Did Not Mean Business as the Business Men Mean It

By Victor L. Berger

EIGHT old and six new businesses—Honor—to prevent private gains to a profit to thieves, Herries (Ceramics Inc.) to make a horseless coach at the same time.

And then there is the question of being on a commercial basis. These are, we are very confident. And there was never a time and never will be, however much we speak of law and legality if it is this sweet land of liberty.

Craft and business mean the same thing—as America. A big business mean the same thing as America. Now, as soon as we have learned that there is the commercial basis, that business mean the same thing as America.

And I am not at all sure whether craft and business can be gotten any better than they are, and very much better.

And I am not at all sure that the craft and business can be gotten any better than they are, and very much better.

Now it is a little like saying that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war.

And I am not at all sure whether craft and business can be gotten any better than they are, and very much better.

Now it is a little like saying that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war, and that we have been in a war.

The Great Budget Election in England and Its Revolutionary Significance

In the beginning said in England that a budget, or financial plan, was held in common by the government and the people. Gradually this idea took hold in the minds of the people, and later, under King Henry VIII, the idea of a common budget was developed. The idea was that the budget should be a document that reflected the economic policies of the government, and that it should be open to public scrutiny.

The idea of a budget was revolutionary because it challenged the old idea that the government was above the law and that it could do as it pleased with the money it collected. The budget was a way for the people to have a say in the government's decisions and to ensure that the government was acting in the best interests of the people.

The budget was also a way for the government to show that it was accountable to the people. The government had to show that it was using the money it collected wisely and that it was working to improve the lives of the people.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to democracy. The government had to show that it was committed to the idea that the people were the ultimate source of authority and that they had the right to participate in the government's decision-making process.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to the rule of law. The government had to show that it was committed to the idea that the law was the ultimate source of authority and that it was bound by the law.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to the idea of progress. The government had to show that it was committed to using the money it collected to improve the lives of the people and to create a better society.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to the idea of equality. The government had to show that it was committed to making sure that everyone had an equal chance to benefit from the government's actions.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to the idea of justice. The government had to show that it was committed to making sure that everyone was treated fairly and that no one was allowed to have an unfair advantage.

The budget was a way for the government to show that it was committed to the idea of freedom. The government had to show that it was committed to making sure that everyone had the right to be free and that no one was allowed to be oppressed.

The Common Good

An "Americanized" Adoption of Robert Blatchford's Famous "Marx's Food"

By James M. Smith

Social Democrat Herald

We will see a day, in the not distant future, when the American people will realize the folly of opposing the labor movement of the working man. We will see the day when the working man will realize that the only way to secure his rights is by the use of the ballot. The ballot is a powerful weapon, and it is now time that we begin to use it in defense of our rights.

Foolish Notions as to Socialism

By James M. Smith

Social Democrat Herald

There is a great deal of foolishness about socialism. Many people think that socialism is a scheme for taking from the rich and giving to the poor. This is not the case. Socialism is a scheme for taking from the rich and giving to the rich. It is a scheme for making the rich richer and the poor poorer. The rich will be able to buy more goods with their money, and the poor will be able to buy less goods with their money.

With So Much Leisure, We Would Become Imperial

By W. H. Smith

Imperialism is a state of mind. It is a state of mind that believes that the world is our oyster. It is a state of mind that believes that we have the right to take what we want, whether it is right or wrong. It is a state of mind that believes that we can do whatever we want, whether it is right or wrong.

What Do Socialists Stand For? This Tells You!

By Carlos T. Dunlop

What do socialists stand for? This tells you! They stand for the abolition of private property, for the ownership of the means of production by the working class, for the distribution of the wealth of the country among the working class, and for the elimination of exploitation and oppression.

Peace and Death—By Robert Hunter

STATISTICS are always deadly serious reading. When you begin to print figures, the ordinary reader quails and says, "That may be true in a while figures state a case better than any amount of free writing. They are sometimes in closer touch with the truth." The following is a figure of this character.

You are hereby notified of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Milwaukee Social Democratic Publishing Company, to be held at the office of the company, at 424 North Water Street, in the city and county of Milwaukee, on the 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty, at one o’clock in the afternoon. The purpose of the meeting is the transaction of such business as may properly come before the meeting. For the purpose of such meeting the stockholders are requested to be present as early in the afternoon as possible, to provide for the transaction of business. The meeting will be held in the office of the company, and to be conducted by the officers of the company. The minute books will be opened for the purpose of allowing the stockholders to make such comments as they may wish.

FREDERICK H. MANN, Secretary.

FORM OF PROXY

BE IT KNOWN that I, the undersigned, am a stockholder of the above-named corporation. I hereby appoint [name], of [address], to act as my proxy at the annual meeting of stockholders to be held on the 28th day of January, 1920, at one o’clock in the afternoon, in the office of the company, for the purpose of transacting the business of the corporation, and to vote for such measures as he may deem advisable for the best interests of the corporation.

Workman says he’s going to turn to the fire department.

This Is Important!

Local supporters of the party all over the country should make every effort to get a stand at the Social Democratic Club in Milwaukee which must be voted on at the same time, in the national election. The position that appears on the ballot of the national party should be supported. Now that the whole situation is giving the Social Democrats a chance, it is imperative that we use every weapon in our armament. The Social Democratic Club has been formed in various sections in the city, and it is the responsibility of every worker to support it. If we are successful, we shall have a strong club to vote for the national party.

The following from the Milwaukee People’s Daily is of interest:

"You have to be very careful when dealing with the Social Democratic Club."

Get Acquainted with the Burroughs

No matter where you live, if you are responsible and if there is an express office near you at all, you can have a Burroughs Adding and Listing (Bookkeeping) Machine sent to you for a free trial.

This will place you under no obligation to buy it.

Now, a Burroughs machine, which has been in business for many years, and is now employing 4,500 highly skilled men in the manufacture of a machine possessing 'the most efficient feature-splitting in the world,' comes to you with such a proposition as this, and there is even a possibility that this machine will help you. If you do not own a business or some person to whom it will do some good, start a business, or try something about it.

When it costs only a 2 cent postage stamp to put yourself in a position to acquire one, and for no charge in the writing machine proposition for you, who do not give this offer due consideration now?

If, after a thorough trial of the Burroughs, you find that our claims for it are substantiated and it makes a place for itself in your business, good and well for both of us.

If not, at least you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have done some good, which might help you, and if we have done our part, we are giving you acquainted with the Burroughs which is the best known and most widely used machine in the world.

Maybe the fact that 65,000 Burroughs machines are today saving and making millions of dollars for their users will give you as much encouragement as for this free trial as it is the guarantee as to the result of each one of a machine in your business.

Write for particulars and interesting printed matter now.
