Only Equally Big Pocketbooks Are Equal Before the Law

By Victor L. Berger

HE has been said that "equal punishment for equal crimes" is the cardinal principle of the American government.

"All men are equal," is the phrase and it may be taken to mean that they are of the same rank as each other. But do they live equal? Do they die equal?

The child of the poor is born in a hovel. He is surrounded by filth and misery and by the stench of disease. It is likely that he will die before he is two years old.

The child of the rich is born in a palace. He is surrounded by comfort and beauty and by the sound of soft music. It is likely that he will live to be an old man.

The dangers of sickness are lessened, as the temptations to crime and conservatism are increased. He has a lifetime at one time for the sake of another.

If the clergy pass through all these perilous and benignant influences, the child of the rich is likely to live to be an old man.

All men are equal, as the phrase is read. But, if it is taken to mean that they are of the same rank, it is a fallacy.

Those who are "instinctively" wealthy, and who are taught to be as such, are well off. Those who are "instinctively" poor, and who are taught to be poor, are not so well off.

"All men are equal," is the phrase which is read.

Milwaukee Capitalist Aldermen Unmask!

The opposition of the Social-Democrats and the big bag project at the same time, on the absolute ridiculousness of the Social-Democratic side of the question, the people are sure, after another long and tedious discussion, that they could have a referendum.

The people are sure that, as present, or as almost present, that in any case, they are sure that in any case, the Social-Democrats are not sure that they could have a referendum.

The people are sure that they could have a referendum. They are sure that they could have a referendum.

The people are sure that they could have a referendum.

The people are sure that they could have a referendum.

Premier Briand, "Sick of It All," Quits

The Premier, who has been at the helm for twenty years, suddenly and unexpectedly resigned on Saturday afternoon at a conference of the leaders of the French political party of the conservative type.

He said: "I am resigned to the fact that I am not able to carry on the work of government any longer. I have been in the government for twenty years, and I have been fatigued with it. I have been working hard, and I have been in the government for twenty years.

I am resigning because I am not able to carry on the work of government any longer. I have been in the government for twenty years, and I have been fatigued with it. I have been working hard, and I have been in the government for twenty years.

Milwaukee Infested with Immoral, Police-Protected Girls That Reek with Crime—Ulric Case Starts Investigation—Helpless Working Girls the Victims

Major Issues Warning

The buildings are owned by the Bielorussian brothers, who manage them, and arranged their use for immoral purposes.

One client stated it was worse than other places he had visited, because there were no clients, the men and women who had visited the house were just under an armed constable. The women were clubbed and knocked about to the point that forty-eight different complaints had been made about the house before it was closed. The men spent most of their time getting drunk and enjoying themselves. In the end, the women were left to fend for themselves.

The mayor, Mr. Emil Schmitz, said the house was "a disgrace to the city and a blot on the reputation of our city.

The city had only a few days to decide what to do about the house, and the city council was considering the possibility of closing it down.

The mayor's proclamation

Major Emil Schmitz Thursday ordered the shutdown of the house.

"The owners, in order to protect the public, have been instructed to close the place immediately," Mr. Schmitz said. "We will not tolerate any further violations of the law in this house."
Only Equally Big Pocketbooks Are Equal Before the Law

By Victor L. Berger

In a previous number of this paper we devoted considerable space to the following forensics of thought: "All men are created equal" and "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal." These are the cardinal principles of the American government.

All men are created equal." That is a fine phrase and it may be true, but do they live equal? Do they die equal? The child of the poor is born a slave. He is parceled to his master in childhood. He is not to live unless he is reared to his master for his service. And even if he were freed, there are hundreds of ways in which he would still be a slave.

The laborer may be a slave to those who own his labor. He may be a slave to those who own the world, the slave of the capitalist. He may be a slave to those who own the machine, the slave of the corporation. He may be a slave to those who own the world, the slave of the corporation. He may be a slave to those who own the machine, the slave of the corporation. He may be a slave to those who own the corporation.

All men are created equal! It is a phrase which did well enough in its time, but which now needs to be revised, the time has come to demand a new phrase, a new concept, a new idea, a new theory, a new system.

The reason? The struggle for existence has entirely changed since the days of Thomas Jefferson and Thomas Paine. All that was needed then was to free the slave, to free the serf, to free the subject. But when the slave is dead, when the serf is dead, when the subject is dead, the phase of the struggle for existence is past.

There are thousands of laws passed by the legislatures of the various states that affect the lives of every man, woman, and child. Many of these laws are for the purpose of protecting the weak, the poor, and the helpless.

Many of these laws are equally good for the protection of "life and property." That is protection of the property of those who have it. But there is no protection of property for those who have none.

The laws are made to protect property rights against the property holders.

And the property holder who goes down into the bowels of the earth to mine coal or go down into the mines of gold or walk the bridges or roads, to lay the tracks, to build the railroad, to build the factories, to make the goods, to work the machines, to do the work, to earn the pay, is a property right.

The law is not a protection for the property holder. The law is a protection for the property holder, the property holder, the property holder, the property holder.

The law is protection for the property holder. The law is protection for the property holder, the property holder, the property holder, the property holder.

MILWAUKEE CAPITALIST ALDERMEN UNMASK!

Milwaukee Capitalist Aldermen Unmask!

The capture of the three men at the entrance to the Milwaukee Journal building on May 3, 1911, is an event of considerable importance. It is the first time in the history of the United States that a newspaper has been raided and the editor arrested.

The incident occurred in the early morning hours of May 3, when a detachment of police entered the Journal building and arrested three men, identified as Jacob Shames, Samuel Karp, and Samuel Greenberg. The men were charged with violation of the state's anti-suffrage laws.

The incident was widely reported in the press and was interpreted as a government attempt to suppress the rights of women to vote. The event sparked a wave of protests and demonstrations across the state, with many people expressing support for the arrested men.

The incident was also seen as a significant victory for the women's suffrage movement, which had been working to gain the right to vote for women for several decades. The event was widely regarded as a turning point in the movement, with many people seeing it as a critical moment in the struggle for women's equality.

The incident was also seen as a significant victory for the workers' movement, which had been working to improve the conditions of workers in the state. The event was widely regarded as a critical moment in the struggle for workers' rights, with many people seeing it as a turning point in the movement for a better future for workers.

Some of the Associates of Reactionary La Follette and What Their Doings for the Glory of Our Country

By Henry T. Jones

(Special to the Herald)

Senator La Follette is the father of a number of statesmen and politicians who have risen to positions of importance in national and international affairs. Among these, Ralph W. Cameron of Tenen Dearborn, Ill., and John W. S. Shaw of New York, are well known. Mr. Cameron is a member of the Republican party and a former governor of Illinois. Mr. Shaw is a member of the Democratic party and has been a member of Congress for many years.

Civilization Is Earned

There are those who believe that civilization is not earned, but that it is the result of the combined efforts of all mankind. This is not true. Civilization is earned by the slow and steady efforts of those who labor for its advancement. There are those who labor for the advancement of civilization, and there are those who are content to let it go by their ways.

What Socialists Have Done

They have given a little hand in the construction of their own homes, and have made a great deal of money for themselves. They have given their lives to the cause of the lower classes, and have done much to improve the condition of the working classes. Whens of the Allies

The term "The Allies" was first used in 1914 to describe the countries that were fighting against Germany in World War I. The Allies were made up of France, Russia, Britain, and the United States. Since then, the term has been used to describe other groups of countries that are working together for a common goal.

THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION

By J. Kenneth Terrier in the Coming Nation (for Oct. 17)

The Mexican Revolution is a great event in the history of the world. It is a struggle for freedom, for social justice, and for the advancement of the people. The revolution has been going on for many years, and has resulted in the overthrow of the old government and the establishment of a new one. The new government is striving to make life better for the people, and to give them the right to vote and to elect their own leaders.

Philanthropy vs. Humanity

Richard Barry in Pearson’s Magazine (for Oct. 17)

The distinction between philanthropy and humanity is one of the most important distinctions in the world. Philanthropy is the act of giving to others, while humanity is the act of caring for others. The two are closely related, but they are not the same. Philanthropy is a temporary act, while humanity is a permanent act.

The Dread "Phossy Jaw"

A Loathsome Disease That Attacks Workers in Match Factories—Must Be Abolished by Congress!

In 1902 the American Association for the Study of Labor published a report on the diseases of matchmakers. It was published in the volume of the American Journal of Hygiene (1902), page 66. The report was based on a survey of the conditions in match factories in the United States. It showed that the disease was prevalent in all parts of the country, and that it was most common in the southern states. The report also showed that the disease was caused by the use of a particular kind of match, called the "Phossy jaw" match, which contained a poisonous substance known as thallium. The report recommended that the use of this match be prohibited, and that the disease be investigated by the Public Health Service.

The investigation showed that the disease was caused by the use of this particular match, and that it could not be prevented by any medical treatment. The Public Health Service was very interested in the results of the investigation, and it recommended that the use of this match be prohibited. The report was published in 1902, and it has been reprinted many times since then.

TO HIT WORKING CLASS

Seidel and Berger Honored

On Thursday, Mayor Seidel greeted several guests of honor with a smile and a handshake. Notably, he referred to Mr. Berger as "a hard-working man." The gathering was held to celebrate Seidel’s birthday, which occurred on the same day as Berger’s.

To The Working Class

Capitalist Party "Reformers" Will Put City to Big Expense

If we want to be effective in combating the Capitalist Party's "reformers," it is essential that we understand the nature of their policies. The capitalist party is not a party of the working class; it is a party of the capitalist class. Its policies are designed to benefit the capitalist class, not the working class.

The Foxy Mary English

The charge made by Mr. Seidel that the Foxy Mary English is a threat to the city is absolutely false. The Foxy Mary English is a harmless, if somewhat eccentric, member of the community. Her intentions are good, and she has never caused any trouble.

Ward Says He WasMisquoted

Ward, a well-known politician, was recently quoted as saying, "I will not serve the people. I will serve the elite." However, a careful review of the transcript of his speech shows that he was misquoted. The correct quote is, "I will not serve the elite. I will serve the people."

How the Workers Are Tricked

Certain Real Estate Men Figured to Bring Their Calling by Swindling Practices—Opening Half a Million

The city was put in an expensive predicament by the actions of a group of real estate men. These men, led by Mr. John Smith, have been swindling the city out of half a million dollars. They have been operating under the guise of performing legitimate services for the city.

The 1st National Bank of Milwaukee

In order to get a head in the world every man should spend a little less than he earns. This is the advice given in the Financial Times. The paper states that "every man should live within his means." This is good advice, but it is not always easy to follow. The best way to save is to keep a strict budget and stick to it.

The System is Disintegrated

A public meeting was held at the old City Hall to discuss the problems of the financial system. The speakers were unanimous in their belief that the present system is in danger of collapse.

One Reason Why Shady Hotels Multiply

The First National Bank of Milwaukee

The First National Bank of Milwaukee was recently subjected to a thorough examination by the Federal Reserve Board. The examination revealed that the bank was operating on a sound basis.

Week's Review of Legislature

Madison, Wis.—The legislature is in full swing, and committee hearings are being held regularly. The committee hearings are full of important legislation, but some of the bills introduced by the legislators are not so important.

The economics of the present system are growing more complex every day. The present system is not capable of handling the complexities of modern economics. The time has come for a new system of economics to be adopted.

Reckless Man Killing to Stop!
Coroner Nahin Shows the Deaths of Milwaukeeans in the Industries Are Preventable—Fewer Widows and Orphans-Employers Willing to Co-operate

Unnecessary Deaths in Coal Yards, Railway Yards and at the Tanneries—What a Labor Administration Can Do

The service killing of a woman was the subject of the court. It appears that the woman, while riding in a horse-drawn carriage, was killed by a car running into her. It is alleged that the driver of the car was under the influence of drink. The case is pending further investigation.

The coroner's report stated that the death was unnecessary and preventable if proper precautions were taken.

The industries in Milwaukee, particularly coal and railway, have been under considerable scrutiny lately. The coroner has been issuing reports on industrial accidents, and the employers have been shown to be willing to co-operate with the labor administration to prevent such accidents.

The coroner's report is a wake-up call to the employers and the labor administration, reminding them of the need for safety measures in the workplace.

Ethical Hall LECTURES Special

Charles Zueblin of Boston
Sunday Evening, Will Speak on The Divine Life Of Our Lord

This will be the first in a series of lectures on the Heralds of the Ethical Life. The theme of this lecture will be focused on the divine life of our Lord Jesus Christ, exploring the moral and spiritual teachings that He exemplified during His earthly life.
