We Will Supply by Our Numbers What We Shall Lack in Finances

Every movement, every class interest, and every political party, is of course, to a certain extent, interested in the daily press. This is inevitable in a democracy. The capital class rel

The manifold daily paper has become a great capital interest, like a big factory, requiring a large amount of capital in order to finance the press. This is a capital interest in the city of Milwaukee, where the paper is printed, for the very reason that the capital class lacks in finances. The paper is printed, it is virtually in the hands of the capital class, and there can be no doubt that the capital class is successful in a class.

The paramount capital interest over the daily press has of course been helped by the political parties.

Red Devil Gives Case to the Charity Angel.

(Reprinted from the Daily Record)

When the Red Devil, wearing a red coat, a red hat, and a red star on his red cap, he is always expected to be a contributor to such a cause as the Salvation Army, but when this Red Devil turned up on a mission of mercy to the portals of the new Charity Angel, the Salvation Army was taken aback.

"I didn't know there was a Charity Angel," said the Red Devil, as he counted out his contributions.

"We are aware of his presence in the charitable world," replied the Salvation Army officer, "but we did not expect him to come to us.

"What do you want, Red Devil?"

"I want to leave a legacy to the Charity Angel," replied the Red Devil.

"A legacy?"

"Yes, a legacy," said the Red Devil. "I want to leave a legacy to the Charity Angel to help the poor and needy.

"That is a very laudable sentiment," said the Salvation Army officer. "But we are not the Charity Angel.

"Then who is?"

"That is for you to find out," said the Salvation Army officer. "But we can tell you that the Charity Angel is a very benevolent and charitable organization.

"I know," said the Red Devil. "But I want to leave my legacy to the Charity Angel, not to the Salvation Army."

"Then you will have to find out where the Charity Angel is located," said the Salvation Army officer.

"I will," said the Red Devil. "I will find out where the Charity Angel is located and leave my legacy there.

"Good," said the Salvation Army officer. "We are glad to hear that you are interested in charity and want to leave your legacy to the Charity Angel."

The Red Devil left, determined to find out where the Charity Angel was located. The Salvation Army officer watched him go, feeling a little envious of the Red Devil's generosity.

"What a fine fellow," said the Salvation Army officer. "I wish I had the Red Devil's generosity."

Rotten Jury Stunts in Los Angeles

(Walnut Street. Sept. 30.)—In the case of People vs. Joseph Scott, who is accused of the murder of Charles M. Scott, the defense of the lawyer and the District Attorney are making a desperate and reckless effort to have the jury discharged, in order to try the case over again. The judge of the trial, Judge O. E. H. Scott, it is said, is afraid of being called on to try the case a second time, and has declared that he would not be called on to sit. The case is one of the most important in the history of Los Angeles County, and the question of the discharge of the jury is of the utmost importance to the people of the county. The judge has declared that the discharge of the jury would be a violation of the law, and has ordered the jury to continue their trial.

Stories of organized labor, and how it has improved the condition of the workers and increased their wages, have been told in every state and have been the subject of much discussion. The workers have been organizing, and in many cases they have succeeded in winning better working conditions and higher wages. The unions have been successful in winning the right to strike and the right to deduct union dues from the wages of the workers.

FRED A. WENZEL

Two-thirds of the workers in Milwaukee are members of organized labor, and the unions are making great strides in improving the condition of the workers. The workers are determined to continue their struggle for better working conditions and higher wages.

"Give Us Recall of Judges"

Fierce attacks on courts being made in many states.

The assault on the courts and judges is being conducted in many states, and the attacks are coming from various quarters. The depression has given rise to a wave of anti-judicial feeling, and the courts are being accused of being too lenient in their treatment of criminals. The Social Democratic party is leading the assault, and is using its influence to get legislation passed that will limit the power of the courts.

Question: Is it better for a baby to be delivered at home or in a hospital?

According to the latest research, it is generally better for a baby to be delivered in a hospital. Hospitals have better facilities and equipment for dealing with complications that may arise during childbirth. The presence of medical professionals also provides a safer environment for both the mother and baby.

Socialism Summarized

Socialism is the philosophy of the working class. It advocates the abolition of private property in land, industry, and commerce, and the establishment of a cooperative society in which the means of production are owned and controlled by the collective community. Socialism seeks to achieve a society in which there is equality and justice for all members of society. It seeks to eliminate the exploitation of the working class by the capitalist class. Socialism is based on the belief that the means of production should be controlled by the collective community, rather than by a small group of wealthy individuals. Socialism advocates the elimination of the class struggle, and the achievement of a society in which everyone has equal access to the means of production. Socialism seeks to create a society in which everyone has equal access to the means of production, and in which the government is owned and controlled by the collective community. Socialism is a revolutionary philosophy, and seeks to transform society in order to achieve its goals.

The Catholic Judges Sued

Bishop Webb of Milwaukew, Wis., recently settled a lawsuit filed by Howard W. Jenkins, of Milwaukee, a Catholic priest, in the Circuit Court of Milwaukee County. The suit was brought to prevent the publication of the extracts from the Catholic Church's official organ, the "Catholic Herald," in which a priest was accused of misconduct.

Attended Land Steal by Tax Dodger in This City

Anonymous, known as Mr. Smith, was charged in court on a charge of tax evasion. The government had evidence that Mr. Smith had not paid his proper share of taxes for several years, and that he had transferred his property to another person in order to avoid paying the taxes. The case is expected to be a precedent for other tax evasion cases in the city.

The Bading Botch Again

Judge Turner has a Tantrum

Judge Turner, the judge of the Court of Appeals, has had a major tantrum. The judge has been known to lose his temper frequently, but this time he has gone too far. The incident happened during a hearing involving a case of corporate fraud. The judge became increasingly agitated, and eventually erupted in a fit of rage, throwing his gavel and shouting at the attorneys involved. The incident has caused concern among the legal community, as the judge has been a respected figure in the court system for many years. It is unclear what prompted the judge's outburst, but it has raised questions about his ability to manage his emotions in a courtroom setting.
