American Bar President Says Constitution Will Be Changed!

A remarkable public appearance, which the press reports supposed in part or in toto from the reading public, was contained in the address of S. & Cray, retiring from his national convention just held in Milwaukee. His rapid words, including the conservative audience he was addressing them to, are ringing as well as remarkable. Socialists can use them to advantage in their conversations and arguments with acquiescence. He landed squarely on the trust-hating activities of the national administration. His hand was placed on the people. His words were public. They fell upon the popular ears. They were inscribed on the minds of the audience. They were inscribed on the minds of the press. They were inscribed on the minds of the country. They were inscribed on the minds of the world. They were inscribed on the minds of the future. They were inscribed on the minds of the future generations. They were inscribed on the minds of the future generations. They were inscribed on the minds of the future generations.

No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the press. No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the public. No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the country. No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the world. No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the future. No precaution was taken against the ignorance of the future generations.

The paper printed the following:

"The trust-hating activities of the national administration are a menace to the country. The trust-hating activities of the national administration are a menace to the world. The trust-hating activities of the national administration are a menace to the future. The trust-hating activities of the national administration are a menace to the future generations."

The people who heard these words were astonished. The people who read these words were astonished. The people who thought of these words were astonished. The people who felt these words were astonished. The people who believed these words were astonished. The people who acted on these words were astonished. The people who lived these words were astonished. The people who died these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were mourned these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished. The people who were buried these words were astonished.
The Trusts Are Here, What Shall American People Do With Them?

BY MORRIS HIATT

The recent concentration of large enterprises in the hands of a few is a part of the total process of capitalist development. They have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Comrades:

Go To Your Next Local Meeting

You think this a strange request? It is not. If you belong to the working class, you cannot afford years of idleness on the part of the working class. We can give only a hint. Remember that the working class is the only class that can lead the world to freedom and equality.

For Party Workers Only

There has long been need of a general meeting of Party Workers to discuss the needs of the working class. The Socialist Party of America, the Workingmen's Party, the Workingmen's League, and all workingmen should attend.

The World is Getting Hungry!

BY R.H. GAYLORD

More food is needed to produce the food of the world. The next 15 years will witness a period of great change in the world. The world's food supply will be used up.

The World's Food Supply

It is apparent that the world's food supply will be used up in the next 15 years. The next 15 years will witness a period of great change in the world. The world's food supply will be used up.

Why We Honestly Fear Socialism

BY CHARLES J. PETERS, HILMAN PRESS

The methods of the trusts are ruthless and they are particularly feared by the working class. The trusts are the end result of capitalism and the working class is the basis of all capitalistic systems.

Bishop Carroll's Vitiplation

BY JOHN W. OWEN

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

The Plight of the People

The working class is the only class that can lead the world to freedom and equality. The working class is the only class that can lead the world to freedom and equality.

Why This Waste?

BY JAMES M. CANNON

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Product and Wages

We are told that the trusts are the only class that can lead the world to freedom and equality. The working class is the only class that can lead the world to freedom and equality.

Child Labor

BY MAE H. FARREY

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Socialists on Isle of Pines

BY EDWIN CRANDALL

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

A Strike for Decency

BY JOHN D. GILBERT

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Wisconsin

BY WENDELL B. THOMPSON

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Henry Ashton

BY ROBERT A. DAVIS

The trusts have the power to regulate the wages and conditions of labor, and the prices of raw materials and manufactured products. This process is inevitable as long as commodities are sold for money. Without them, the free enterprise and free labor system could not exist.

Campaign Offer! FOR 30 CENTS

FARMERS LOOK OUT FOR "DYNAMITE"

A parallel for Farmers as only One "MITE" is full. But a light brings no alarm. But alarm the light is. The light of action is the light of reason. The light of reason is the light of God. The light of God is the light of the universe.

FARMERS LOOK OUT FOR "DYNAMITE"
Leading Magazine Exposes the Old Party Platforms As Fakes!

Always More Workers Than Chances to Work

Our Young Folks

Hans, the Story of a German Boy

The Inefficient Ones

Our Young Folks

Hans, the Story of a German Boy

The Inefficient Ones
Hoodwinked Boy Scouts

The definition of the Boy Scout, according to the official handbook, is: "An organization of boys, not a group of boys, designed to help boys develop into good American citizens, and to promote a love of the outdoors through camping, hiking, and other outdoor activities.

Any attempts to mislead or manipulate the Scouts for political or other purposes are unethical and违背了该组织的宗旨。