Another Page from the Congressional Record

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 10, 1912.

Mr. Bonar. Mr. Chairman. The gentleman from Texas, the gentleman from Pennsylvania, and Mr. Boger, have all spoken in favor of this bill. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of it or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods, and that the people of the country have the right to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Bonar. Mr. Chairman. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country have the right to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is further resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.

Mr. Bonar. I am not in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Boger. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Gomer. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

Mr. Jones. I am in favor of this bill. I believe that the government has the right to control the introduction of goods. The people of the country should not be allowed to make free exchange on the open market. I therefore vote for this amendment.

Mr. Smith. I do not know whether the gentleman from New York is in favor of this bill or not. I am one of those who believe that the government has no right to control the introduction of goods. I therefore vote against this amendment.

The chairman. The amendment is resolved.
THE TRUE STORY OF LABOR

A fascinating, absorbing, and faithful story of LABOR in all times, in every land—from those far primitive days when the strong man's instinct to oppress the weak and his selfish desire to reap the rewards of others' toil led to new forms of slavery, from the early days of the Industrial Revolution to the present when the rise of the working man has become a matter of world-wide concern, when in America a department of the government has been established to study and safeguard their interests—this story, with all its cruelty, injustice, reforms, ultimate recognition, and perpetual progress, the work of today will find boldness of bias or prejudice in that remarkable treasure of history knowledge, that graphic series of narratives, the Standard History of the World

BY GREAT HISTORIANS

Ten large, handsome volumes, each 9x12 inches; type page, 60x90; 5,000 pages; hundreds of full-page illuminations in halftone, dustjackets, and full color; double-page historical charts, maps, complete general index, etc. Prepared by a board of editors, including many distinguished experts.

THE STANDARD HISTORY OF THE WORLD also contains a HISTORY OF SOCIALISM, sold separately, compactly, clearly, and fairly; and showing the rise and progress of the movement, its distinguished leaders, its chief characteristics, early forms, development in various lands, and other details of deep interest to those who are interested in the Socialist cause. There is also a special index in the STATE, giving a thorough account of all forms of governments as they have existed among all races.

SWEEPING CUT IN PRICE

Slightly Rugged Sets at 50 Per Cent Off

This book has heretofore been sold exclusively by agents and, in the course of this sale, we find that we have accumulated a small quantity of second-hand sets that are slightly damaged on the inside. The defect would scarcely be noticed by any one but an expert, yet they are sufficient to prevent our shipping the books as in their original condition. The defect, however, consists of a few pages in the back of the volume, where the binding is rough and somewhat imperfect; and all the beautiful illustrations, charts, maps, etc., are there and are guaranteed not to be torn, mutilated, or defaced in any way. In order to clear out these sets, we are now offering them direct to the public at a reduced price of $50.00 per set, which is less than half the original price.

ENTERTAINING STYLE—PICTORIAL BEAUTY

The standard history of the world is illustrated by beautiful steel engravings, and the whole series is in every way equal to, if not superior to, anything that has ever appeared in any American publishing house. It is a work of the highest quality, and is the result of painstaking research and careful selection.

FREE FOR INSPECTION—SEND NO MONEY NOW

The University Society

44-60 E. 23d St., New York.
Meeting of Board of Aldermen

A meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on February 16, 1912, at 2:30 p.m., at the Municipal Building. The following action was taken:

The adoption of the 1912 budget with amendments.

Socialist Turn-o-Tables

There was considerable discussion of the turn-o-tables at this meeting. It was decided that the Socialist Party would continue to maintain them as a means of disseminating socialist propaganda.

Outlaws Higher Up

The report of the Committee on Outlaws was adopted. It was recommended that the outlaws be removed from the city limits.

American "Thrift"

A motion was made to encourage thrift among the working class. It was carried with amendments.

Our Young Folks

A letter was received from the Young Socialists expressing their gratitude for the support received from the Socialists in the city.

A Permanent Feature! Bargains in Books

Socialism, the New Patriotism

The Socialist Party announced the launch of a new publication, "Socialism, the New Patriotism," to promote socialist ideas.

Workers' Wisdom!

A resolution was passed expressing the support of the Socialists for workers' rights.

The Milwaukee Leader with all our energy and unswerving devotion!

The Milwaukee Leader, 1810 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE MILWAUKEE SOCIAL-DEMOCRATIC PARTY

WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT

Our dear sister workers throughout the country are cordially invited to contribute to this fund for the support of the Milwaukee Social-Democratic Party. Contributions may be sent to the Milwaukee Leader, 1810 East Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.