VICTOR L. BERGER’S CONCLUDING STATEMENT IN THE McNAIR CASE

A new law in the United States is a law that the Congress of the United States passes and the President of the United States signs, and that the Supreme Court of the United States, after a long and careful consideration, declares to be constitutional.

The President of the United States is the chief executive of the country, and the Congress is the legislative body of the country.

The Supreme Court of the United States is the highest court in the land, and it has the power to decide whether a law is constitutional or not.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States is final, and it cannot be appealed to any other court.

The President of the United States can veto a law that has been passed by the Congress, but the Congress can override the veto by a two-thirds vote in each House.

The President of the United States can also issue pardons and grants of clemency, but his power in this respect is limited.

The Congress can also control the President by impeachment, but it must be proved that the President has committed a high crime or misdemeanor.

The President of the United States can also dissolve Congress, but he must have the consent of two-thirds of the members of each House.

The Congress can also control the President by declaring him to be insane, but it must be proved that he is insane.

The President of the United States can also make treaties, but he must have the consent of the Senate by a two-thirds vote.

The President of the United States can also sign treaties, but he must have the consent of both Houses of Congress.

The President of the United States can also declare war, but he must have the consent of both Houses of Congress.

The President of the United States can also make appointments to the highest offices of the land, but he must have the consent of the Senate.

The President of the United States can also remove officers of the executive departments, but he must have the consent of the Senate.

The President of the United States can also appoint judges to the highest courts of the land, but he must have the consent of the Senate.

The President of the United States can also propose bills to Congress, but he must have the consent of both Houses of Congress.

The President of the United States can also veto bills that have been passed by Congress, but the Congress can override the veto by a two-thirds vote in each House.

The President of the United States can also make appointments to the executive departments, but he must have the consent of the Senate.

What's Your Council Doing?

The plan is to continue the war in the end of the month. A meeting was held by the Social Democratic party in the Social Democratic hall last night. The meeting was attended by a large number of people. The main topic of discussion was the situation in the war and the prospects for peace.

Swift Hospital Car Arrived

Quick work in assembling and equipping the new ambulance car arrived in the city last night. The car is a special one and is equipped with all the latest devices for the care and comfort of patients. The car is ready for service and will be put into use immediately.

The Copper Coil Means Hot Water Quick

The "LION" Gas Water Heater No. 1 is, next to the "Instantaneous," the quickest water heater we know about. In a matter of 36 inches of copper coil (two rows within inches) over a powerful hot-water gas burner. A true "instantaneous" water heater.

The copper coil moves quick action at low cost. You can buy enough for a bath in a minute and a quarter or a kitchen or an entire house. We are selling these heaters by the score at a very small profit.

At the Theaters Next Week

DAVIDSON—The Fourth Estate (D. H. Lawrence), a review of life and art, is the opening attraction of the week. The cast is strong and the acting is excellent.

CRYSTAL—Vandervelde's performance is outstanding in this week's offering. The actress gives a vivid and realistic portrayal of a modern French woman.

LUEDEKIE—The Shoe Merchant (J. F. Mitchell), a story of the shoe business, is a well-crafted and entertaining film.

THE COMING FIGHT

The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company

Muskego Lakes—Wind Lake—Beulah Lake

The Milwaukee-Muskego Lakes East Troy Line, running through beautiful countryside, surrounded by picturesque scenery, reaches a lake region seldom found in close proximity to a large city.

For years, this lake region has been known as one of the best fishing grounds in the State of Wisconsin, frequented by fishermen, attracted there by its fame.

Fine summer homes line the shores of the lakes and many a tired business man wends his way there each week end, to enjoy rest and recreation.

These beautiful inland waters, surrounded by shores heavily wooded with magnificent trees, make an ideal place for picnics.

Cars leave Public Service Building, Milwaukee, every two hours, 6:15 A.M. to 8:15 P.M. and 11:15 P.M.; Saturdays hourly to Muskego Lakes, 12:15 P.M. to 8:15 P.M. and 11:15 P.M.; Sundays and Holidays hourly to Muskego Lakes, 6:15 A.M. to 9:15 P.M. and 11:15 P.M.

Battling Against Corporations

Action Under Way to Make Railways Come Across With Money Taken From the People—Two Hard Struggles Begun: Social-Democratic Steady and Timeless

Social-Democrats begin two attacks against plunder by rail corporations.

Common council and city attorney get ready for two actions:—
1. To Make Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul pay up its rightful share of $99,000 for maintenance and repair of 16th street viaduct.
2. To make T. M. E. R. & I. Co. pay up its rights according to franchise provisions.

Social-Democrats are keeping up the fight for the interests of the people in all quarters of the country.

There is no such thing as a "business" in the true sense of the word. The people have the business! A big fight is developing over the "real estate" of the "real estate" companies, and the Social-Democrats are in the thick of it.

Money is being saved by the Social-Democrats in Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and other cities. The Social-Democrats are fighting for the right to have a voice in the government of the country.
