The High Tariff and the Coming Election

By Victor L. Bahr.

The Social Democrats are not friends of the "high tariff," nor of any other tariff. The tariff, we know, is a grave social evil. Whatever may be the economic arguments for or against a tariff, those arguments are not proof that the tariff is a wise measure for the welfare of the country.

However, while the high tariff may be one of the main causes for the depression, it is not the only one. The depression is due to a great many other causes, such as the mismanagement of our industries, the wastefulness of our capital, the neglect of education, the lack of proper planning, etc.

The opposition to the high tariff can be made as long as there is a possibility of remedying the evil. But there are no signs that the high tariff can be remedied. The high tariff is a social evil that must be abolished. The Social Democrats are not friends of the high tariff, nor of any other tariff. The tariff, we know, is a grave social evil. Whatever may be the economic arguments for or against a tariff, those arguments are not proof that the tariff is a wise measure for the welfare of the country.
The Allied Label

An Allied label on the front of your package means security for the consumer in these days of paper shortage.

Patriotic Union Repair Shops

With the demand for materials so great, we urge you to patronize union label shops alone. At a time like this, there is a bond of honor between the laborer and the consumer. Support the good shops, and you will benefit from the union label.

Religious Toleration in Spain

Religious toleration in Spain is a fact. Just as there are some non-Catholics, there are also some non-religious persons. This is a true reflection of the democratic spirit of the country.

Card Men in Congress

Card men in Congress are not a rare occurrence. In fact, there are several members who openly support the Card movement. They are working towards a Card system in the nation.

Who is Toady to Which President?

Whether it's Richard Nixon or Harry Truman, or any other president, the question of who is toady to which president is a matter of political analysis and interpretation.

The Minimum Program and Final Aim of Socialism in the Light of Modern Technical Progress

Socialism is a system of economic and social organization. Its final aim is the abolition of class distinctions and the establishment of a classless society. This is achieved through the development of modern technology and the equitable distribution of resources.

It's also REAL tobacco.

What Is the Matter with the Co-Operatives in the United States?

The main issue with the co-operatives in the United States is their lack of support and recognition. Despite their potential for economic and social change, they have struggled to gain traction.

Always demand Union-Labeled Bread.

When ordering clothing, demand this label. It means that the clothing is union-made.

The British Labor Movement

A Series of Articles by Walter Thomas Nills

Controlled the Government

The socialist alliance in the last general election brought the manufacturers and labor groups together. They were able to gain the power to control the Central Employers Association. The principle of the alliance was the belief that labor should control all branches of the factory. The employers could have the control of the factory, as long as they agreed with the socialist principles. The socialist alliance was formed in the year 1848 and had gained control of the factory by 1850. The Alliance controlled the factories of Great Britain, which had a control over all the factories in the country. The alliance was also able to control the factories in the United States by 1852.

Labor the New Power

The labor movement has made great strides in recent years, and is now recognized as one of the powerful forces in the world. Every effort to do so in the past has been limited to a party of the laborers who have been content to accept the situation as it is. The labor movement is now making strides in every direction, and is gaining control over all the industries of the country. He likes to take his boat to the lake, go fishing, and feel the wind in his hair. His love for the water is evident in his passion for his boat, which he takes great care of. He enjoys the peace and quiet of the lake, and the freedom it brings.

Tacking

Some of the problems involved in tacking, according to a recent study, are: (1) the proper handling of the tacks; (2) the correct method of applying the tacks; (3) the right amount of pressure; (4) the proper direction of the tacks. These factors must be considered in order to achieve good results.

Genuine $1.00 Shirts 59c

Every year manufacturers make up as many shirts as they can out of the remnants that have accumulated during the year and then sell them for whatever they will bring. This year a big eastern manufacturer had about 1000 dones and decided he would try to sell every shirt he could. This turned out to be a great amount. We accepted the offer and Saturday they go on sale at all of the stores.

Remember, every shirt would easily bring $1.00.
Contractor and Inspector on the Carpet.—Was the County Deliberately Swindled?

No one will ever be able to compare the crestfallen condition of the people of the Milk River Valley with that of the county officials just now. The county has been robbed by a local contractor who has defrauded the people of the town of Milk River, and the people are in a state of utter despair.

The contractor, who is well known in the district, was engaged by the county officials to construct a new bridge over the Milk River. The work was started, and money was paid out, but soon it became evident that the contractor was not doing the work properly. The people of the town were therefore given to understand that the bridge would have to be pulled down and rebuilt.

What of the man who was paid for the work done? He was paid by the county officials, and it is said that he has been paid in full. The contractor has not been heard of since the bridge was pulled down.

The whole thing is a disgrace to the town of Milk River, and it is a matter of regret that the county officials have not taken steps to prevent such a thing from happening again. The people of the town are now in a state of utter despair, and they are just now waiting to hear from the county officials what they intend to do about the matter.

A city, like a corporation or an individual, is subject to the conditions of its charter. If a city should become eccentric it must pay the rate of interest on its bonds. If the city becomes insolvent it will lose its charter.

City Hall

More than one contractor and workman knows there’s new hope in the job in the department of public works. The men in the city are in a state of despair.
