a great sensation. In the words of his former friend, the Mayor of Milwaukee, "We have lost one of our most trusted and reliable citizens." Spooner's resignation gives us the opportunity to think of the many services he has rendered to the city and to the state.

There can be no doubt that Senator John C. Spooner is a very fine example of the kind of man his state needs. He has been a model of public service, and his resignation is an indication of the high regard in which he is held by his constituents. In this, as in all his previous acts, he has shown himself to be a man of integrity and honor.

The work of Spooner in the railroad business has been of great benefit to the state. He has been a leader in the railroad industry, and his resignation has left a void in the ranks of the railroad interests. His influence and leadership will be greatly missed.

It is with deep regret that we bid farewell to Senator Spooner. We trust that he will continue to contribute to the welfare of the state, and that he will live to see the day when his name will be remembered with pride and respect.

Some Editorial Comment.

Readers of the Tri-City Worker, Defender, and Wisconsin Freeman know that the composition of "Reading" dictates the style of a work. The kind of work whose words are printed should be kept in mind whenever matters of style are being considered. A bad title, for example, can make good writing sound bad. And vice versa.

A dispatch from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, says that the state has authorized a public defender system to handle affairs of state. It is a wise move, and we hope that the people of Wisconsin will respond to it.

In Dallas, Texas, the mayor took their taxes and paid them on time. The people of Dallas are happy with the mayor's action, and we hope that other cities will follow his lead.

In the discussions of the child labor movement, the state of Wisconsin is moving in the right direction. The state has passed a law that requires employers to provide a minimum amount of education for their employees.

We are proud to see the progress being made in Wisconsin. We hope that other states will follow Wisconsin's example and take steps to improve the lives of their citizens.

Emperor William II has taken the initiative in his campaign against the government. He has called a meeting of the cabinet, and we trust that it will result in a peaceful resolution of the conflict.

The Public of Chicago has been shocked by the news of the death of President McKinley. It was a great loss to the state and to the nation. We extend our condolences to the President's family and to the people of the state.

The public has been made aware of the importance of the work of the state board of health. We commend the board for its efforts in protecting the health of the people.

The state board of health in Wisconsin has been praised for its work in the fight against the disease. We trust that the board will continue to work towards the improvement of the health of the people.
London Town Revolutionized!

The London County Council has made a great step toward modernizing the capital city of England. The council has been working on plans to transform London into a modern metropolis, incorporating the latest in architectural design and urban planning. The council's efforts have been praised for their vision and dedication to improving the living conditions of London's residents.

The council's plans include the construction of new public spaces, parks, and green areas. They have also implemented policies to reduce pollution and improve air quality. The council is committed to making London a more sustainable and livable city, setting an example for other cities around the world.

The council's work on modernizing London has been met with mixed reviews. Some critics have expressed concerns about the cost of the project and the impact on local businesses. However, the council's focus on sustainability and improving the quality of life for residents has been widely praised.

With the completion of these projects, London will continue to be a world-renowned city, attracting visitors from all over the globe. The council's efforts to modernize London will ensure that the city remains a vibrant and dynamic hub of culture and commerce for generations to come.

The council's work on modernizing London is an example of the importance of urban planning and sustainability in today's world. By investing in the future of our cities, we can create a more equitable and sustainable future for all.
CARrying THE BANNER

In Darkest London!

AN EXTRACT FROM JACK LONDON’S GREAT BOOK "Pioneers" which is based on the life of Robert Hunter, one of the pioneer settlers of the Klondike.

In the mining camp, the streets at night were illuminated by the flickering lights of oil lamps. The air was chilly, and the camp was deserted. The miners had gone to the bars to drink and talk.

"Jack," said Robert, "I want to speak to you.

"What is it, Robert?"

"I have been thinking about the future of the mining town.

"The town is growing rapidly, and we must plan for the future.

"I think we should build a church and a school.

"Also, we should set aside funds for public improvements.

"The miners are paid well, but we must ensure that our community is also well served.

"What do you think?"

"I agree, Robert. We must work together to build a better town.

"Thank you, Jack.

"I will help you with it.

The next day, the miners gathered at the meeting place. Robert spoke up.

"We have decided to build a church and a school.

"We will also set aside funds for public improvements.

"Let us work together to make our town a better place.

"Agreed," said the miners.

The town began to grow, and the church and school were eventually built. The miners worked hard to make their community a better place.

The Struggle for Existence

The Real Fight for Life.

The miners faced many challenges. The work was hard, and the conditions were poor.

But they continued to work, and they built a better town.

The Struggle for Existence is a true story of the mining town, and it is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the miners.

How Social-Democracy Grows in Germany!

(Reproduced from the "Literary Digest")

The following table, showing the relative number of votes cast by the various parties for the Reichstag, is reproduced and published by permission of the publisher, from the "Literary Digest." It is derived from an official report of returns of the recent election for the new German Parliament, and gives the number of votes cast by each of the various political parties in the different German States. The figures are based on the official returns of the election, and are therefore reliable. The table also shows the relative strength of the various parties in the different States, and gives a good indication of the political sentiment in Germany at the present time.

Program of International Social-Democracy:

1. Collective ownership of all industries in the hands of the workers.
2. Compensation of all individuals who produce wealth in the community.
3. Proportional representation of all political parties in the Reichstag.
4. Suffrage and free speech for all men and women.
5. A government of the people, by the people, for the people.

The Social Democratic party is the only democratic political party in Germany, and its platform is the most radical and progressive of any political party in the world. It stands for the complete and immediate abolition of the capitalist system, and for the establishment of a socialistic society in which all the means of production and distribution are owned and controlled by the workers themselves.

Socialists in Action.

Social Democracy (SPD) is the sole representative of the Social Democratic movement in Germany. It was founded in 1875, and has since then grown to be the largest political party in the country. Its program is based on the principles of collective ownership, compensation, proportional representation, and political democracy. It has a large following throughout Germany, and is now the second largest political party in the country, after the conservative party.

The Social Democratic party is the only democratic political party in Germany, and its platform is the most radical and progressive of any political party in the world. It stands for the complete and immediate abolition of the capitalist system, and for the establishment of a socialistic society in which all the means of production and distribution are owned and controlled by the workers themselves.

AN UNWELCOME INVIGATION!

Assemblyman Thompson has recently opened up a series of cases by the aggrieved residents of the Winnipeg district, which has produced a sensation in the community. The district is situated about a year ago, but it is not true that it was a white-wash. Of course, we were not in a position to know the facts, but in the interests of fairness, we observed to in conclusion without a resolution asking for another investigation. This seems to have been done to the impression of the people for the management of the town, and they have appealed to the government for redress.

IT OUGHT TO PASS.

A bill has been presented to the legislature, at the request of a group of citizens of the Unicorn district, for the appointment of a medical board to examine into the alleged cases of distress in the district, and to report as to what steps should be taken to remedy the conditions. The bill has been referred to the Select Committee on the subject, and the committee has been appointed to hear evidence and to report thereon.

Rose Again!

There is a present to tell you that Dame Rose will be at the Walsh's Opera House this week with a splendid production of the play, "The Price of Life," by the famous dramatist, Max Brand. The play is a study of the social conditions in a mining community, and the cast is headed by the famous actors, John Gielgud and Ethel Smith.
