JUDGED BY THEIR "EQUALS!"

By Victor L. Berger.

SOCIAL-DemocratS know that to exist is very largely the result of hard work. They are not only a party, but they are a people. Their work is to make the world a better place for themselves and their children. And if you want to judge the worth of any man or woman in this world, you should look at what he or she has done, not at what he or she has said. If you want to judge the value of any idea or system, you should look at the results it has produced, not at the words of its advocates. If you want to judge the progress of any society, you should look at the condition of its poorest members, not at the opulence of its richest. If you want to judge the goodness of any government, you should look at the freedom it has given to its people, not at the power it has over them. If you want to judge the beauty of any culture, you should look at the creativity it has fostered, not at the conformity it has imposed. If you want to judge the humanity of any act, you should look at the suffering it has relieved, not at the pride it has shown. If you want to judge the justice of any law, you should look at the equality it has achieved, not at the profits it has brought. If you want to judge the wisdom of any policy, you should look at the wisdom it has demonstrated, not at the words of its proponents. If you want to judge the truth of any claim, you should look at the evidence it has produced, not at the authority of its sources. If you want to judge the success of any endeavor, you should look at the impact it has had, not at the sentiments it has generated. If you want to judge the importance of any institution, you should look at the contributions it has made, not at the size of its budgets. If you want to judge the future of any society, you should look at the possibilities it offers, not at the fears it provokes. If you want to judge the greatness of any leader, you should look at the legacy it leaves, not at the medals it earns. If you want to judge the greatness of any civilization, you should look at the achievements it has accomplished, not at the monuments it has erected. If you want to judge the greatness of any era, you should look at the currents it has formed, not at the events it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any country, you should look at the people it has produced, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any life, you should look at the love it has shown, not at the fame it has sought. If you want to judge the greatness of any act, you should look at the consequences it has had, not at the intentions it has expressed. If you want to judge the greatness of any idea, you should look at the movements it has inspired, not at the doctrines it has promoted. If you want to judge the greatness of any work, you should look at the revolutions it has brought, not at the reviews it has received. If you want to judge the greatness of any principle, you should look at the laws it has produced, not at the arguments it has led. If you want to judge the greatness of any system, you should look at the societies it has created, not at the theories it has developed. If you want to judge the greatness of any society, you should look at the lives it has transformed, not at the history it has written. If you want to judge the greatness of any age, you should look at the epochs it has formed, not at the dates it has observed. If you want to judge the greatness of any nation, you should look at the nations it has united, not at the territories it has colonized. If you want to judge the greatness of any state, you should look at the states it has established, not at the empires it has conquered. If you want to judge the greatness of any people, you should look at the peoples it has produced, not at the nations it has formed. If you want to judge the greatness of any culture, you should look at the cultures it has fostered, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any civilization, you should look at the cultures it has produced, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any time, you should look at the times it has formed, not at the dates it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any period, you should look at the periods it has formed, not at the years it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any era, you should look at the eras it has formed, not at the times it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any generation, you should look at the generations it has formed, not at the decades it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any age, you should look at the ages it has formed, not at the years it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any century, you should look at the centuries it has formed, not at the decades it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any millennium, you should look at the millenniums it has formed, not at the centuries it has marked.

The Social-Democrats know that to exist is very largely the result of hard work. They are not only a party, but they are a people. Their work is to make the world a better place for themselves and their children. And if you want to judge the worth of any man or woman in this world, you should look at what he or she has done, not at what he or she has said. If you want to judge the value of any idea or system, you should look at the results it has produced, not at the words of its advocates. If you want to judge the progress of any society, you should look at the condition of its poorest members, not at the opulence of its richest. If you want to judge the goodness of any government, you should look at the freedom it has given to its people, not at the power it has over them. If you want to judge the beauty of any culture, you should look at the creativity it has fostered, not at the conformity it has imposed. If you want to judge the humanity of any act, you should look at the suffering it has relieved, not at the pride it has shown. If you want to judge the justice of any law, you should look at the equality it has achieved, not at the profits it has brought. If you want to judge the wisdom of any policy, you should look at the wisdom it has demonstrated, not at the words of its proponents. If you want to judge the truth of any claim, you should look at the evidence it has produced, not at the authority of its sources. If you want to judge the success of any endeavor, you should look at the impact it has had, not at the sentiments it has generated. If you want to judge the importance of any institution, you should look at the contributions it has made, not at the size of its budgets. If you want to judge the future of any society, you should look at the possibilities it offers, not at the fears it provokes. If you want to judge the greatness of any leader, you should look at the legacy it leaves, not at the medals it earns. If you want to judge the greatness of any civilization, you should look at the achievements it has accomplished, not at the monuments it has erected. If you want to judge the greatness of any era, you should look at the currents it has formed, not at the events it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any country, you should look at the people it has produced, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any life, you should look at the love it has shown, not at the fame it has sought. If you want to judge the greatness of any act, you should look at the consequences it has had, not at the intentions it has expressed. If you want to judge the greatness of any idea, you should look at the movements it has inspired, not at the doctrines it has promoted. If you want to judge the greatness of any work, you should look at the revolutions it has brought, not at the reviews it has received. If you want to judge the greatness of any principle, you should look at the laws it has produced, not at the arguments it has led. If you want to judge the greatness of any system, you should look at the societies it has created, not at the theories it has developed. If you want to judge the greatness of any society, you should look at the lives it has transformed, not at the history it has written. If you want to judge the greatness of any age, you should look at the epochs it has formed, not at the dates it has observed. If you want to judge the greatness of any nation, you should look at the nations it has united, not at the territories it has colonized. If you want to judge the greatness of any state, you should look at the states it has established, not at the empires it has conquered. If you want to judge the greatness of any people, you should look at the peoples it has produced, not at the nations it has formed. If you want to judge the greatness of any culture, you should look at the cultures it has fostered, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any civilization, you should look at the cultures it has produced, not at the empires it has founded. If you want to judge the greatness of any time, you should look at the times it has formed, not at the dates it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any period, you should look at the periods it has formed, not at the years it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any era, you should look at the eras it has formed, not at the times it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any generation, you should look at the generations it has formed, not at the decades it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any age, you should look at the ages it has formed, not at the years it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any century, you should look at the centuries it has formed, not at the decades it has marked. If you want to judge the greatness of any millennium, you should look at the millenniums it has formed, not at the centuries it has marked.
Social-Democratic Herald

World History as It Is Being Made

Britten, Jan. 19.—A demand in the Prussian labor today for bread and working conditions. Prussian laborers presented the state with a memorial stating that, while the matter was not yet decided, it was the wish of the people that the conditions be improved. The state, however, is not willing to give way to the demands of the people, and the matter has been referred to the courts.

The German court declared that the demand of the workers was unreasonable and should not be entertained. However, the workers have not given up hope of gaining their demands, and the matter is still under consideration.

Social-Democratic Herald—Business Dept.
Address of contributions, money orders, etc. to:
MILWAUKEE SOCIAL-Democratic PUBLISHING CO.
Telegraphic address: 24c Post Office, Milwaukee, Wis.

Terms of Subscription
National Edition, $6 a year; 12 months, 75 cents.
Wisconsin Edition, including Milwaukee $1 a year, 6 months, 50 cents.

Without having subscribed, you receive, then it has been published
BUNDLE RATES
National Edition, 6 copies or more, per year...
Wisconsin Edition, 6 copies or more, per year...

QUIET ON THE SURFACE AT GOLDFIELD

Goldfield, Nov. 14.—There is a great deal of excitement at Goldfield, as the miners are planning to strike for higher wages. The company has offered to increase the wages, but the miners demand a higher increase. The matter is now in the hands of the arbitrators, and it is to be hoped that a just settlement will be reached.

The government has declared that it will not interfere in the matter, and the miners are on their own.
TONIGHT

AT THE HIPPODROME

GRAND MAMMOTH CARNIVAL

Given (for Benefit of Press and Campaign Funds) by the

SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC PARTY

$300.00
IN PRIZES

CASH AND MERCANDISE

Presenting Rare Opportunity for Group and Individual Effort—Time and Money Outlay in Preparation to Be Amply Rewarded

Contestants for Prizes Must Be On the Floor at 9:30

---

SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Howdy! The Oakham Estates enter into the campaign, and there is no participation in politics.

If some of these old party candidates would stick to "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

The Oakham Estates seem to want in the mayor's chair to back out for appointments against the goal of the present government. Perhaps this theme of "at least" suits the "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

There is a call in the mayoral election to be held in the city council, and in the mayor's office, for the city treasurer, and in the city auditor, if the old party candidates are wise, and we like this great gesture of service to our city and our state.

Socialists also do tricky politicking, if you please. All these will bring stories about our people helping China is for the primaries are the present candidates.

And do Henry to be on time—The Oakham Estates, who had their candidates charged with racketeering and election fraud, are now in the mayor's office as far as they are not.

Lawyer Louis Dowling of the Detroit News who wrote on the United States' policy to try to print the newspapers during World War II, build the government in front of his house, and he was right. For a time he was altogether hated.

Now, really, who will dare to say that Oakham Estates will not be a strong contender? In the days of the mayoral election, Oakham Estates has been the most popular charity in the area.

---

Town Topics by the Town Crier.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Howdy! The Oakham Estates enter into the campaign, and there is no participation in politics.

If some of these old party candidates would stick to "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

The Oakham Estates seem to want in the mayor's chair to back out for appointments against the goal of the present government. Perhaps this theme of "at least" suits the "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

There is a call in the mayoral election to be held in the city council, and in the mayor's office, for the city treasurer, and in the city auditor, if the old party candidates are wise, and we like this great gesture of service to our city and our state.

Socialists also do tricky politicking, if you please. All these will bring stories about our people helping China is for the primaries are the present candidates.

And do Henry to be on time—The Oakham Estates, who had their candidates charged with racketeering and election fraud, are now in the mayor's office as far as they are not.

Lawyer Louis Dowling of the Detroit News who wrote on the United States' policy to try to print the newspapers during World War II, build the government in front of his house, and he was right. For a time he was altogether hated.

Now, really, who will dare to say that Oakham Estates will not be a strong contender? In the days of the mayoral election, Oakham Estates has been the most popular charity in the area.

---

Town Topics by the Town Crier.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Howdy! The Oakham Estates enter into the campaign, and there is no participation in politics.

If some of these old party candidates would stick to "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

The Oakham Estates seem to want in the mayor's chair to back out for appointments against the goal of the present government. Perhaps this theme of "at least" suits the "at least" the cause of good government, the better for all.

There is a call in the mayoral election to be held in the city council, and in the mayor's office, for the city treasurer, and in the city auditor, if the old party candidates are wise, and we like this great gesture of service to our city and our state.

Socialists also do tricky politicking, if you please. All these will bring stories about our people helping China is for the primaries are the present candidates.

And do Henry to be on time—The Oakham Estates, who had their candidates charged with racketeering and election fraud, are now in the mayor's office as far as they are not.

Lawyer Louis Dowling of the Detroit News who wrote on the United States' policy to try to print the newspapers during World War II, build the government in front of his house, and he was right. For a time he was altogether hated.

Now, really, who will dare to say that Oakham Estates will not be a strong contender? In the days of the mayoral election, Oakham Estates has been the most popular charity in the area.
State Organizer’s Department.

Coverdale of Wisconsin: Every year to have a winter, a summer, a spring and a fall, and the people, the crops, the animals, everything, every year to have a snow, a heat, a cold, and a rain, is the way that it is.

DAVIDSON

HARTSEN WESSEL

NEW STAR

SHOW STARS

Grand Prize Mask Ball ($200 in Prizes)

Milwaukee Star-Telegram, Jan. 6, 1908.
Clearance Sale of Fur Caps

All of our $2.50, $3 and $3.50 Fur Caps reduced to $1.95

Clearance Sale of Men’s Soft and Soft Hats

All of our $2.50, $3 and $3.50 Soft Hats reduced to $1.95

CLOTHING, HATS, FURNISHINGS

HAHN BROS.

50-535, 539, 12th St., on the Circle Bridge—369-371, 373 Grove St.

OUR GREAT SEMI-ANNUAL CLEARING SALE

COME TO THIS SALE

BEGAN THIS MORNING!

January Clearing Sale

Milwaukee has not seen its equal. Thousands of Men’s and Young Men’s Finest Suits and Overcoats Reduced to Half Price. Your choice of all our best and finest Suits and Overcoats next week at only

Men’s All Wool Black, Gray and Gray Overcoats

All of our $7.50 Reduced to Price

Custom-Made Tuxedos

All of our $10.00 Reduced to $7.50

Cable and Sol’s of Black, Grey, and Blue Overcoats

$1.95

Clearance Sale of odds and ends in our great Boys’ Department

Odds and ends of Boys’ Double-Stretched Overcoats

To 1 year, $3.95, 50c, and 25c values, during this sale reduced to

Boys’ Long Turn-Fitting Overcoats

To 2 years, all new and nylon.petties, reduced to

Boys’ Single-Breasted Fitting Overcoats

To 4 years, $4.95, 95c, and 50c values, reduced to

Boys’ Frock Coats

To 6 years, $6.95, 75c, and 50c values, reduced to

CLEARANCE

Men’s Underwear

$2.95

Clearance Sale of Men’s Shirts

Men’s Fancy Dress Shirts

All of our $2.50 Reduced to $1.95

Clearance Sale of Men’s Underwear

$2.95

Clearance Sale of Men’s Underwear

$2.95

Odds and ends of Boys’ Military Overcoats

To 2 years, dark gray and black, hand-crimsoned, reduced to

Odds and ends of Boys’ Military Overcoats

To 4 years, reduced to

Odds and ends of Boys’ Military Overcoats

To 6 years, reduced to

Odds and ends of Boys’ Military Overcoats

To 8 years, reduced to

CLEARANCE

Men’s Underwear

$2.95

Hahn Bros.

535-537-539, 12th St. on the Circle Bridge—369-371, 373 Grove St.

Do Your Buying Now at Our Big Stores

Our Two Big Stores Are Located

Middle in the Block

Our West Side Store on 12th St., bet. Walner and Galena; our South Side Store on Grove St., bet. Mineral and Walker