News from the National Campaign

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The political atmosphere was thick with the smoke of electioneering近日 as Representative Merriam, the Democratic candidate for the Senate seat, made a stump speech in front of a large crowd. The incumbent, Senator Wilson, was widely expected to face a strong challenge from Merriam, who had recently switched parties. The race between the two had become a heated contest, with both candidates assailing each other's policies and record. The atmosphere was charged with anticipation as the voters prepared to make their choices in the upcoming election.

Hanford Resigned to Protect Higher-Ups

SEATTLE, Washington—Despite the statements of Federal Judge Hanford that many attorneys were seeking to nullify his resignation, the charge that he resigned in order to avoid a House investigation was supported by Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt, who said the action was defensive.

Roosevelt said the Department of Justice had suggested the resignation, and that he had written to the attorney general to express his opinion that Hanford had acted under duress.

FBI's Propaganda Methods

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, known for its propaganda methods, is now being attacked by those who charge that it is using brutality and threats to silence its critics.

The FBI, under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover, has been accused of using illegal means to suppress political opposition. Hoover has denied these charges, saying the bureau is simply doing its job.
