An Armed People Is Always a Free People

We are caught in the everlasting trap of being "people." People cannot be easily controlled without the use of force. This is the essence of the American tradition. People of all ages and backgrounds are caught in this trap. People must be free in order to be people. People are the fundamental unit of society.

The Prayer of the Tenement

Christian Socialism—By the Rev. F. S. Specking, Bishop of Utah

Christian Socialism is an interdenominational term. Karl Marx called it "the holy water with which the Bourgeoisie wash their political wounds." It is also the name by which the "Social Gospel," that peculiar movement of the clergy to assert the social and religious activities of their own congregation, but take an active part in the reform movement. The present discussion of the theory and practice is not meant to be exhaustive, but rather to give an outline of the principles and tendencies of the movement, as well as the extent of its success in the United States, and the possible future developments of it.

Crisis Progress

The permanency of a people is based upon a consciousness of the present, the past, and the future. It is the principle of the present and the past that gives the most weight to the future, and the future that gives the most weight to the past. The past is the foundation of the present, and the present is the foundation of the future. The future is the culmination of the past and the present.

"The Saloon and the Home"

What difference would it make to the nation and to the Catholic Church if every family in America had a home life that was as solid and as wholesome as the Pennsylvania Dutchman's? I mean, the home life that is the object of every parent's care and solicitude, the home life that is the foundation of all good and virtue, the home life that is a safeguard against the cares and labors of the world.

The saloon is a place where men go to relax, to forget their cares, to talk and laugh. It is a place where they can find a friend in the bartender and a confidant in the druggist. It is a place where they can drink and be merry and have a good time. It is a place where they can meet people and make new friends. It is a place where they can get away from their troubles and problems.

The saloon is a place where men go to drink and to lose their reason. It is a place where they can drink too much and become drunk. It is a place where they can lose their money and their temper. It is a place where they can lose their lives and become victims of suicide.

The saloon is a place where men go to gamble and to lose their money. It is a place where they can lose their money and their reputation. It is a place where they can lose their lives and become victims of accidents.

The saloon is a place where men go to smuggle and to violate the law. It is a place where they can lose their liberty and their freedom. It is a place where they can lose their lives and become victims of the law.

The saloon is a place where men go to ruin and to lose their health. It is a place where they can lose their health and their lives. It is a place where they can lose their souls and become victims of sin.

The saloon is a place where men go to waste their time and their lives. It is a place where they can waste their time and their lives. It is a place where they can waste their money and their reputation.
