The Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors has voted to join the Milwaukee County Board of Supervisors in a resolution opposing the sale of the former Odd Fellows Building at 1400 S. Washington St. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 6-1, with Supervisor Richard J. Burke casting the lone dissenting vote. The resolution was introduced by Supervisor Burke and was seconded by Supervisor John A. O'Hara. The resolution states that the sale of the building would be a violation of the county's land-use policies and would be detrimental to the community. The resolution also calls for the establishment of a moratorium on the sale of public buildings and for the creation of a citizens' advisory committee to study the issue. The resolution was passed by a vote of 6-1, with Supervisor Burke casting the lone dissenting vote.
Thoughts Upon Mr. Carsten Boe

By Robert Hunter

Mr. Carsten Boe, a legislator of the state of Wisconsin, is a man of great ability and integrity. He has been a consistent advocate of free speech and free press, and has always stood up for the rights of the people. He is a man of great worth, and is deserving of the highest esteem.

The Democrats in Wisconsin have always been in favor of Mr. Boe, and he has always been one of their most active supporters. He is a man of great ability, and has always been able to stand up for the rights of the people.

Our Women's Circle

Conducted by Elizabeth H. Thomson

Women, Come In! Come In!

Women, do you want to make a difference in your community? Do you want to be a part of something that will improve the lives of others? Then join our Women's Circle!

Our circle is open to all women who are interested in making a difference in their community. We meet every other week, and spend our time working on projects that benefit our community.

We have a variety of projects that we are working on right now, including building a playground for the local elementary school, and organizing a food drive for the local food bank.

Our next meeting will be held on the third Wednesday of every month at 7:00 pm. We meet at the local community center, and all are welcome.

If you are interested in joining our Women's Circle, please contact us at info@ourwomen'scircle.org. We look forward to meeting you and working with you to make a difference in our community.

The Builders' Column

By Tedly

The world moves on. So did the HERALD subscription list. We had a record-breaking year last year, and we expect the same this year. But, as the world moves on, so must we. We must find new ways to reach our audience, and that's why we're launching a new column this year called the Builders' Column.

The Builders' Column is a place where we will highlight the people and organizations that are building a better world. We will feature stories of those who are making a difference in their community, and we will celebrate their work.

If you know someone who is building a better world, please let us know. We would love to feature their story in the Builders' Column.

Contact us at info@builderscolumn.org. We look forward to hearing from you.
Ship Owners Conspire to Drive Men to Lower Citizenship But Seamen are Holding Their Powerful Enemy at Bay.

The Public With The Men.

The battle of the great lakes, to which the port of Milwaukee is flying, is reaching its climax. A long hot summer, and the temperatures in the region have been quite high, with the result that the men who work on the lake are much more frequently paid, and could avoid many of the hardships of the job. As a result, the number of men available for the job is increasing. The result, however, is that the company has been forced to lower the wages of the men who work on the lake. Supervisors Are Still in Deadlock.

In the county board meeting this morning, the county council newsman announced that the supervisors had met and agreed to continue working until a resolution to the problem was reached. The supervisors have been working for several weeks to come to an agreement with the city and county council on the matter.

Big Growth of Unions

Since the Manufacturers' Adjustment Bureau was organized four years ago, these bureaus have been growing at a tremendous rate. As of the end of last month, there were 65 bureaus in operation, with another 15 in various stages of organization. The success of these bureaus in handling disputes and preventing strikes has been largely responsible for the rapid growth. The bureaus have been able to resolve disputes before they become serious, thus avoiding the costly and disruptive effects of strikes.

Organized Labor

The Labor Unions

Unions have been growing in strength and number, and the situation is one of oversupply of labor. This has been brought about by the increased demand for labor, and the ability of unions to organize and negotiate better working conditions and higher wages.

Power Co.'s Dam Submerges Famous Features—Kilbourn's Apathy

Kilbourn, Wis.—The damming up of the Wisconsin River at the new powerhouse has submerged many of the natural features of the Kellis Dam. Kilbourn has been asked to move his Dam, but he is refusing to do so. He has claimed that he has the legal right to maintain his dam as it was, and that he has no intention of moving it. The Mayor, on the other hand, has stated that he will not allow the dam to remain as it is, and that it must be moved. The dispute is being arbitration by the court.

The Struggle Between Capitalism and the Unions on the Great Lakes

To Non-Union Seamen Aboard Ship
Wheelmen, Watchmen, Deadlocks, Marine Firemen and Other Crafts, SAIL OR DIE
To secure decent working hours, to keep up wages and to abolish the modern practice of demanding discharge from service, which the Lake Carriers’ Association is endeavoring to bring about, non-union seamen are now at work to form a union of their own. The headquarters of this movement are on the boats of the Lakes. There are on the boats practically all the men who are interested in the problems of the great lakes. They are getting up meetings in all the ports of the lakes, and are making arrangements for a general con ference to be held in Chicago, which will be followed by a LABOR DEMONSTRATION.

Business Agent
Huehns Says:
"The captains are standing firm on this one and are trying to force the men to sail or die. The men are determined to fight and will not give in. They are determined to have a decent working hours, well paid wages, and a voice in the management of the boats."

MILKMAIDEN’S UNION

Some Tactics of the Owners

The owners of the Great Lakes lines are trying every means to break the union. They are threatening to sack all the men who join the union, and are trying to get the men to sign a pledge not to join the union. They are also trying to get the men to vote for management candidates in the union elections. The owners are also trying to get the men to give up their demands for decent hours, wages, and a voice in the management of the boats.
