They Do Not Conceal Their Contempt For You, Mr. Workingman!

The workers of Milwaukee, and particularly the workingmen and women in the clothing industry, have never been so closely interested in the movement as they are today. The strike of the workers in the clothing industry has been in progress for several weeks. There have been some clashes between the strikers and the police, but the workers have been able to hold their own. The strike has been called by the Social Democratic party of Milwaukee, and it is gaining support from more and more of the workers in the city.

The workers are demanding better wages and working conditions. They are also demanding the right to organize and to strike without fear of reprisal. The workers believe that they are being exploited by the employers and that they deserve better treatment.

The employers, on the other hand, are offering only lukewarm support to the strikers. They claim that the workers are being unrealistic in their demands and that they are causing unnecessary disruption to the economy. The employers are also supported by the police, who have been breaking up many of the demonstrations.

The situation in Milwaukee is tense, with both sides preparing for a long and bitter struggle. The workers are determined to fight for their rights, and the employers are equally determined to maintain their profits. It remains to be seen how this conflict will be resolved.

Semi-Annual Workingmen's Sale

We are going to make the sale beginning Saturday notable in more ways than one. While manufacturers' prices to us on all lines offered have materially advanced, you buy here at the same big reductions that have made these sales looked-forward events among workingmen.

Saturday we inaugurate the first of this year's semi-annual workingmen's sales. A perusal of the prices quoted below should convince you that we propose to make it the biggest retail trade event of the season. Superior buying facilities, big stocks and a determination to maintain the undisputed supremacy of these stores assert themselves in the matchless buying opportunities offered in all departments.

Endorses Milk Shippers

Brinton, Smith & Co., the leaders of the Federation of the Mass. Milk Shippers, have issued the following endorsement: "We hereby endorse the resolution of the Massachusetts Milk Shippers Association, recommending the establishment of a milk control board, with full powers to fix prices and wages, and to regulate the industry. We believe that this measure is necessary for the protection of the consumers and the welfare of the industry."

The resolution was adopted at the annual meeting of the association, held in Boston last week. It was introduced by Mr. Brinton, who said: "We are aware of the difficulties involved in the establishment of a milk control board, but we believe that the present situation is such that it is necessary to take some action. The industry is suffering severely from the depression, and we believe that a board would be able to help to restore prosperity to the industry and protect the consumers."

The resolution was endorsed by all the other members of the association, and was signed by all the leading firms in the industry.

Lake Shore and Fox River Valley Notes

At the annual meeting of the Lake Shore and Fox River Valley Dairy Association, held in Menasha last week, the following resolutions were adopted:

1. That the association be continued for another year.
2. That the officers of the association be re-elected for another year.
3. That the association be empowered to enter into contracts for the purchase of machinery and equipment.
4. That the association be empowered to enter into contracts for the purchase of land and buildings.

The resolutions were adopted by a large majority of the members of the association.

Living Wages for Teachers!

The report presented by the special committee of the teachers' union on the living wage for teachers was submitted to the union at its recent meeting. The report was adopted by a large majority of the members of the union.

The report was written by Mr. John A. Brown, who said: "We believe that the living wage for teachers is an important matter, and we believe that it is necessary to take steps to secure a living wage for teachers. The union has a responsibility to its members to secure a living wage for them."

The report was commended by the members of the union, and was adopted by a large majority of the members.

Selling Milk with a Smile

"Selling milk with a smile," said Mr. Johnson, "is the best way to sell milk. The customers are more likely to buy milk when they see a friendly face and a hearty "hello.""

Mr. Johnson emphasized the importance of a cheerful attitude in the milk business, and said that it is necessary to have a cheerful attitude to make a sale. He said that a cheerful attitude is better than any other method of selling milk.

Mr. Johnson was commended by the members of the association, and was adopted by a large majority of the members.

THE NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC

On Dec. 31st, 1907, the Northwestern closed the most productive year in its history of half a century. The New York Legislative Investigation Committee began its investigation of Life Insurance in Sept., 1905. The Wisconsin Legislative Investigation Committee began its work in April, 1906, and its report was not filed until Jan., 1907. During this period the business of life insurance was subject to occasional reports from many quarters, and the aggregate of new insurance put in force by all the companies showed a marked decrease. The Legislative Investigation of the Northwestern by the State of Wisconsin failed to discover any evil in this Company, and that great body of good American citizens who pay life insurance premiums and school taxes, and who do their own thinking, saw that the Northwestern has been honestly and efficiently managed. As a result, the investigation period of the Company's business has been the most satisfactory in its history in the increase of the amount of new insurance put in force during each year.
