This Should Be a Happy Land—What is the Matter?—Written for The Herald by ALLAN L. BENSON

This should be a happy country. We have the land. We have the machinery. We have the men. The land is so vast in extent that it could supply sustenance to every man, woman, and child. The machinery is so skillfully designed that it can operate at a very small cost. The men are so intelligent that they can operate any machine that ever was made or that ever will be made. They can multiply machinery— they can make more and more and more, so long as there is a demand for it. The machine produces the wheat. It can produce it with the least possible effort. And then if the food becomes scarce, they know how to do away with it. They know how to do away with poverty. Their remedy is simple. They only need to lay this machinery to the best advantage, to the best advantage, at the feet of those who need it.

But this country rightfully belongs to the people of this country. And it is a happy country. Every man's right to control his own labor, to live in his own country. Nor do they recognize any man's right to deny any other the right to work. Please consider the present situation. This is the age of machinery. The country is full of it. The machinery is the country's most important product. Every one who makes it is rich. And the richer he is, the richer he will be. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be idle. No one can work and be hungry. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be healthy. No one can work and be unhealthy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be unhappy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be healthy. No one can work and be unhealthy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be unhappy.

But what is our “balance”? The machinery is the country's most important product. Every one who makes it is rich. And the richer he is, the richer he will be. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be idle. No one can work and be hungry. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be healthy. No one can work and be unhealthy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be unhappy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be healthy. No one can work and be unhealthy. No one can work and be rich. No one can work and be poor. No one can work and be happy. No one can work and be unhappy.

A Free People Must Not Blindly Anchor to an Outworn Constitution

By MURDER McGINN.

One of the latest books which the Social-Democratic party has published is "The Constitution of the United States," and it is now in the hands of the leaders of the movement. The book is a comprehensive work, containing a discussion of all the important questions that have arisen in connection with the constitution. It is written in a clear and concise manner, and is well illustrated with maps and charts. The book is valuable not only for the information it contains, but also for the manner in which it is presented. It is a work that will be of great value to those who are interested in the study of the constitution, and it is one that should be in the possession of every American.
Weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting!

Milwaukee's mayor has not presented a spectacle to arouse the admiration of the church-going reformers who constitute the original "non-partisan" and who were allowed out of the way by Big Business and its reactionary allies when they took to its merits.

The Wisconsin League is attempting to revitalize itself with the approach of winter and is nothing new ideas to be entertained in civic developments. The enemies of national party tags from municipal politics has not resulted in the particular paradise which the uninitiated saw in visions when they were consuming twenty five-cent papers and registering the city in their minds.

We apprehend that there will be a disposition among those who are the "authorities" to place upon Mayor Bading the responsibility for the failure to carry out the program. "Non-partisan" in the very nature of things can not be done by the "non-partisan" undertaking. The economic forces in a community do not cease to operate with a change in the political party in control. Milwaukee is no exception.

We have seen our "non-partisan" administration has merits that are not to be found in the administration. No one would say of Mayor Bading that he has any of the virtues of a kindly gentleman or that he is all concerned over detecting and punishing small faults. He is not a bad man, so much as he is a small man. You were a "good and kind and kindly soul" his administration by virtue of its predecessors and the economic forces behind it could not be other than the creature and tool of the predatory interests which dominated our municipal affairs before the Republicans and Democrats were "reformed" and passed upon the holy alliance to "beat the Socialists and restore the municipal government to its masters of the plunderers." - Milwaukee Leader.

We are the property of the Milwaukee Journal and the "non-partisan" administration has marks that are not to be found in the administration. He is not a bad man, so much as he is a small man. IT HAPPENED IN MILWAUKEE

Present Politics Amazing

The present political situation, as it affects Milwaukee, is surely the most intriguing and exciting political situation we have seen in a long while. It is amazing to see how the political parties are working together to try to get their candidates elected. It is amazing to see how the city is divided into different political areas. It is amazing to see how the city is divided into different political areas.

Woody Administration Gets

Dedication

The Woody administration gets its dedication in a big way. The mayor declared on Monday that the city would not have a political party, and that the city would run on the "non-party" principle. The mayor also declared that the city would have no political party candidates.

Milwaukee's "Nonpartisan" Figurere

Are Copying After Milwaukee Socialists

In the absence of admission, the police and the public can only copy after Milwaukee Socialists, which has been a leader in the cause of nonpartisanship and a model for other cities to follow. The Milwaukee Socialists have been successful in creating a nonpartisan atmosphere and ensuring that their meetings are open to the public. The police and the public are encouraged to copy after the Milwaukee Socialists and ensure that their meetings are open to the public as well.

A Deadly Parallel

A deadly parallel between the plot to overthrow the government of Mexico by the Social Democratic Party, led by Eugene Victor Debs, and the plot to overthrow the government of the United States by the Social Democratic Party, led by William Z. Foster, has been uncovered. The two plots are believed to be closely linked and have been connected by evidence presented in court.

The Builders' Column

The Builders' Column is a column that focuses on the work of local builders and their contributions to the community. It features profiles of local builders and their projects, as well as articles on building techniques and trends. The column is an important resource for local builders and anyone interested in the building industry.

Socialist Birds in Africa

Socialist birds in Africa have a reputation for being intelligent and industrious. They are able to build nests of intricate design and make use of a variety of materials. They are also known for their ability to communicate with other birds, using a series of songs and chirps.

The Vice-President and an Ignorant Fellow

It is reported that the Vice-President of a certain company has been accused of ignorance and lack of knowledge. He is said to have made several erroneous statements in his speech, which have caused consternation among his colleagues. The Vice-President has been asked to provide evidence of his knowledge and expertise, but he has been unable to do so.

How a Flock of Crows Became Intoxicated

The story of how a flock of crows became intoxicated is a classic example of how alcohol can affect animals. The crows were seen drinking heavily from a barrel of alcohol, which caused them to become quite disorderly and aggressive. They were eventually caught and taken to a nearby animal shelter.

Puzzles

Solve the puzzle of the farmer and the two sons by answering the question: How many sons does the farmer have? The answer is not what it seems at first glance. It requires careful thought and observation to arrive at the correct answer.
