The Truth About Milwaukee

The People's Realty Co.

While the sale of the whole business being pushed last week was generally acclaimed as the best real estate deal of the year, the recent purchase of a property in Milwaukee by a syndicate of German-American investors was the subject of much discussion.

The Masses

A short article which appeared in the New York Times, the newspaper of record for many years, was of special interest to those interested in labor.
Do You Believe In Labor Unions?

Are You Helping TheCause Along Or Simply Carrying A Union Card And Vow You Are Doing Your Duty.

By K. E. KRAUTH

Somebody once said "A Union is a scarecrow". Neither contained the union label, yet this same man carried a union card and last season he got a new coat because the others in the same trade were in a union and he got his coat cheaper.

We all know that there are unions for the protection of the worker, but do we all know that there are also unions for the protection of the employer? Do we all know that unions have caused a great deal of unemployment in this country?

Let me tell you about one union that I know of. In the production of newspapers, there are many unions that have been formed to protect the workers. These unions have caused a great deal of unemployment in the newspaper industry. The workers have been forced to work for lower wages than they would have if the unions were not in existence.

One day, a newspaper editor was approached by a union representative who told him that they wanted to negotiate a contract. The editor agreed, but as soon as the negotiations began, the union representative started to demand higher wages and better working conditions. The editor refused, saying that he could not afford to pay more. The union representative then threatened to strike, and the editor gave in.

The resulting strike caused a great deal of unemployment in the newspaper industry. Many workers lost their jobs, and the newspaper industry as a whole suffered. This is just one example of how unions have caused a great deal of unemployment in this country.

No one can argue that unions do not have their place in society. However, we must also recognize the negative effects that they can have. We must work towards finding a balance between the needs of workers and the needs of employers, so that both sides can benefit.

The next time you see a union card, think about the effects that unions have on the economy. Do you believe that unions are doing more good than harm? Or do you think that they are causing more problems than they are solving?

Lake Seamen Grappling the Steel Trust

How the Fight Against the Open Shop, Low Wages and Hellfare Is Going

By Carl Sandburg

Waves From Across the Sea

Keep Away! Strike on the Great Lakes! Don't Be a Scab!

To the workers of the United States. Men and women, seamen and iron workers, in every State.

We, a few of the seamen, have been powerfully impressed by the work of those up North, and we feel that we have something to add to the fight.

The strike on the Great Lakes is a fact. It is not yet admitted, but it is known that it is going on. The employers are very much disturbed, and they are trying to get rid of the strikers. They are offering big wages and other inducements to the men to return to work.

But we, the seamen, feel that this is a fight for the future. We believe that the men should be paid a living wage, and that they should have the right to organize and to strike for better conditions.

We, the seamen, are not afraid of the employers. We are prepared to meet them on their own ground. We are prepared to fight for what we want, and we are not afraid of the employers.

To all the working men of the United States, we say: Strike on the Great Lakes! Don't be a scab! Join the strike! Fight for your rights! Fight for a living wage!

Sincerely yours,

The Seamen of the Great Lakes.

The "Menace of Socialism," as it ister the great fact, the dominant note in all, that for the first time in the history of the world a movement was treated with courtesy, even though the revered principles of the Catholic Church. It was done by the thousands, not by a few, and it was because of the women and men who observed this rule of conduct.

The movement has been the object of study by many, but it is not the object of study by the socialists of the world. They are content to live in their own world, and to let the world of socialism go by.

Can Union Men Be Kidnapped by Sleuths?

Secretary McNamara of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers Proposed from Indiana—Property of Organization Seized and Held

The dispatches from Indianapolis today state that the kidnapping of Secretary McNamara of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, together with several other officials of the union, is attributed to the representants of the late Joseph P. Versus, a prominent member of the union's executive board. The manner in which these events transpired is as follows: The Indiana, unlawful assembly and its aftermath, the seizure of property, and the entire conspiracy, were the subject of a recent report filed by the government of Kentucky to the international office of the United States Department of Labor. The government has presented evidence to the effect that the conspiracy has been carried on in a number of states, and has brought charges against the union leaders involved.

The executive officers of the union have been called to the task of handling the situation, and it is believed that the union is at the moment in a better position to deal with the matter effectively.

A conference of the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor is to be held in Indianapolis on Tuesday. The purpose of this conference is to discuss the situation and to consider the steps to be taken.

Labor Bills Get Usual Dose from Political "Friends of Labor"—Contact

Madison, Wis.—The Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Madison today was working busily in the rear of the lobby of the Bounty Hotel, which is the headquarters of the "Friends of Labor," in an effort to see that the labor bills did not get the same treatment as the three previous years. A special delegation of about 12 men went to the offices of the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the House to urge them to recommend the bills to the House and Senate respectively.

A special delegation of about 12 men went to the offices of the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the House to urge them to recommend the bills to the House and Senate respectively.

These were apprehended before one of the women had ever reached the stage of being a "friend of labor." They were watched by the police, but escaped without being noticed. The next day they went to the offices of the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the House to urge them to recommend the bills to the House and Senate respectively.
